ROCKNE KILLED AS SHIP LOSES WING, CRASHES

All Passengers and Both Pilots Die Instantly on Kansas Farm.

BODIES OF VICTIMS BADLY MUTILATED

Famous Coach, Identified by Editor's Son, Was Hollywood Bound.

2 RANCH HANDS SEE CRAFT'S FATAL SPIN

Bazaar, Kans., March 31 (A.P.).—Knute Rockne, Notre Dame football genius, plunged to his death with five fellow passengers and two pilots on a Transcontinental & Western Air, Inc., air liner today in the mid-Kansas grazing country near here.

The plane, California-bound from Kansas City, crashed on a farm, killing all eight occupants instantly. Witnesses said the craft, flying through clouds and fog, lost a wing in the air and hurtled to the ground like a crippled bird.

First reports that there had been an explosion in the air and that the wreckage burned proved unfounded.

The dead:

Knute Rockne.

H. J. Christensen, Chicago.

J. H. Hooper, 2037 Powell avenue, Chicago.

W. B. Miller, 312 Farmington avenue, Hartford, Conn.

Spencer Goldthwaite, 333 East Forty-third street, New York.

C. A. Robrecht, 10 Oak Park, Wheeling, W. Va.

Robert Fry, pilot, Los Angeles.

Jess Mathias, pilot, Los Angeles.

Rockne Bound for Hollywood.

The body of Rockne was identified by W. L. White, son of William Allen White, of the Emporia Gazette. The famous coach boarded the plane just before its departure from Kansas City in mist and rain at 9:15 a. m. He was bound for Hollywood to complete arrangements for the making of a feature talking picture and several short subjects.

By a margin of minutes he missed seeing his sons, Knute, jr., 14, and Billy, 11, who arrived in Kansas City, where they are students at Pembroke School at 8:15 a. m. They were returning from a visit to their mother at Coral Gables, Fla. Rockne was forced to leave the station 20 minutes before their arrival in order to reach the airport in time for his plane's scheduled departure at 8:30.

Air View of Nicaraguan Capital, Hit by Quake, Fire

(Associated Press.)

Earthquakes and fire in Managua, Nicaragua, yesterday took an estimated toll of 1,000 dead and many thousands injured, many of them Americans.

The American Legation, the British Legation and Nicaraguan government buildings were destroyed. Fire razed twenty blocks of the business district, causing an estimated property damage of $30,000,000.

United States Marines took charge, declaring martial law, carrying the dead and injured out of the wreckage and mending their hurts in the one hospital left standing.

The Army, the Navy, and the Red Cross dispatched assistance by land, water and air as soon as the disaster became known.

(Copyright, 1931, Associated Press.)

Managua, Nicaragua, March 31 (A.P.).—Eleven sharp earth shocks packed into the space of a few seconds, followed by fire which ripped the heart out of the business section, today spread terror and desolation through this city, taking an estimated 1,000 lives and injuring many thousands.

Many of the victims were Americans, but this evening while the fire still raged, only three had been definitely identified.

They were Lieut. Comdr. Hugo F. A. Baske, U. S. N.; Mrs. Joseph B. Murray, wife of a major in the United States Marine Corps, and a chauffeur employed by Irving A. Lindberg—the resident high commissioner.

Flames roared up from the wreckage of demolished buildings, sweeping 20 blocks in the center of the city, destroying the American and British legations and causing property damage estimated at $30,000,000.

Wires and Railroads Destroyed.

Water mains burst at the first shock. Telegraph wires were down, railroads destroyed, and the only means of communication with the world outside was by airplane and radio.

The people showed remarkable self-control, proceeding in an orderly manner to save what they could out of the disaster, but every house in Managua felt the blow.

Fortunately a large part of the population was out of town, most of them having gone to the seashore for the Holy Week holidays.

All the American women and children who were not killed or injured were put up for the night in the Marine barracks, and many other homeless families were sheltered in pup tents and any sort of temporary accomodations which could be arranged.

Rolling kitchens were issuing soup and coffee, but food was scarce. Supplies were expected quickly from the Red Cross and other agencies.

Over it all Col. Frederic L. Bradman, of the Marines, took charge. The falling masonry of a collapsing building struck him on the head, but he stayed on the job.

Dynamite Will Be Used.

M. E. Hanna, the United States Minister, was in Guatemala when the blow fell, but as soon as he was informed as to what had happened, he boarded a plane with Mrs. Hanna and started back here.

Tonight it was decided to dynamite the Anglo-American Bank to check the march of the flames. There is 500,000 in cash in that bank, but the walls had been weakened so that it was dangerous to enter.

A demolition squad of engineers surveying the route of the proposed Nicaraguan Canal came in a couple of hours after the first shock, at about 10:10 a. m., and expected to work all night in an effort to get the fire under control.

Up on the hill which overlooks the city the new presidential palace, unharmed by fire or quake, looked upon the scenes of frenzy.

The United States Marine aviation unit, outside the city, also was unharmed.

But the city of Managua, boasting a population of 60,000, must be rebuilt from the ground up.

In the regions nearby the quake was not even felt.

(Associated Press.)

Swift couriers of mercy last night carried the aid of the United States toward the earthquake-stricken city of Managua, Nicaragua.

For hours without advices of its own, the American Government responded to Associated Press dispatches of the disaster by sending ships and planes with medical supplies and relief workers speedily southward.

Within a half hour after the first of these dispatches reached Washington President Hoover ordered the War and Navy Departments and the Red Cross, official relief agency of the Nation, into action.

First word came over the Associated Press wires at 11:41 a. m. (E. S. T.), and at noon Mr. Hoover announced that on the strength

"In the American Capital where the famous international disarmament conference was held," he said, "we would find an atmosphere of impartiality and sympathy conducive to our success, especially as your tutelary masters would find there historic precedents for one great nation granting freedom to another."

Mahatma Gandhi smiled and replied:

"I am afraid your wish is father to your thought. India would be good, Geneva would be better, but Washington would be the best of all. However, we have no voice in the matter."

Mahatma Gandhi will base his struggle for India's independence on the salient principles of the American Declaration of Independence and Emancipation Proclamation, the British Magna Charta and the Soviet constitution when he goes before the second round-table conference at London this summer.

By unanimous vote, the delegates to the All-India National Congress today passed a resolution framed by Gandhi himself and Pandit Jawaharial Nehru, embodying the features of these historic charters of liberty. It was the final public session of the congress.

Marine Officers, Known Here, Among Those at Managua When Disaster Hits Latin Capital; Many Enlisted Men There.

Fourteen Washingtonians, including several officers prominently known here, were serving at Managua yesterday when the Nicaraguan capital was devastated in part by an earthquake and a fire which spread the destruction.

Scores of others among the Marine Corps and Navy officers and enlisted men, also were known here, and at various times many of them had been stationed on duty in or near this city.

Among the best known Washingtonians were three former star athletes of the University of Maryland, all of whom are serving in Managua with the Marine Corps air squadron. They are First Lieut. T. J. "Jack" McQuade, Second Lieut. Edward L. Pugh and Second Lieut. Peter P. Schrider.

Lieut. McQuade is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. McQuade, of 1130 Montello avenue northeast, the father being a plate printer with the Bureau of Engraving and Printing. Lieut. McQuade was born and reared in Washington and resided with his parents until leaving this city with the Marines.

He was a football and baseball star at Eastern High School, graduating in 1921 and entering the University of Maryland, where he was an honor graduate in 1925. While there he

Calvin Coolidge Says:

The foundation of the work of the Federal Trade Commission is to prevent unfair trade practices. Stated in another way, it is to promote common honesty.

With all the inquisitorial powers vested in the commission, with their large staff of investigators constantly in the field, it is greatly to the credit of the business men of the United States that so few derelictions are discovered. No doubt the work of the commission is needed and their existence is a deterrent. Their warning prevents the development of dangerous policies and usually their suggestions are welcomed.

For these reasons the report that the commission soon will issue a code of business ethics is important. Men like to know in advance what they are expected to do and they need the assurance that the whole trade is to live by the same high standards. Business and government are so closely related that the atmosphere of one pervades the other. If the standards of trade are low the standards of government will not be high. Both need constant checking to be kept free from questionable practices. The business of the Nation will be encouraged and guided by some positively constructive suggestions.

Vermont Elects Dry Republican

Warren R. Austin Defeats Wet Democrat for Senate Seat.

Montpelier, Vt., March 31 (U.P.).—Warren R. Austin, dry Republican, was chosen today by the Vermont electorate as United States senator at a special senatorial election.

Running on an administration platform, Austin, 54-year-old Burlington attorney and one-time Mayor of St. Albans, defeated Stephen J. Driscoll, wet Democrat, of St. Albans, by a majority of slightly more than 12,000.

Complete returns from the 248 towns and cities in the State gave: Austin, 37,308; Driscoll, 15,304.

Glare of Roaring Flames Shows Dead and Dying in Tropic Capital

By S. M. CRAIGIE,
Manager, Tropical Radio Station at Managua.

Managua, Nicaragua, March 31 (via Tropical Radio to New Orleans) (U. P.).—The city was alight with fires tonight which threatened to destroy Managua, after a brief, terrific earthquake at 10:02 a. m., today.

The quake lasted only four to six seconds. It shook Managua, a city of 33,000, bringing down the greater part of the buildings. The taller ones were especially affected.

Fire broke out in the market in the central part of town, crowded with women and children. One section fell in and caught fire. About 35 persons were believed burned to death in that area alone. Estimates of the dead were varying, but it was believed the casualties would be great.

The Lupone, one of the largest hotels, was razed, with the exception of one wall. The dead and wounded could be seen from the street, which was lined in many sections with other dead and injured.

The United States Marines are doing all possible in an effort to rescue the injured wandering or lying in the streets. Many streets were blocked by debris. Members of the National Guard tried dynamiting buildings to check the fire. Latest reports said they had used up all their dynamite. The fire continued its steady march across the capital.

The water mains were broken in several places, and water needed for fighting the fires erupted in the pavements. The power plant was in working condition, but the authorities cut off the current to prevent deaths in the streets from broken high-tension wires.

Scenes in the streets were poignant. Women with infants in their arms ran screaming, away from the fire and falling buildings.

There was no telephone or telegraph communication during the day. The tropical radio was the only communication with the outside, and this dispatch was sent out via radio to New Orleans. The Managua office was destroyed, but the message was sent from a temporary set up at a transmitting plant 5 miles east of town, which was not damaged.

A dense pall of smoke hung over Managua as night fell. The fire was traveling northwest across the city, fanned by a fresh breeze. No structure in the entire city escaped damage, a preliminary survey indicated. The steel framework of a cathedral remained standing. Other churches were in ruins.

The confusion was intense.

of that information alone his instructions already had gone to the officials concerned.

It was not until 4:45 p. m. that the first official Government message was received. It was a Navy message, saying that Lieut. Comdr. Hugo Frederick August Baske, of the Navy Medical Corps, had been killed in the quake, but that so far as known no other member of the Navy and Marine contingent in Nicaragua had lost his life.

Previously, beginning in the early afternoon, the communications systems of the State, War and Navy Departments had been bringing in only fragmentary rumors from Panama, saying an earthquake had been reported, and that cable and radio contact with Nicaragua had failed.

As the Associated Press messages continued meantime to disclose the magnitude of the disaster preparations of the Government agencies kept pace.

The burden of the relief measures fell upon the Navy, with ships already in Central American waters, the Army, with its far-flung facilities in the Canal Zone, and the Red Cross.

Navy Doctors on Way.

The Navy Department reported later that the Lexington sailed from Guantanamo at 5 p. m. for Bluefields and that she expected to have her planes in Managua late tomorrow or early Thursday.

In addition to her regular personnel, the Lexington is carrying seven Navy doctors and additional enlisted hospital corps men, together with all available medical supplies. She is accompanied by the destroyers Broome and Sicard.

Col. Frederic L. Bradman, commanding the Marine forces at Managua, reported that all members of the American Legation were safe. The legation, Col. Bradman said, had established temporary quarters in "The Campo," believed to be outdoors.

Provisions for Ten Days.

Col. Bradman said he had directed the issue of medical provisions, supplies and other stores to aid the stricken civilian population. He estimated ten days' provisions for all purposes were on hand.

Commander A. D. Bernhard, commanding the Navy air force at Coco Solo, reported he had transferred 300 pounds of medical stores from the air base to the cruiser Rochester, which was expected to sail from Balboa last night for Corinto, seaport of Managua, in addition to two large planes to leave in the morning. He said he had procured all serums and operating equipment obtainable for dispatch on the Rochester.

was captain and full back of its football team, and recognized as one of the greatest players ever produced there. He also was a luminary in lacrosse. Upon graduation he played for three years on the Marine football team.

He was married here to Miss Edna Lowe, a Washington girl. They have two children, Thomas J. McQuade, jr., 2 years old, and 5-month-old Patricia. He was stationed for a time at the Quantico Barracks, and served in 1927 for about nine months in Nicaragua, participatnig in several skirmishes. He trained in aviation at the Pensacola Naval Air Station and returned to Nicaragua in September, 1929.

Lieut. Pugh is the son of Mrs. Anais J. Pugh, of 3 Montrose drive, Chevy Chase, Md., and resided there until leaving with the Marines. He is a native Washingtonian. He was an outstanding athlete while attending Tech High School, and while at the University of Maryland from 1921 to 1925 he won further honors in sports. He was a star half back on the football team for his three playing years, and in 1925 he captained the team. He also was a leading member of its track team for three years, and still jointly holds the institution's record in the high hurdle event. He was a member of the Kappa Alpha Fraternity there. Upon graduation he served with the undefeated Marine Corps football team.

Mrs. Pugh in City.

Lieut. Pugh married a well-known Washington girl, the former Miss Mary Margaret Haltigan, the daughter of Patrick J. Haltigan, chief reading clerk of the House. She recently came to Washington on a brief visit with their year-old daughter, Anais, and are at Cathedral Mansions. Before her marriage in December, 192, while serving on a jury here she gained prominence as the first woman to be locked up during a trial overnight. She also was a star with the St. Patrick's Players. Lieut. Pugh also has a brother, Lieut. Charles Pugh, in the Army Air Corps.

Lieut. Schrider formerly resided at 691 Sixth street northwest, Takoma Park, Md., where his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Schrider, and other relatives lie. He attended Tech High School and gained an enviable record there as one of the best high school pitchers in this city. During his three baseball playing years at laurels. He was also a member of the Kappa Alpha fraternity there.

Capt. Charles B. Hobbs, attached to the Fifth Regiment, Marines, is a Washingtonian by adoptino. A native of Johnstown, Pa., he attended Georgetown College while stationed here with the Marines, and was graduated in dentistry in 1913, although he never practiced. While stationed here again in 1925 he was married to Miss Pattie Patzschke, a native of this city, who makes her home here with her mother at 531½ Ninth street southeast. Mrs. Hobbs last night said that her husband had been on duty for the last two years in Managua, and that he was due to sail April 3 for Quantico, where she had planned to join him.

Capt. Stack in Managua.

Another Washingtonian by adoption is Capt. F. F. Stack, also attached to the Fifth Regiment. He was born in New Haven, Conn., and came here as a youth with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Stack, the former of whom is connected with the Post-office Department. They reside at 3033 Sixteenth street northwest. Capt. Stack was graduated from Central High School in 1917, and immediately entered the Marines. He was married here in 1928 to Miss Regina Malone, whose parents, brothers and sisters reside at 2029 O street northwest. Capt. Malone, Mrs. Malone and their infant daughter all are in Managua.

A Washingtonian serving as a Marine chief warrant officer is Chief Quartermaster Clerk John T. Baugh, who was reared in Washington, attended Eckington school and Business High School. He has two brothers, William R. Baugh, of 1739 Park road northwest, and James B. Baugh, of Hyattsville, Md. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. James B. Baugh live in Atlanta, Ga.

He was born in Jackson, Tenn., in 1891, holds membership in Masonic bodies here, being a thirty-second degree Scottish Rite Mason, and has been in the Marine Corps for sixteen years. He has been in Managua for the last year and one-half.

Other Washingtonians There.

First Lieut. Adolph B. Stahlberger, of the Fifth Regiment Marines. No Washington address is available. His next of kin is his wife, of 1110 Charles street, Fredericksburg, Va.

Denny Stamper Miller, Navy pharmacist's mate, first class, of 2018 O street northwest, where his wife resides.

Special to The Washington Post.

Petersburg, Va., March 31.—Wilson S. Phillips, manager of the Crater battlefield farm, on which were unearthed during the past few days 29 skeletons of Union soldiers killed in the battle of the Crater, was in the city tonight.

He stated that as soon as a representative of the War Department is sent here to see to the burial of the skeletons, an effort would be made by city officials to have the bodies buried at Poplar Grove National Cemetery in Dinwiddie County, 3 miles from Petersburg, where are interred thousands of Union soldiers killed in the battles during the siege of Peteraburg by the Federal Army.

If the bodies are permitted to be buried in Poplar Grove Cemetery instead of in the National Cemetery at City Point, impressive services will be held, to be conducted by one of the ministers of the city.

Petersburg Asks For Pickett Rites

Two Groups Invite Burial in Telegram Sent to Grandson Here.

Special to The Washington Post.

Petersburg, Va., March 31.—The Petersburg Ladies Memorial Association and the Petersburg Chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy, have sent a telegram to Lieut. George E. Pickett 3d, inviting him to bury the remains of Maj. Gen. George E. Pickett and his widow, Mrs. Lasalle Corbell Pickett, in the Virginia section of Memorial Hill in Blandford Cemetery.

Following is the telegram sent to Lieut. Pickett: "Petersburg Ladies Memorial Association and Daughters of Confederacy would consider it an honor and privilege to provide under perpetual care burial square for the distinguished Gen. George E. Pickett and his wife in Virginia section of Confederate Memorial Hill of historical Blandford Cemetery, beside the resting place of a large number of Confederate comrades. Mrs. J. Hampden Slater, President Petersburg Ladies Memorial Association."

Gen. Pickett was stationed near Petersburg at the time of its siege by the Federal Army and he and Mrs. Pickett were married in St. Paul's Episcopal Church here.

Garber Heads Virginia Revenue Field Service

Special to The Washington Post.

Harrisonburg, Va., March 31.—Former Representative J. A. Garber of the Seventh District, elected to Congress in the Hoover landslide of 1928, but defeated for reelection last fall, has been appointed chief of the field service of the Internal Revenue Bureau for Virginia. He was advised of his appointment tonight by telegram from the U. S. commissioner of Internal Revenue at Washington.

Mr. Garber will leave here tomorrow for Richmond to take the oath of office and discuss his new work with Commissioner Crockett. His new office is an administrative one, at the head of eighteen deputies employed in Federal tax supervision and collection.

Private College Attendance Up.

Madison, Wis., March 31 (U.P.).—Attendance at private colleges in Wisconsin, now totaling about 7,000, has increased faster than attendance at the University of Wisconsin, according to Wirth F. J. Cessna's Skull Crushed by 14 Blows on Head; Racketeers Suspected.

Special to The Washington Post.

Cumberland, Md., March 31.—John K. Cessna, about 60 years old, former Western Maryland engineer, was found in his home with his skull crushed in early this evening. He had been struck fourteen times on the head with a blunt instrument and had been choked, examination disclosed. His body lay in a pool of blood on the bed.

Mr. Cessna was seen standing in the doorway of the two-story house in which he lived alone about noon. Neighbors say they heard no noises during the afternoon. Neighbors say that Cessna had been suspected of selling liquor. Three weapons—a rifle, a shotgun, and a revolver—were found in his room, but none bore evidence of having been discharged.

Cessna had been married, but kept "bachelor hall," with considerable evidence of tidiness. Officers are investigating on a theory that Cessna might have been a "racket" victim.

Jobless Marching To Seek State Aaid

75 Levae Baltimore for Annapolis to Plead Help of Assembly.

Baltimore, Md., March 31 (A.P.).—About 75 unemployed persons, including several women, began a 30-mile march to Annapolis today to demand an unemployment insurance act and other remedial legislation from the General Assembly.

The group was escorted to the city line by two mounted policemen and several officers on motorcycles brought up the rear. The march started at headquarters of a Communist organization.

Marshals of the parade said the marchers would keep on their feet all night and expected to reach the capital tomorrow morning.

GENERAL MOTORS FRIGIDAIRE
ADVANCED REFRIGERATION

What wonders the Frigidaire Hydrator works with wilted greens and languid vegetables!

Celery that has given up the ghost, so to speak, stands up like a Grenadier after a sojourn in the cold-moist magic of the Hydrator!

Lettuce that has lain down to die comes from its dewy, frosty depths crisp and succulent and newly inviting!

In the Frigidaire Hydrator all sorts of fruits and vegetables and salad greens find and keep just-out-of-the-garden freshness.

In most Frigidaire models the Hydrator is conveniently suspended so that food may be stored under and around it—it occupies that just-under-the-shelf space that is usually wasted.

THE CLOW GASTEAM WAY

A shivering customer is a hasty buyer. But the customer who lingers for the warmth your store provides is a willing buyer. And regardless of weather conditions your store will always be comfortable with a GASTEAM RADIATOR.

It brings all the advantages of steam heating without a central heating system—no cumbersome pipes, drafts, fuel supply or boiler. Only a Gas Connection is necessary, for the Gasteam Radiator is a unit complete in itself.

You'll be surprised at the low cost of operation. Phone NAtional 8280 and we will gladly send an engineer to consult with you concerning installation and maintenance charges.

CASTLE APPOINTED UNDERSECRETARY

(Associated Press.)

William R. Castle, jr., Assistant Secretary of State for western European affairs, was appointed by President Hoover yesterday as Undersecretary of State. The post was made vacant by the recent death of Joseph Potter Cotton, of New York.

Mr. Castle recently arrived in the United States from a brief vacation trip to Bermuda with Senator Reed, of Pennsylvania. He left immediately for San Francisco to visit his sister, Mrs. Burton Newcomb, who is ill.

The new undersecretary was urged for the post by Senators Borah (Republican), Idaho, and Swanson (Democrat), Virginia, chairman and ranking minority member, respectively, of the Senate foreign relations committee, when Secretary Stimson took office. Mr. Cotton, however, was named. He died recently at Johns Hopkins Hospital after an operation on his spine.

Born in Honolulu, Mr. Castle is 53 years old, and makes his home in Washington. He was selected by President Hoover at the opening of the London naval conference to go to Japan as special ambassador and carry on Japanese-American relations there during the conference.

He resumed his duties as Assistant Secretary after the parley closed. Before coming to the State Department, he was assistant dean of Harvard College, and is a graduate of Harvard.

Map of Nicaragua, showing the capital city of Nicaragua, which was visited yesterday by an earthquake, followed by fire, causing deaths and injuries which may exceed 1,000 in number.

Earthquakes Beset Cities From Mexico to Panama

Vast Area Shows Ravages of Rockings and Eruptions, With Many Towns Destroyed; One Metropolis Has Been Moved and Rebuilt.

(Associated Press.)

There is scarcely a city between Mexico and Panama that has not felt earthquakes or volcanic eruptions. Records of the National Geographic Society show that many repeatedly have been destroyed. Some of the quakes are apparently caused by volcanic activity, others by slipping of the earth crust.

Leon, one of Nicaragua's three most important cities, once was moved to a new site after being destroyed. Nicaragua has an area about equal to that of New York State and a total population only slightly larger than that of the City of Buffalo.

The proposed Niaraguan canal, which American engineers are now surveying, would run comparatively close to Managua, which has a population of about 60,000. The canal would follow the San Juan River from the Caribbean Sea to Lake Nicaragua and then cut across a comparatively narrow strip of land south of Managua to the Pacific.

Lake Nicaragua is the largest body of fresh water south of Lake Michigan. The horizon from the lake is dominated by the volcanoes Ometepe and Madera.

Managua is the capital of Nicaragua. It is located on Lake Managua, 87 miles from the Port of Corinto and 36 miles from Granada. It is an important commercial center and the second largest city in the republic.

The houses are mostly one-story, roofed with red tiles and enjoying inner gardens or patios. Among the principal buildings are the cathedral, the national palace, ancient structures of red sandstone and the presidential palace, a recent handsome addition. United States Marines have occupied the Campo de Marte, at the southern edge of the city, almost continuously since 1912, but were recently ordered withdrawn.

Two Indicted on Murder Charges.

Benjamin Brown and James Sawyer, both Negroes, were indicted on charges of first degree murder yesterday. Brown is charged with having shot and killed Alice Brown, Negress, in a house on Hanover street, March 21. Sawyer is alleged to have fatally stabbed Jake Coleman, March 22, on Missouri avenue northwest. He has not been apprehended.

1,500 U. S. MARINES IN NICARAGUAN AREA

Most of Officers Stationed in Managua Quartered in Old Palace.

(Associated Press.)

Approximately 1,500 marines are stationed in Nicaragua. On March 7, Rear Admiral Arthur St. C. Smith, commander of the United States forces in Central America, was ordered by the Navy Department to begin gradual withdrawal of his forces.

The plan was to move 500 marines out by June 1 and the remainder by January 1, 1933, after inauguration of the new Nicaraguan government. Part of the detachment was quartered in rebel areas in the interior and part in Managua and other central points.

The Marine force in Nicaragua is the Second Brigade, commanded by Col. Frederic L. Bradman. It consists of the Fifth Regiment of Marines, an aircraft squadron, quartermaster and paymaster detachments.

Headquarters in Old Palace.

Headquarters in Managua is in the old presidential palace, built of volcanic stone. Most of the officers are quartered in this building. The men, however, are living in tents in a large parade ground called the Campo de Marti. The aircraft squadron, consisting of 17 officers and 139 men, is at the air field, 3 miles outside of Managua, housed in two large adobe buildings.

Besides Col. Bradman, the ranking officers of the Marine force in Nicaragua are: Lieut. Col. Franklin B. Garrett, Maj. Ralph E. Davis, Maj. Anderson C. Dearing, Maj. Clyde C. Metcalf, Maj. Joseph D. Murray, Maj. William C. Wise, jr.

Several Marine Officers.

Maj. Ralph D. Mitchell commands the Aircraft Squadron near Managua.

In addition to the Marine brigade proper several Marine officers are assigned to the Guardia Nationale of Nicaragua, including the following, who are believed to have been in Managua yesterday: Col. Calvin B. Matthews, commandant of the Guardia; Maj. Robert L. Denig, Maj. John Marston, Maj. Walter G. Sheard, Maj. Julian C. Smith, Maj. Charles A. Wynn.

The Army has an engineering detachment in Nicaragua engaged in surveying a proposed canal across that country. This consists of one battalion which is equipped with a field wireless outfit.

Naval Medical Corps.

In addition there are in Managua 7 officers and 24 enlisted men of the Naval Medical Corps, who presumably will be able to care for wounded if they themselves escaped injury. This detachment is commanded by Lieut. Comdr. L. E. Mueller.

Only three American naval vessels are now in the vicinity of Nicaragua. The second-class cruiser Rochester and the gunboat Sacramento were at Balboa, while the gunboat Asheville was at Gatun Lake.

A week ago Central American waters were swarming with American naval craft, but the battle fleet, bound for California ports, yesterday was well up the Mexican coast, and the scouting fleet, having completed its air maneuvers in the Caribbean Sea, was divided between Guantanamo, Cuba and Haiti.

Airplanes Are Available.

A large group of airplanes is available at France Field, Canal Zone, to fly medical or other supplies to the area.

The engineers' battalion has a base of supplies at Corinto, near Managua, on the Pacific coast.

The engineers' contingent includes sections of the Eleventh Engineers from Panama, a headquarters and service platoon and one company of the Twenty-ninth Engineers and a company of the First Engineers. The battalion is in command of Col. Daniel I. Sultan.

HINDU LEADER ASKS CAPITAL MEETING

embody these fundamental rights will be acceptable to India," Gandhi declared.

The resolution demanded a constitution containing the following articles:

1. Freedom of association and combination.
2. Freedom of speech and press.
3. Freedom of conscience and free possession and practice of religion.
4. No disability to attach to any person by reason of religion, caste or creed regarding public employment in office of power or in any trade or calling.
5. Equal rights and obligations of all citizens with no civic bar on account of sex.
6. Equal rights of all citizens of access to and use of public roads, public wells and public resorts.
7. The right to keep and bear arms in accordance with such regulations as may be required for public safety.
8. Religious neutrality on the part of the state.
9. A living wage for industrial workers, limited hours of labor, healthy conditions for work, and protection against economic consequences of old age, sickness and unemployment.
10. Labor to be freed from conditions of serfdom.
11. Protection of women workers with adequate provisions for leave during maternity periods.
12. Prohibition against employment of children of scholastic age in factories.
13. Right of labor to form unions to protect their interests.
14. Substantial reduction of land revenue and rents.
15. Adult suffrage.
16. Free primary education.
17. Military expenditures cut in half.
18. Civil department expenditures and salaries substantially reduced with no state servant to be paid over the Indian equivalent of $200 monthly.
19. Protection of native cloth by exclusion of foreign cloth and foreign yarn.
20. Total prohibition of intoxicating drinks and drugs.
21. No duty on salt.
22. Regulation of the exchange ratio so as to help Indian industries.
23. Control by the state of key industries and mineral resources.
24. Control of usury, direct or indirect.

Political observers conversant with the relationship between England and India, however, are inclined to ridicule some of Gandhi's demands, adding that he obviously put forth a maximum list of expectations simply as a basis of bargaining with Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald.

Demands which England never will meet, observers say, are reduction of its army by 50 per cent, slashing of government salaries to an average of 500 rupees monthly, placing the control of key industries in the hands of the state and the abolition of liquor.

IN THE PLAY HOUSES

JUST ahead of the Japanese cherry blossoms, the National Theater players trooped into town yesterday and were tendered a grand testimonial luncheon by the Advertising Club of Washington. It happened in the Press Club auditorium, and the keys of the city were given the players by Commissioner Luther H. Reichelderfer.

• • • •

Seven years since they started on E street, the players are almost an institution. Representatives of state and church were at the speakers' table. Rabbi Abram Simon paid his tribute to the wholesome plays staged; Father Joseph Hurney claims an act of Congress should have been enacted; Dr. James Shera Montgomery, chaplain of the House of Representatives, pointed to the theater and what it means in the spiritual life of man. Then Clifford Brooke, director of the players, presented his charges.

• • • •

Because he is directing a play in New York, Clifford Brooke hurried down to the Washington air-port immediately after the luncheon yesterday and shot into the air preparatory to descending on Broadway. He will be back here today—to make way for the grand opening next Monday night when "Let Us Be Gay," Rachel Crothers' comedy, lights the National Theater.

• • • •

While all this is going on down near the Avenue, Mr. Stoddard Taylor, manager of the Belasco Theater, will have as his house guest none other than Thurston, the magician. Thurston gets started Sunday night, which leaves Monday open for all the dramatic reviewers, their high hats in hand, to attend the opening of the stock season.

• • • •

Only two weeks now until the Metropolitan Opera season opens on F street, in the Fox Theater. Mrs. Wilson-Greene, bringing the singers to town, reports that the advance sale is the greatest ever registered at a local box office. All the boxes have been subscribed for, all the loges taken for the season, and most of the seats in the balcony have gone. Some seats are available in the orchestra, but these, too, will probably disappear in the next few days.

• • • •

Already the managers and producers are casting their eyes toward the next season—starting in September and October of this year. The first to announce the fall activities is no less a personage than Katherine Cornell, player and producer in her own right. Though Miss Cornell continues to dazzle Broadway with her performance in "The Barrettes of Wimpole Street," recently published by Little Brown & Co., she is now starting to cast for her next production, "L'Aiglon," Rostand's tragedy presented here a season ago by Michael Strange. It may be remembered that Sarah Bernhardt and Maude Adams also played the helpless eaglet.

• • • •

Who should come through town yesterday but Lee Freedman, the New Orleans playwright, who gave the world "All Alone, Susie," the comedy Grace George played in here at the Belasco all of six years ago. Since those happy days, Mr. Freedman has written several other plays, and, from the way he looked yesterday, he has another one up his sleeve.

• • • •

A former National Theater player, Mr. Minor Watson, no less, is now getting ready to play an important part in the latest play from the pen of George M. Cohan, a comedy called "Fast Friendship." With Mr. Cohan in the cast, the try-out period will take place in Atlantic City on the night of May 4.

Stays Given on Appeals Of Four Doomed Men

Four Negroes, in the District jail under sentence of electrocution, were given stays yesterday by Justice Peyton Gordon, pending appeals.

Three of the men, JoJhn Borum, John Logan and Milton Guy, were convicted of having murdered Lamar W. York, a prohibition agent, in Brook's court last April 12. Their execution date is now set for June 9. The fourth, Charles Morris, convicted of slaying Maggie Landon, is scheduled to go to the chair June 19. The original date was April 17.

Klingle Valley Bridge Contract Is Awarded

Klingle Valley bridge is to be rebuilt, according to original plans of Maj. John C. Gotwals, Engineer Commissioner, and will have stone facing on the abutments and stone balustrades.

Contract to erect the bridge was awarded yesterday by the District Commissioners to the W. P. Thurston Co., of Richmond, Va., on its low bid of $459,440. This bid was submitted after the first set of bids was rejected because all estimates exceeded the amount of money available.

NEW YORK DETECTIVES SOLVE "BLACK MASK" MYSTERY

Famous Sleuths in Cigarette-Probe . . . Pick OLD GOLD for Throat-ease

"Black masks around the 4 leading cigarette brands . . . OLD GOLD pitted against its 3 rivals, with the names concealed. 'Which one is smoothest?' I asked.

"Thirty detectives puffed the 4 masked cigarette brands silently, cold-eyed, watchful . . . and smoked out the facts. Then . . . each gave me his solution. It was another landslide for OLD GOLD!

What We Can Do for You!

TEN years ago an investor purchased a $1,000 6% Thrift Trust Note issued by the International Bank and allowed the principal and interest to accumulate. Today—when the dollar will purchase 30% more than a few years ago—he can cash his note for a total of $1,806. In another ten years his $1,000 will be $3,261. How about your investments of ten years ago?

If you would build up an income for the future, keep your savings invested, but do not speculate. International Bank Collateral Trust Notes are issued in any amount—payable at any date designated by the purchaser, and are absolutely safe. They can be cashed at any time. FLAG PLAN BACKED BY ADMIRAL PRATT Logical and Feasible, View of Naval Head Indorsing Patriotic Project.

Demonstrating again that those most familiar with war, the fighting men of the United States, are in the front rank of those who would welcome permanent world peace, Admiral W. V. Pratt, chief of naval operations, U. S. N., yesterday added his indorsement to the long list already given the program of the United States Association which consists in part of sending American children, between the ages of 14 and 18, to France and England as "envoys of peace," to convey the good wishes of the children of the America to those of the two European countries.

Two children, a boy and a girl, are to be named as "envoys" representing the high schools of Washington through a contest now being conducted by the United States Flag Association, with the cooperation of The Washington Post.

Admiral Pratt's Message.

In a letter to Col. James A. Moss, U. S. A., retired, president general of the United States Flag Association, Admiral Pratt declares the program "logical and feasible" and says that "it deserves the supoprt of all good Americans." His letter follows:

"I thank you for your kindness in sending me a copy of your attractive brochure explaining the undertaking which the United States Flag Association has just launched for the furtherance of American patriotism and world friendship through our youth.

"I have read the booklet with great interest and I am glad to indorse your program as one which, in my judgment, is logical and feasible. It deserves the support of all good Americans.

"I approve heartily the rational patriotism which the Flag Association is inculcating into the youth of America. It will help to create among the nations of the world the kind of friendship that will do most to prevent war when the boys and girls of today will be in control of the governments of tomorrow."

Military Leaders Approve.

With the indorsement of Admiral Pratt, the project of the United States Flag Association now has the indorsement of the heads of the three branches of the service, Army, Navy and Marine Corps, Gen. Douglas MacArthur, chief of staff, U. S. A., and Maj. Gen. Fuller, commandant of the United States Marine Corps, having already expressed their approbation. This is in addition to the approval of Gen. John J. Pershing, leader of the A. E. F., and Admiral Sims, in command of the American naval forces in European waters during the World War, besides the President of the United States, the Vice President and all the members of the Cabinet.

Teachers of the public and private high schools of the city, both junior and senior, were deluged with the flood of essays which were placed on their desks yesterday morning, in anticipation of the closing of the essay contest, at noon. These papers are to be marked and in the hands of officials of the United States Flag Association by noon on April 10, in order that they may be ready for the preliminary test which takes place on April 11.

Until that test is made and the winners announced, one boy and one girl from each school, each entrant's chances are as good as any other entrant's, and it behooves every student who is in the contest to continue work in order to be prepared for the oral quiz and the written examination on the symbolism of the United States Flag, American ideals and institutions, and United States history, which will form part of the preliminary test and which lead to the final test on April 18.

Teachers May Aid Students.

All school teachers are authorized to aid students by suggesting books which bear on history and on the flag and its ideals and traditions. One of the most comprehensive books on the flag, it is pointed out, is officials of the Flag Association, is "The American Flag, Its Glory and Grandeur," which can be obtained in any public library.

In addition to the study of books, every entrant is earnestly advised to read The Washington Post every day, as there will appear each day until the preliminary test is held April 11, a short essay on one of the subjects on which the contestants will be examined in both the preliminary and the final tests. These essays will be prepared by officials of the United States Flag Association. The first one appears today.

These essays positively can not be obtained in any other form. They will be printed in The Post and only in The Post.

The Flag Association, its officials point out, seeks the highest type of young American manhood and womanhood for this goodwill tour, and while the tests are exacting, they are not beyond the comprehension of the high school student, and the prize, a free trip to England and France, with all the honors that await the contestants on the other side, is well worth every possible effort on the part of the students.

First Patriotic Essay For Flag Contestants

This is the first of a series of essays on the flag which will appear in The Post to assist contestants in the Flag Association contest.

Patriotism means love of country and loyalty to its ideals, traditions, institutions, and aspirations; devotion to the welfare and interests of one's country; the passion inspiring one to serve ones country. It is a natural emotion which came into being when the community instinct was born in man, and will continue to be a part of his nature for a long time to come. It is an impulse that is akin to love of family.

A "patriot"—a real patriot—is one who possesses and practices patriotism; one who loves his country and supports its authority and interests. However, it is not uncommon for persons to assume the name of "Patriot" who are not really patriots. In fact, this was done to such an extent in the eighteenth century in England that the term "patriot" was for quite a while in a state of ridicule and disrepute.

To such a degree has the emotion of patriotism been used for selfish and unworthy purposes—so many foolish, narrow-minded, and hypocritical acts have been committed in its name by high and low, rich and poor—that many people are inclined to look with suspicion on anything that is said or done in the name of patriotism.

There are two kinds of patriotism. True patriotism and false patriotism. True patriotism is one of the finest of human sentiments. It is a virtue. False patriotism, with its elements of exaggeration, egoism, and jingoism promotive of war is not only ridiculous, but its is pernicious. It is a vice.

HOOVER, OPPOSED TO INCREASE OF TAXES, TO MEET DEFICIT

yesterday after he had talked to Senator James E. Watson, the Republican leader of the Senate, and after he and Secretary of the Treasury Mellon had made a canvass of the financial situation in the Government.

"There will be no increase in taxes if the next Congress imposes no increases upon the budget or other expenditure proposals which the administration will present," President Hoover said. "But for Congress to do this the people must cooperate to effectively discourage and postpone consideration of demands of sectional and group interests."

Aimed at Progressives.

The statement was aimed at the Republican and Democratic progressives who have been clamoring for tax increases.

The views of President Hoover are shared by Senator Watson, Senator David A. Reed, of Pennsylvania; Representative Will Wood, of Indiana, and other influential Republicans.

Senator William E. Borah (Republican), Idaho, in commenting on the President's statement last night, pointed out that Congress has appropriated less than the Budget Bureau has recommended for the past two years. He said he was willing to begin cutting down expenditures if the administration will first abandon its $90,000,000 naval building program.

Garner Proffers Aid.

Representative John Garner, of Texas, minority leader of the House, wired the United Press here that he would "cooperate to the fullest extent in an effort to economize in government expenditures."

The regular Republicans feel that the deficit can be taken care of by the issuance of short-term government securities. They further feel that, with taxes held to their present level, business will pick up, and that as a consequence tax returns also will pick up. This, together with economy in governmental expenditures, they believe, will solve the problem.

If things should not work out this way, there are some regular Republicans who would be in favor of suspending the payments into the sinking fund covering the public debt.

Tax Receipts Decline.

So greatly did the business depression reduce income tax receipts this time that the Treasury faces a deficit for the fiscal year of 1931 of between $700,000,000 and $800,000,000, and another deficit for the fiscal year of 1932.

Income taxes are collected, not according to the fiscal year, but according to the calendar year. Half of the money received from income taxes this year goes into the Treasury to cover expenditures for the fiscal year of 1931, which began July 1 last and the other half to cover expenditures for the fiscal year of 1932, which begins July 1 next.

Thus, until income tax returns are filed again next March, and it can be seen how much will go into the Treasury to cover the $5,180,000,000 budget that already has been approved for the fiscal year of 1932, it will be impossible to say what the deficit will be at the end of that fiscal year, which will be June 30, 1932.

Loans May Come Back.

The appropriation bills that the new Congress will pass when it meets next December, eight months hence, will be for the fiscal year of 1933, which begins July 1, 1932.

Assuming that conditoins improve, this Congress will not be asked to make the extraordinary appropriations that the last Congress approved. There was, for example, the $250,000,000 appropriated for the Federal Farm Board, the $69,000,000 for drought relief, and the $125,000,000 for emergency building projects.

Sixteen Best Stories

Out of the vast number of short stories published within the past year—no one knows how many were printed—The Washington Post has obtained sixteen selected by editors of leading magazines, writers and critics. They are actually the cream of short fiction for a whole year brought together for the readers of The Washington Post's Sunday Magazine. As originally published these stories represent an investment running into thousands of dollars for they are by authors whose names and work stand for the highest ideals, greatest technical skill and, best of all, ability as story-tellers.

This collection is an outstanding achievement in the literary field and one whose merits are certain to win the approval of the readers of The Washington Post Sunday Magazine.

A New Foe to Fat

A few years ago, millions of people suffered from excess fat. It was a blight to beauty, health and vim. Lives were shortened, all life's joys reduced.

Now look about. Excess fat is fast disappearing. Not by starvation, not by harmful drugs. Science has discovered that a great cause of excess fat lies in a weakened gland. That gland largely controls nutrition. Its secretion helps turn food into fuel and energy. A scanty secretion lets too much food turn to fat.

Now doctors the world over combat that cause. They feed the lacking factor until weight returns to normal.

That factor is the basis of Marmola prescription tablets. A world-famous medical laboratory prepares them to fit the average case. Thus any obese person may employ this method in its best form at small cost.

Marmola has been used for 24 years—millions of boxes of it. Users have told others, and the use has spread. Now a large part of the slenderness you see is due to this master help.

Now excess fat is folly. It is also folly to starve or overdo, or use methods harmful or absurd. The right method—the method which all doctors now employ—is at your call. The price at your drug store is only $1.

Go get it today if you need it. A book in the box gives the formula and explains the reasons for results. Don't carry this burden longer when people all about you have so easily thrown it off.

OIL HEAT
is clean and healthful

¶ There is no better guardian of health than the thermostat that controls the even, perfect heat of the modern, automatic Oil Heating machine. Your family needs this controlled heat—warmth that keeps May in the air all year 'round. Houses that vary in temperature with the incalculable moods of a temperamental furnace—or furnace man—make unjust demands upon the health and vigor of their occupants, increasing their susceptibility to cold and disease germs. We are most susceptible to these preying germs when we have been subjected to the stuffy atmosphere of overheated rooms, or to changes in temperature for which we are not adequately prepared. Automatic Oil Heat relieves you of this and many other worries. And it actually costs less to operate.

¶ Oil Heat is an investment in good health . . . cleanliness . . . leisure . . . relief from dirt and drudgery. These are the dividends that justify its selection.

THE OIL HEATING INSTITUTE . . . carries on impartial research and educational work, and serves as a central bureau of information on Oil Heat. Only those dealers who sell equipment manufactured by members of the Institute are privileged to display the emblem of the Oil Heating Institute. Look for it in your dealer's window. The Institute will deem it a privilege to be of assistance to you in any way possible.

COMMUNIST "VISITORS."

Feodor M. Ziavkin, general manager of the Amtorg Trading Corporation, has been denied permission to remain in the United States any longer. The Department of Labor has refused to extend his permit on the ground that he has changed occupations since coming to this country, contrary to the rules of the department.

This action again brings into question the status of those Communists who are conducting business for the Soviet government in the United States. All the stock in the Amtorg Corporation is owned by the Soviet dictatorship, which the United States has refused to recognize. Communists who come here as temporary "visitors" remain as the agents of the reds. As a matter of fact, they are sent here direct from Moscow, and are admitted on visas issued by American consuls in Germany.

The House committee which investigated Communist propaganda in the United States found that 1,130 visas were issued to citizens of the Soviet wishing to "visit" this country last year. During the last five years 1,526 Communists have been admitted from Russia in connection with the business conducted by Amtorg. A large portion of them are still in the United States. Presumably the Department of Labor is extending permission for them to remain every six months.

Virtually all officials of Amtorg are Communists, although they pretend to have "suspended" their connection with the party while on duty in the United States. Ziavkin denied before the congressional committee that he was a Communist, but he was identified as a former chief of the G. P. U, the Soviet's agency of terrorism. Peter A. Bogdanov, chairman of the board of directors of Amtorg, is likewise an alien Communist, who is permitted to remain here to conduct the Soviet's business. Why is he not deported?

The congressional investigation of this agency was entirely unsatisfactory. The aliens refused to answer many pertinent questions, and the committee discovered evidence of prearranged evasion.

The method whereby Communists enter and remain in the United States should be investigated. The Fish committee merely touched the fringe of the subject. These reds could not pass through American ports without the consent of some branch of the United States Government. What authority permits them to enter, in the face of abundant evidence that they are not "visitors," but agents of Soviet Russia? How can these "visitors" remain here over their time, in violation of law, unless they are protected by some agency of the Government? Their status is palpably false. They are not visitors, but are engaged in business. Men from other countries who wish to come here to do business are excluded unless they come within the quota. Why are the reds of Russia favored over the business men of England, Germany, or France? To what extent does "big business" induce Government departments to wink at evasion of law?

The Secretary of Commerce, Mr. Lamont, gave out a guarded statement a few weeks ago, stating that his department favored "fair" trade with Soviet Russia. This statement was widely circulated by the Amtorg officials and by American agents of "big business" who are selling machinery and equipment to the Moscow outfit. The business they are doing is not "fair," either legally or morally. They have no legal protection, and their sales to Soviet Russia help to build up the machine with which the Communists are swamping the world with cheap slave-made goods. The United States has already raised the bars against some Soviet goods, and must debar all goods from that source; and yet agents of the Soviet are permitted to come and remain in this country to promote the Communist scheme.

This situation calls for the personal investigation of President Hoover. His own Cabinet is working at cross purposes. The interests of the American people are adversely affected. The President can put a stop to conditions that threaten to become a public scandal.

IF EXTRAVAGANCE, THEN TAXES.

President Hoover adds an optimistic note to the discussion of higher taxes. He believes that increased levies can be avoided, unless Congress indulges in another orgy of spending next winter. No one is more interested in averting higher taxes than President Hoover. He can be depended upon to trim administrative expenditures to the bone, and to use his influence against all extravagant projects that may be brought before the next Congress.

As matters stand the Republican party and the more conservative elements in the Democratic party are opposed to tax increases. Only the insurgents are in favor of heaping additional burdens upon the public. They insist on boosting tax rates on large incomes so that money will be available for their proposed dole system and various other socialistic ventures. That threadbare sophistry of taxing the rich for the benefit of the poor is revamped to catch the public fancy. Moreover, since they are committed to the dole, the insurgents have to advocate some method of slowing down the business recovery to justify their nostrum.

In the last session of Congress both Houses ran wild. It had been so long since the Treasury had experienced a critical shortage of funds that the prospective deficit was no deterrent to extravagant spending. Conditions will be changed in the Congress that meets next December. Every needless appropriation will be denounced as a threat of higher taxes. Members of Congress are liable to be more cautious than they have been for years. With the general election just around the corner, few will be willing to accept the responsibility of voting for measures that would make tax increases inevitable.

In view of the close division in the next Congress the Democratic party will share responsibility with the Republicans. This will be particularly true in the House, where money bills must originate. If the Democrats attempt to put the administration in a hole by extravagant spending and higher taxes they will release a storm of public indignation upon their own heads.

The very fact that both houses are so closely divided politically may deter reckless legislation. Party measures will probably be deadlocked. Legislative wheels will grind slowly, if at all. The President may be expected to exercise his veto power whenever that becomes necessary.

Now that the country has President Hoover's assurance that higher taxes may be avoided if Congress is willing, public opinion will become a vital factor. There is ample time before Congress meets to mobilize public opinion against further extravagance. Let the people inform their congressional representatives that higher taxes may cost them their official positions, and the next session may assemble in a more sober mood.

MANAGUA'S EARTHQUAKE.

Once more an earthquake, the force which above all others holds mankind in awe, has struck a thickly inhabited region with appalling effects. This time Managua, the picturesque capital of Nicaragua, is the victim. Meager reports indicate that horrors have accumulated, in the shape of fires that consumed what the quake had brought low. The entire city has suffered, although there is hope that human fatalities will prove to have been overestimated. Officers and men of the United States Marine Corps to the number of nearly 1,000 were quartered in the city. They seem to have been instantly active in the work of fire prevention and in relief of suffering.

The havoc wrought by earthquake is peculiarly deadly on account of the disruption of water systems, electric light and power, and other agencies that are usually utilized in dealing with other disasters. At Managua the water mains were broken, making it impossible to fight the fire that swept from the central market. Dynamite was used to throw down buildings in the hope of checking the fire, but the supply of explosive was soon exhausted. The population was left with bare hands to cope with overpowering forces.

Managua's earthquake will have a discouraging effect upon the slowly ripening project for an oceanic canal via Lake Nicaragua. The city is situated on the edge of the lake, in a volcanic region. In some respects the Nicaragua canal route offers advantages, but if the project should be pressed it would meet with determined resistance from engineers who have long been convinced that no works of man can be made permanent in that region.

ALLEGED SUGAR MONOPOLY.

The Government's suit for dissolution of the Sugar Institute comes as a severe jolt to those big business interests that are working for abolition of the Sherman antitrust act. The National Association of Manufacturers has just told the country that the antitrust laws are obsolete. But the Department of Justice finds that the interests of the public are still in need of protection against gigantic price-fixing monopolies.

For two years the department has been investigating the alleged sugar monopoly. It charges the Sugar Institute and 50 cane sugar refining companies with maintaining noncompetitive prices and with exacting oppressive terms from brokers, jobbers and wholesale dealers throughout the country. As a result of this agreement, the department alleges, the consuming public has had to pay excessive prices for sugar, while the growers have received no benefits. During 1928, the department reports, the earnings of one company increased from $3,070,000 to more than $8,000,000; those of another company, from $292,486 to more than $3,372,000, largely as a result of their participation in the Sugar Institute's program.

Under ordinary circumstances there is lively competition between cane and beet sugar. But the cane refineries are charged with inducing the beet companies to reduce their competitive activities. The price of cane sugar has been maintained 20 per cent per hundred higher than that of beet sugar to the apparent detriment of the domestic industry. Competition seems to have been almost entirely suspended.

The tendency of business toward monopoly is stronger than it has ever been before. Great corporations take advantage of every opportunity to stifle competition and charge exorbitant prices. It is imperative, therefore, that the public be given protection. Competition within the domestic market affords the public reasonable prices. But if great corporations that are relieved of competition with foreigners are allowed to combine for the purpose of fixing prices and boycotting dealers, the public is left at the mercy of exploiters.

The policy of the Government is to protect American industry and business against unfair foreign competition, and to preserve domestic competition. In this way exploitation of the consuming public is avoided on one hand and the American standard of living is preserved on the other. So long as the present economic system remains the antitrust laws must be enforced. Nothing save the development of a more effective antidote against monopoly would justify repeal of the Sherman act and its related statutes.

Tom Heflin asked the Senate to look at the ballots cast in Henry County, Alabama, and now the sheriff testifies that they have been lynched and burned. The mob was simply uncontrollable.

Senator Wheeler looks with disgust upon the improvement in business conditions. It looks like a conspiracy to prevent him from putting in the dole.

Each of the big parties would like to see a third party, but it wants the other to furnish the raw material.

FROM A WHEAT PIONEER

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Permit one who has lived 43 years in the Northwest spring wheat-growing States to elbow in with a few remarks on your excellent editorial of Saturday, "Curtailment of Wheat Acreage." I agree with you that subsidies, or "handouts," as Senator Reed rather coarsely calls them, whether extracted from the Treasury or from the pockets of the farmers themselves by an equalization fee, are only a form of hooch from which the victim awakes with a terrible hang-over. This language is, of course, the Western form of your more precise diction. To continue the simile, the wheat producer, having indulged and suffering the consequences, gazes with dim and reddened eyes toward the form of Dr. Borah, who comes running to him with just another little drink—a morning pick-me-up—in the form of the debenture. What the patient really needs is the gold cure.

However, it is impossible to share in your optimism over the possible result of a reduction of acreage planted to wheat. The records sustain no such hope as you have expressed and that Secretary Hyde entertains. Nature is not only a fickle jade but a double-crosser. Thus in 1920 we had a crop of 833,000,000 bushels from 61,000,000 acres, and in 1924 from 52,000,000 acres—or practically 14 per cent less land than in 1920—we reaped 864,000,000 bushels. Look at 1915, when we raised more than 1,000,000,000 bushels from 60,000,000 acres, and compare that with 1929, when we had but 806,000,000 bushels from 61,000,000 acres. In brief, there is no guaranty that curtailed acreage means fewer bushels or that it will rid us of the burden of a surplus and give the farmer the benefit of a protective duty.

Unfortunately, too, the crop curtailment this year hits the wrong party. Analysis of the 1929 acreage and crop will explain. In that year 61,000,000 acres yielded 806,000,000 bushels. Of this 40,000,000 acres were in soft winter wheat, 5,500,000 were in durum or macaroni wheat and 15,500,000 were in hard spring wheat from the Northwest, rich in gluten and protein. Today the winter wheat is all in the ground and the seeding of the hard spring wheat has just begun. It is the latter that must suffer the acreage curtailment.

But this hard spring wheat is what makes rich and nourishing bread. The bakers demand it because its grain is rough and absorbent. Not a pound of it is exported, for Americans will only eat the best. It is used to mix with the softer and more starchy wheat grown in less virile climates. In reducing the acreage of that wheat we make it easier for the farmer who already has his soft wheat in the ground, but we deprive ourselves of the richer variety of flour, and discriminate against the region and the farmer producing the superior wheat.

The winter wheat farmer who raised 578,000,000 bushels in 1929 should first be required to cut down production before the hard wheat farmer who raised but 175,000,000 bushels is ordered to lay off. The durum or macaroni wheat of 52,000,000 bushels, raised mostly in North Dakota in addition to the hard wheat, does not enter into the equation, because it is not a bread wheat, and is nearly all in domestic consumption.

This is the Northwest's kick: You can not curtail yield by cutting the acreage of hard wheat alone, and this year the reduction of acreage 15 per cent carries no warrant that the surplus will be reduced by one bushel when the combines have made their last round next August. Actually, if the present plentiful supply of rain and moisture means anything, it means a bigger crop from fewer acres this fall.

Sugar refiners are being sued by the Attorney General for buying cheap and selling high. Secretary Wilbur is abetting a scheme to have the oil refiners buy high and sell cheap.

Senator Wheeler is saving the rest of his Robin Hood ideas of justice for another Progressive panegyric.

Bowie's charity opener was good, but not quite equal to Mexico's record of a benefit bull fight for the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

If present plans work out to curtail oil imports and limit home production without increasing prices of petroleum products it will be the first knockout decision against old man Supply and Demand. Glance at the cartoon and see what he did to the farm.

The prediction of Chairman Wood, of the House appropriations committee, that the next Congress will see a flood of fool bills to help the farmers is bound to come true. Well, 25,000 bills have become laws in the last 30 years, and the country still lives.

The suggestion that senatorial duty make a full-time job does not appeal to Senator-Chairman Fess. The Vice President and the Secretary of War also agree that they have pretty good jobs as is.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST

AFTER THE CRASH.

"Those who were our friends remain;
Those who were not are no more.
They are seeking selfish gain
At some richer person's door.
It is good at home to stay.
What for tea will please me most?
Something simple; shall I say
Soft-boiled eggs and buttered toast?

"Well, my dear, we've had our fling!
Learned our lesson, too, I think.
Happily tonight I bring
Dishes to the kitchen sink.
Servants gone; just you and I
Back to where we first began,
Forced by circumstances to try
Life upon a saner plan

"Lovelier seems the home today,
Lovelier, I'm sure, are you.
Won't the sitting room be gay
Graced by friendships tried and true?
All it means, my dear, is this:
Now we'll count a pleasure's cost;
Nothing worth while we shall miss,
Only boredom has been lost.

"Now the simple games we'll play,
Checker, cribbage, I and you,
And we'll read in just the way
Years ago we used to do.
All our lavish days are o'er,
Broken all our foolish dreams,
We're home-loving folks once more,
Oh, how very good it seems!"

If the Master Seems Indifferent, the Servant Soon Rules the Premises.

By ROBERT QUILLEN

It is sometimes easier to understand a large matter by examining an imaginary small one.

The morality of a nation's conduct, for example, is revealed by attributing similar conduct to an individual.

When the West was young and wild and men with adventurous spirits came from the four corners of the earth to look for gold, each camp was like a newly established nation in miniature.

In the beginning there was violence, unrebuked and unrestrained. Claims were "jumped" and property stolen. Men killed one another with guns or knives. Bullies cowed the camps.

And then the time came when the more decent element decided to organize some form of government for the protection of life and property.

There was a mass meeting, at which certain rules of conduct were agreed upon and certain practices forbidden. A marshal was chosen to enforce the rules and suppress evil-doers.

Here, then, was an established government—an organization effected by the majority to do the will of the people.

The government was the marshal, and the sole business of the government was to serve the people who elected and paid him.

In some instances the marshal forgot that his business was to serve and assumed the authority to meddle. He made himself a nuisance and a terror, and became so great in his own estimation that the people regretted having chosen him.

When that happened, it was only a matter of time until some man or group of men removed him from office and buried him.

It was a primitive system, but it contained all the elements of democratic government. To understand the marshal's position is to understand the purpose and duty of all governments established by free men.

Did the marshal have any rights or powers not given him by the people who elected him? Did he have authority to make any rules not favored by the majority? Were the people under any obligation to him, except to support him in doing their will? Was he greater than the people whose servant he was?

You must understand the nature of government if you would save what is left of your liberties.

Hoover and Farm Board.
Baltimore Sun.

President Hoover washes his hands of responsibility for the Federal Farm Board. "The Farm Board makes its own policies," says a statement from the White House. "It was given authority by Congress to handle the situation. . . . It is an independent body."

Thus another step is taken toward the climax of one of the most flagrant exhibitions of irresponsible government in the history of this country.

When it comes to Mr. Hoover's great reverence for the freedom of "independent" bodies, such as the Interstate Commerce Commission, to which he likens the Farm Board, one has to go back only a short time to find Mr. Hoover suggesting in no uncertain terms to the Interstate Commission what ought to be done about railroad consolidation. The difference here is that the Farm Board is in a mess that Mr. Hoover would like, if possible, to avoid, whereas in the case of railroad consolidation he believed he had a good trick up his sleeve.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Col. John Bigelow Wants to Know When Uplifters Will Quit Monkeying With Constitutional Rights of Citizens.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: In your recent issue of March 29th, Mr. J. H. Shepherd, taking issue with Dr. Wilson, advocates the solution of the prohibition problem by education. He recommends the use of books and charts to bring home to old and young the ill effects of liquor and narcotics, the beauty of soft drink trucks compared to the foul-smelling beer trucks, the happiness of dry slums compared to the misery of wet, the decrease in the death rate from alcoholism and from cirrhosis of the liver.

Mr. Shepherd's program, assuming it carried out, would enlighten benighted people in the respective merits of temperance and total abstinence on one hand and intemperance on the other—that is not touching on prohibition.

Education for prohibition should explain how, under our government, a citizen may be prevented from doing what the constitution allows him to do; how Congress, with the sanction of the Supreme Court, can by indirection deprive the citizen of a right which it can not take from him directly.

Pending my enlightenment on these points, I am neither a wet nor a dry; I do not care how few or how many unfortunates are jugged for drunkenness; statistics of savings accounts and weekly envelopes leave me cold. I am a constitutionalist. I want rights under the constitution. It is up to the government to do the best it can consistently with respect for them. I resent its attempting anything at the price of one of them.

If there was ever a time when we people of the United States should say to ourselves "Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty," it is now. Where is this encroachment on our liberties going to stop? Who is there, what is there, that can be relied on to check it? Which of our rights will next be tabooed by the captains of industry or the apostles of uplift? Where are materialism and fanaticism carrying us?

If there is a particular education that is called for at present, it is an awakening of the spirit of civil liberty and self-government, a revival of individuality, a realization that in a republic the government is made for the people, not the people for the government—much less for an industrial autocracy or a type of machinery or busy-body.

JOHN BIGELOW.

Contrast Between Daniel Willard's Pessimism and Calvin Coolidge's Optimism.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: In his address accepting the honorary degree of doctor of laws from the University of Pennsylvania, Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, marshaled an array of facts to enforce his charge that many persons in this country are suffering for lack of employment and that large stocks, the result of overproduction, exist while millions are hungry and cold.

The two problems together—unemployment and distribution of products—Mr. Willard declared, bring into question the very foundations of our political and economic system. And what is Mr. Willard's remedy? The executive of a great railroad receiving a college degree talks very much like the rest of us when he admits that "while practically every one agrees that the problem is a serious and difficult one, no one, apparently, knows just how it ought to be solved; at any rate, no one has yet announced a formula for its solution in such clear terms as to carry conviction."

Some may have been disappointed that the new doctor did not bring his wide experience to attempt a more novel or convincing course of action than the one he offered as contingent personal conduct in time of stress. Mr. Willard's only constructive suggestion was: "I would steal before I would starve."

It is easy in such times as these to pile up complaints about the unemployed and to amass statistics to show how happy everybody would be if there were an equal distribution of money and edibles.

No less notable philosopher than Calvin Coolidge also touched upon the same fact that the number of unemployed exceeded 6,000,000 in January. He did not, however, consider the very foundations of the Republic crumbling, lamentable as the labor situation has been. Rather, the calm sage of Northampton pointed to the probability of its temporary duration, the patent fact that the greater proportion of the population is still at work, and that actual cases of privation are comparatively rare. It is the more cheerful view, certainly, and one that similar previous hard-times experience bears out.

Buses Do Not Have the Right of Way—They Take It by Brute Force.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Your editorial entitled "Another Bus Tragedy" was interesting and timely. Despite the company's alleged disavowal of liability because of its claim of having reached the bridge first, it is apparent that either of the drivers could have avoided the collision by the exercise of a slight amount of caution.

The disinclination of truck and bus drivers to give way for anything else is notorious. Light-car drivers must leave the road in self-protection. One bus driver recently informed me that they did not "give way for anything" because they were required to run on schedule and that the law gave them the right of way.

Pressure on the well-known "pocketbook nerve" of employer corporations, the only sensitive nerve a corporation has, might cause this misapprehension on the part of the drivers to be corrected.

EVENTS OF INTEREST IN SOCIETY CIRCLES OF CAPITAL

Capital Young Folk Taking To Ping-Pong

Marichu Padilla Leads All in Popular Game at Embassies.

IF ping-pong comes, can spring be far behind?

Young people in the diplomatic set, wise in the ways of tennis and the demands of the spring courts, have gone in seriously for "baby tennis" with most of them bent on the attempt to score, just for once, over the clever playing of Senorita Marichu Padilla, younger daughter of the Ambassador of Spain and Senora de Padilla.

Undisputed champion of the ping-pong table, the pretty maid of Spain is adding new laurels to her crown as almost day by day a gay group of the younger set meets after tea on the top floor of the chancery at the Italian Embassy. Here ping-pong reigns. And here Senorita Padilla's training on the tennis court stands her well for no one has succeeded in beating her at the game of the mauve decade.

The French Embassy, too, has been the rendezvous all winter for devotees of ping-pong. In the little room back of the great dining room Mlle. Reine Claudel and her brothers, Henri and Pierre, slap the white ball across the little net with all the acumen displayed in summer when they resort to tennis for recreation after tea.

Another clever player is Senor Ramon Padilla, who apparently rates ping-pong as a sport almost as high as tennis. Adept in both games, he runs his sister a pretty race, both on "inside and outside" courts. Scarcely a day goes by that one or the other is not to be found, before the dinner hour, batting balls here and there, Senorita Padilla matching her skill against that of Mr. Kenneth Watson, and other maids and cavaliers forming sets in the room set aside at either the Italian or French Embassy.

Mr. Watson, everybody will recall, once held the crown of junior champion tennis player for the District of Columbia, and brings to his ping-pong the same true eye and steady wrist that brought him sports honors several years ago. He has, however, yet to surpass Senorita Padilla's handling of the paddles.

The Third Secretary of the French Embassy, Mr. Philippe Baudet, has up to date "taken no back seat" among the ping-pong group that makes an afternoon mecca of the small room at the embassy. His playing, they declare, is superlative. Matched with him is Mlle. Maieli Piaemi, niece of the Minister of Switzerland and Mme. Peter, whose visit in Washington this winter has added a delightful touch to the festivities of the Capital's younger groups. She adores ping-pong and, with the daughters of the French and Spanish Ambassadors and several others "fans," spends a lot of time perfecting her game.

Mr. Eugene Roberts and Mr. James Garrick often join the players. They all scorn the suggestion that, with ping-pong reigning this year in lieu of poker or games equally as exciting, that next season tiddledewinks, the game of the gay nineties, will come in for its share of revival. With backgammon and chess bidding for favor all winter, the little group may be playing jackstones in another year.

Malbran Returns From New York Banquet.

The Ambassador of Argentina, Senor Don Manuel Malbran, returned to Washington yesterday after passing a few days in New York, where he went to attend the banquet of the Association of Foreign Correspondents.

The Secretary of State and Mrs. Henry L. Stimson left yesterday for their estate, Highold, at Westhill, Long Island. They will spend a few days of leisure there and will have no guests. They will return to Washington on Sunday.

Senator David I. Walsh entertained at luncheon yesterday at the Carlton.

Senator James J. Davis, who reached Washington by airplane from Los Angeles on Monday, has gone to Pittsburgh and points in Pennsylvania for a few days. Senator and Mrs. Davis will have with them over Easter their niece, Miss Esther Ford Jones, of Sharon, Pa., and her fiance, Mr. Marlin Schwab, of Gettysburg, and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Trevor Semple, also of Sharon.

Miss Rickard To Be Wed to Graham Hoyt

Rumored Betrothal to Allan Hoover Is Erroneous.

Altogether complacent in the prediction that the engagement of Miss Peggy Rickard, of New York, and Mr. Allan Hoover ultimately would be announced, Washington society, it seems, has made one poor guess. For announcement of the troth of Miss Rickard, last winter's guest at the White House, to Mr. Graham Hoyt, of New York, came yesterday from the metropolis.

Miss Rickard, the daughter of Mr and Mrs. Edgar Rickard, will set a summer date for her wedding.

Mr. Hoyt is a nephew of the Rev. Anson Phelps Stokes, canon of the Washington Cathedral, and makes his home when not in college with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Sherman Hoyt, of New York.

A top liner in the society columns during festivities of the winter season at the White House, Miss Rickard's visit there in midwinter with her parents occasioned pleasant gossip of the probable engagement of the pretty girl and the President's son.

She was presented to New York society this season. She attended the Brearley School and later Ethel Walker's School.

Mr. Hoyt was graduated from the Thacher School, in California, in 1929, and is now a student of architecture at Yale University, in New Haven.

Capt. Richard L. Smith, attache at the United States Embassy in Paris, Mrs. Smith and their family will sail this morning on the President Roosevelt for Europe. Also on the ship will be Mr. William S. Farrell, consul general at Addis Ababa. Mrs. H. Lawrence Groves, wife of the commercial attache in Berlin, will sail to join Mr. Groves in Germany.

Col. Robert Davis, retired, and Mrs. Davis, of Little Silver, N. J., and their daughters, Miss Barbara Davis and Miss Adele Davis, will spend the Easter holiday in Washington as the guests of Col. and Mrs. Davis' daughter, Miss Edwina Davis. Another daughter, Miss Elizabeth Davis, will come from Randolph-Macon Woman's College at Lynchburg, Va., to spend her vacation with her family.

Mr. Joseph Leiter has taken the house of Mrs. George H. Hester in Louisville for the racing season and will be joined there by Mrs. Leiter later on. Mrs. Leiter is now in Aiken, S. C.

Hoovers Plan To Give Dinner On April 15

Wilbur Will Be Host to President and Wife on April 21.

The President and Mrs. Hoover have sent out invitations for a dinner on April 15.

The President and First Lady will be the guests in whose honor the Secretary of the Interior and Mrs. Ray Lyman Wilbur will entertain at dinner on April 21. The dinner will be one of the series given annually by the Cabinet members and their wives in honor of the Chief Executive and the First Lady. According to the tentative schedule the following official fete will be on Tuesday, April 28, when the Secretary of Agriculture and Mrs. Arthur M. Hyde will be hosts, and then follows the dinner which the Secretary of Commerce and Mrs. Robert Patterson Lamont will give on May 5.

The Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Charles Francis Adams will give their dinner on April 14. The dinners planned by the Postmaster General and Mrs. Walter Brown and the Secretary of Labor and Mrs. William N. Doak have been indefinitely postponed owing to mourning.

Mrs. Benjamin Foulois, president of the District of Columbia branch of the Needlework Guild of America, will be at home tomorrow from 4 until 6 o'clock for the officers of the guild in honor of Mrs. Charles Evans Hughes, the honorary persident of the District of Columbia branch.

The former Secretary of State and Mrs. Frank B. Kellogg spent yesterday in Washington at the Mayflower and left in the afternoon for New York.

Col. and Mrs. Lorenzo B. Gasser have given up their apartment at 4514 Connecticut avenue and will be at the Chevy Chase Club until April 15, when they will leave Washington and will sail on May 5 for the Philippines, where Col. Gasser will be stationed.

Capt. and Mrs. James T. Menzie will entertain at dinner this evening.

Davisons Depart For Long Island.

Mrs. F. Trubee Davison, wife of Assistant Secretary of War Davison, accompanied by her young sons, F. Trubee, jr., Endicott, Daniel and Artemus, has gone to Peacock Point, the Locust Valley (Long Island) home of Mr. Davison's mother, Mrs. Henry Davison, to remain over the holidays. Mr. Davison will join them there for the Easter week-end.

Capt. Jacob Pearce, U. S. M. C., and Mrs. Pearce have returned from a visit with the former's mother, Mrs. Harry Pearce at her home at My Lady's Manor, Md.

Capt. Pearce has been transferred to Cuba and expects to leave some time this month for his new post. Mrs. Pearce and their family will join him later in the spring.

Chinese Flying Expert Guest Of Envoy Wu

Director of Bureau of Aviation Is on Tour of Country.

The Minister of China will entertain at a stag luncheon today when he will have twelve guests to meet the distinguished aviation expert from his country, Gen Whang Ting Hang, who is a guest at the Mayflower. Last night the Minister and Mme. Wu gave a dinner at the legation in honor of the general and his wife, Mme. Ting Hang, who has accompanied him on his American tour. Other guests included his aid, the members of the legation staff and of the Chinese educational mission.

The general, who is director of the bureau of aviation of the Chinese ministry of war, is accompanied by his aid, Capt. Wu Hje Shek. They have come to this country to study methods of aviation with a view to adaptation of certain phases to Chinese military aviation. Following their disembarkment at Seattle en route to the East, the Chinese officials inspected several fields near Seattle.

Miss Junia Culbertson, daughter of the United States Ambassador to Chile and Mrs. William S. Culbertson, has come from Bryn Mawr College to pass the spring vacation with her aunt, Mrs. Paul T. Culbertson, in Edgemoor.

At the close of this school term Miss Culbertson will leave about June 5 for South America. It is expected that Miss Helen Walker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Walker, will accompany her on the trip. Miss Walker and Miss Culbertson were debutantes of two seasons ago.

The ambassador is planning a visit to Washington in May or June and will probably accompany the girls to South America. Mrs. Culbertson, who had expected to be in Washington for April, nas delayed her visit indefinitely.

Lieut. Col. and Mrs. John A. Barry entertained at dinner last evening at the Army, Navy and Marine Corps Country Club for Miss Elizabeth Rankin, of Toledo, Ohio.

Mrs. Grace Lincoln Brosseau, past president general of the Daughters of the American Revolution, spent the week-end in Newport, R. I., as the guest of Maj. Randolph Coyle, U. S. M. C., and Mrs. Coyle. Mrs. Coyle is the daughter of the late Mrs. Rhett Goode, of Mobile, Ala., and Washington, D. C., former chaplain general of the D. A. R.

Mr. Marriner Departs in May For Paris Post

Popular Bachelor to Fill Counselor Position Till November.

One of the State Department's most popular bachelors, Mr. J. Theodore Marriner, chief of the Western European division, will leave Washington about the middle of May for Paris, where he will serve temporarily as counselor of the United States Embassy. The assignment will keep him in the French capital until November, and his plans after that are indefinite.

Mr. Marriner will serve in place of Mr. Norman Armour, who will start, shortly after the former's arrival in Europe, on a leave of absence from his post. As an expert on armament limitation, Mr. Marriner has been one of the most valued advisers to the Secretary of State, Mr. Stimson.

A great favorite here, he is also popular with the group at the American Embassy in Paris, where he will see such old friends as the Robert Pells, the Robert M. Scottens, and the Williamson Howells. Mr. Pell is secretary to the Ambassador, Mr. Walter Evans Edge; Mr. Scotten is first secretary of the embassy and Mr. Howell is also a secretary.

Lieut. Col. and Mrs. Taylor and Miss F. Muey were among the guests at the New Chamberlin who witnessed the President and his party returning from his Southern cruise when he landed at Old Point, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Loesch, of Chicago, accompanied by the latter's mother, Mrs. Stephen G. Browning, have returned to Washington from a three weeks' trip to Pasadena and have opened their apartment at the Mayflower.

DON'T let your wife see this or you'll spoil a wonderful chance to surprise and please her. And to save yourself some money at the same time!

It's about her charm . . . her health and attractiveness . . . and her comradeship with you.

These things are vital to both of you . . . and to your permanent happiness. Yet how often, when you get home, things seem out of sorts. She's tired and looks it. Or maybe you were going out together and she's in no mood for it. And to make matters worse supper is late again.

Washday is one of the chief causes of all this. Rough, red hands, tired back and aching muscles ruin any woman's charm. Even if she doesn't wash the clothes herself she has to worry with a washwoman—an upset household—embarrassing clotheslines. No wonder so many wives begin to age before their husbands! No wonder their healthy vitality slips away so soon. How can any woman be bright and attractive . . . and thoughtful . . . after months of such weary work. She can't . . . and you both pay the price! But you think you're saving money. So your false economy becomes a habit.

A Word to Husbands

Break it! Tell her tonight to give Manhattan a two week's trial. Think how pleased she'll be. No more "washday hangover" for her. No more wasted beauty care . . . undone by work and worry. And no more of that embarrassing "married to the washwoman" feeling for you.

Take our word for it that you'll save money. The reason is easy to see. Here at Manhattan we launder everything in soft net bags—which keep out the wear that wears out clothes. We can't prove that the first week . . . unless you visit us and see. But these net bags actually save you money by saving your clothes. Pure Palm Oil Soap plays its part too . . . and floods of soft, filtered water.

Every Manhattan Service gets this same thorough care . . . even rough dry. And every bundle comes back to you in 3 short days, instead of 4 or more.

If you believe in good investments let your wife phone Manhattan. We'll explain the service that best fits your home . . . and your budget. But show your sound judgment tonight and end her washday worries forever! You'll never regret it. Our number is Decatur 1120—and we'll be waiting for that call.

FRANCES M'DONALD

A Mother's Boy.

DEAR Frances McDonald—First, let me congratulate you on your most clever and intelligent column. I think it is marvelous, although I do not claim to be a judge of marvelous things.

I should appreciate it very much if you could help me just a little.

We are a family of five, one boy, two girls, mother and dad. A very affectionate family, and one that would do anything in this wide, wide world for each other. But this is my problem.

My brother, 25 years of age. A very intelligent and charming chap, if he would only use some of that charm, but tied to mother's apron strings. He is not a sissy, plays golf, tennis, &c., and really bosses the rest of the family, even mother and dad. He doesn't have any boy friends, not to say the least about girls. Stays at home every night, and if he does go to a show takes one of us girls, or mother or dad. I think it is mother's fault, she is the type of woman that must be the center of the family, and if she can't be she discovers some sort of ache or pain, that brings the family running, especially big brother. Don't think I am under-rating mother. Mrs. McDonald, she is a wonder woman, but——. I hate to know that other people shun my brother. And I feel mother is to blame.

I have introduced him to girls, and very charming ones too. He will kid with them at a party, or when they come to see me, but just two that I know of have ever interested him enough to talk to seriously. He never takes them out, but sometimes, I feel he would like, to, and I really feel sorry for him. I think he needs the companionship of some other women, beside the females in our family. He is human Mrs. McDonald, I think it is mother's fault, and I don't think it is right. Won't you please write something about it. Do not think that I am imagining things. I know he is considered "different" and it hurts.

Thank you Mrs. McDonald.

SISTER.

Yes, it is mother's fault. And although he is not now a "sissy," he will, as time goes on, lose his masculinity, develop abnormal interest in household matters and other feminine interests, and end by being a "case" for a psycho-analyst. A six-footer can be effeminate, and they often are. Undue "mother influence" does it.

There is nothing that you can do about it, child, except talk to your mother, or bring home from the public library a good book on the subject. You know there was a time when these men who were devoted to their mothers to the exclusion of the normal interests that every man should know, were considered superior, the salt of the earth. Their invariable unpopularity with other men was ascribed to the fact of their superiority. Now we know that men avoid them instinctively because of their loss of masculinity. Of course, such men are not virile types in the first place or they would not become sit-by-the-fires. They are the type that fear life, want safety, and feel security in mother's shadow. It is an instinct of infancy carried over into adult life. These men seldom marry. And that is a most fortunate circumstance. When such a man does marry it is a woman who can support the home, who resembles his mother, or in some way suggests security. These men have no personal courage, fear other men, and are furtive with women. Your brother's future is far from promising and your mother would do well to take cognizance of it. Why not show her this comment? I have changed your letter as you see—so that she will not recognize it. And any mother whose son evidences what you describe should do something drastic about it before it is too late.

Meanwhile continue to do your part. Fill the house with girls. Get one of your close friends to "vamp" him. You need not tell her why you want her to do this. Just tell her that she can not do it. That will be sufficient. A love affair now would change the whole current of his life. Without it, he will deteriorate into a human blur, a shadow personality, and end a recluse, conscious of his own plight, dreading contact with normal men. It is one of the penalties of parental ignorance, and as usual is paid not by the parent but by the child. Talk to your mother, by all means.

Jane Engert INTERPRETS the MODE

Decidedly Chinese in inspiration is this black and white brocaded evening gown with belt made of black feathers and blue buckled. The top is in a double tunic effect and the skirt is pleated black chiffon. (Courtesy of Suzanne Talbot, Paris.)

PARIS, March 31.—The shops that that specialize in knitted-wear are showing lovely things, fluffy, soft and deliciously feminine. In fact the name "sweater" or "jumper" no longer seems appropriate, for they are really knitted blouses.

There are a variety of new stitches that I call lace-like, because the open-work effect they produce makes one think of lace. Instead of a sweater being done in one stitch, these new models often have a yoke in w wide open stitch, and the main part of the bodice in a closer stitch and contrasting color.

One blouse I particularly remember was knitted in soft fuzzy angora, with a yoke and of white angora, and scarf collar that tied in a bow, done in a delicate lacey stitch. The short bodice (reaching a few inches below the waist only), was in a pale blue angora, knitted in a closer stitch. The sleeves were blue with a touch of white cuff at the wrist.

Knitted ruffles are used on these knitted blouses just as pleated ruffles would be used on a crepe de chine blouse; that is any way the designer thinks will be good. The knitted ruffle is especially attractive in the lighter wools, done in "spider-webb" stitches, for in the thicker wools it has a tendency to be heavy.

So you see how the word "blouse" applies to these new woollies, and as you already suspect, you may wear them with an informal morning or sport suit. And suppose you choose one in light weight wool to wear as a blouse with your traveling suit, you would arrive sure of your smart neatness, for knitted wear does not wrinkle.

• • • •

Another delightful use for these blouses will be for resort wear, since in recent years summer has become so disappointing as to warmth. I saw one costume at Jenny's that I think illustrative of this purpose. It had a skirt and a little bolero jacket in a light blue wool. The minute bolera revealed a white knitted blouse with round collar and cuffs in a wide-open lacey stitch. This was charming, and so practical besides.

• • • •

Wearing a gown like the gorgeous Suzanne Talbot model I sketched for you today, honestly now, what do you do for underwear? Well, if you're not at all clever you wear whatever you happen to know how to make or buy, and you look knobby under your clothes, and you feel uncomfortable. But if you are clever, you send a stamped self-addressed envelope to the Dare Department of The Washington Post for this week's illustrated leaflet, and either turn it over to your dressmaker or your maid or yourself make the clever tightly fitting bloomers which fit around the waist with almost no gathers at all—and have a bias seat.

• • • •

French Fashion.

• • • •

It was heavy in fact not heavy in effect, and very flattering—and even a bit mysterious. One could see the Far East in its every line, but completely modernized by its designer, Suzanne Talbot. And, sh-h-h-h-h—it's the kind of a dress I love to sketch for you, because it was black and white and brocaded and designed so beautifully to the pen. The underskirt is pleated black chiffon, the tunic effect double, and the belt, of all whimsical things, was made of black shiny feathers!

• • • •

The becoming evening models provide a most interesting subject for the weekly Dare fashion letter in next Sunday's Post.

Au revoir!

What Today Means to You

"ARIES."

IF April first is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 8:30 a. m. to 11 a. m., from 2 p. m. to 3:30 p. m. and from 7:45 p. m. to 9 p. m. The danger hours are from noon to 1:30 p. m. and from 5:30 p. m. to 7 p. m.

The astrological signs of April 1st denote exceptionally favorable conditions for all those interested in finances, and, whilst values may improve, losses, from unexpected causes, may be changed into profits. All social activities, too, will be crowned with success.

A child born on this April 1st will, and not without reason, have exalted ideas about what it can accomplish. It should not be thwarted in its ambitions, as, if permitted to follow its bent, a very successful and meritorious career can be anticipated for it.

You, if born on April 1st, are gentle and kind, but resolute and firm. Force is not your method, and by forbearance, diplomacy and tact, you achieve victory, whereas harshness and severity would only spell defeat. Of course, you are persistent, and never let go until you have won out.

Your mannerisms are extremely cordial, and your personality, although not of magnetic force, seeps in and leaves an indelible impression. In your tastes you are artistic, although you rarely lose sight of the practical side of things. You are a lover of sports—though not an active participant—and are well informed on all questions of a social or political character.

Your presence livens up any gathering, and your companionship is always eagerly sought. Deservedly popular, you yet are modest and never suffer from a swollen head. You get all the enjoyment you can out of life, and earnestly try to give pleasure to others. You are much attracted by the opposite sex, and your style will be temporarily cramped by one or more infatuations. These will run their race, and when you finally settle down to married life, your former experiences will teach you to steer a safe course, thereby ensuring domestic felicity.

Successful People Born April 1st.

3—Edward A. Sothern (Lord Dundreary), actor.

4—Hamilton Hamilton, artist.

Easter Breakfast.

Chilled grapefruit and oranges
Broiled Lamb Chops
Buttered new peas Creamed potatoes
Muffins Butter
Apricot conserve
Coffee

Chilled Grapefruit and Oranges.

(Serving eight).

2 cups diced grapefruit
2 cups diced oranges
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 cup water
6 tablespoons sugar

Mix and chill ingredients. Serve in glass cups and garnish with spring flowers.

Broiled Lamb Chops.

8 loin chops, cut ¾-inch thick
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon paprika
¼ teaspoon celery salt
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 tablespoon butter
1 tablespoon chopped parsley

Wipe off chops with damp cloth. Arrange in frying pan. Broil six inches below glowing fire. Turn and brown other sides. It will require about fifteen minutes to broil chops. Arrange on warm serving platter and sprinkle with seasonings and lemon juice. Dot with butter and sprinkle with parsley. Serve at once.

Muffins (16).

2 cups pastry flour
6 teaspoons baking powder
2-3 teaspoon salt.
2 egg yolks
1½ cups milk
½ cup sugar
4 tablespoons fat, melted.
2 egg whites, beaten.

Mix flour, baking powder and salt. Add yolks, milk, sugar and fat. Beat three minutes. Fold in egg whites. Half fill greased muffin pans and bake fifteen minutes in moderate oven. Serve warm.

Apricot Conserve.

1 pound dried apricots
4 cups water
2 cups diced pineapple
2 tablespoons lemon juice
4 tablespoons orange juice
4 cups sugar

Thoroughly wash apricots and add water and let soak overnight. In morning add pineapple and cook slowly 30 minutes. Add rest of ingredients and cook slowly, stirring frequently until conserve becomes "jelly-like." Pour into sterilized glasses and when cool, seal.

Another Easter Breakfast Menu.

Chilled grapefruit
Wheat cereal with date Cream
Egg omelet Broiled ham
Waffles and sirup.

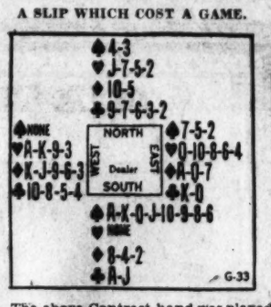
WORK ON BRIDGE

A SLIP WHICH COST A GAME.



The above Contract hand was played recently at the Barclay Contract Bridge Club in Philadelphia. South, with nine assured tricks at Spades made a preemptive four-Spade bid which neither West nor East felt justified in overcalling. They could have won twelve tricks in Hearts, but their strength was so divided that a bid of five Hearts by either seemed a dangerous venture.

The bidding at Auction might have been the same, but if South did not bid Spades high enough to preempt East and West undoubtedly would have bid Hearts and made a small slam.

Against the Spade contract West led the King of Hearts which South trumped, and Declarer realized that while he had nine tricks assured, there was not the remotest chance of a tenth unless North could ruff a Diamond. It was not probable that the adversaries would permit this. To execute the ruff, South would have to lead Diamonds three times and doubtless the adversaries would win the first two Diamond tricks and lead a trump after each to exhaust North. But it being his only chance South tried it, leading the Diamond Deuce to trick 2. West, fearing that South might be leading from Ace-Queen Deuce (in which case dummy's Ten would win), played the Jack second hand and won the trick.

West, not having a trump, forced South again with a Heart. South trumped and led another Diamond; and West not knowing that the Ace was not in the South hand, played small. East won and led a trump, but "the pardon came too late;" South won and led a third Diamond for dummy to ruff, and thus Declarer made his game.

THE CORRECT PLAY.

The reader probably has noted that on the first lead of Diamonds East should have overtaken West's Jack with the Queen and led a trump. He should have considered the possibility that West would hesitate to lead a trump up to the strong hand—even if he had a trump to lead—and it was vital that a trump should be led. Played in that way Declarer would be held to the nine tricks.

Indoor and Outdoor Gardens

By JANE LESLIE KIFT

APRIL IN YOUR GARDEN.

APRIL is the month to begin our garden operations in the open. Perhaps the first thing in order of its importance is the uncovering of our bulbs. We must not do this all at one time, but rather do it gradually, loosening the manure or litter one day, removing the top layer another day and the remainder the third day?

After our bulbs are uncovered we should in the same gradual way begin to remove the covering from our roses. By April 15 we should finish as far as possible the pruning of tender varieties and should have given all varieties a thorough spraying of Bordeaux mixture as a preventive.

About the 20th of the month we may set out new roses, giving them for a few days a slight protection of loose hay. These plants should be rather severely pruned. As a rule, toward the end of April, unless the season is very late, our roses are in leaf. At this time it is well to dust them with Massey dust, which you know is a powder made up of nine parts dusting sulphur and one part powdered lead arsenate. Some rosarians add powdered tobacco to the Massey dust and thus control the aphis as well as black spot or mildew.

If you have a cold frame, this will be a good time to sow some China asters.

April is the month, or at least one of the times, when it is well to add new specimens to our shrubbery borders or about the outskirts of our lawn. All newly planted trees or shrubs will be better for the application of a mulch. Use well-rotted manure or peat moss for this purpose.

April is a month when we are told we can with safety transplant evergreens, though this is one question on which even the best authorities fail to agree.

The early part of the month it is well to dig our beds or borders so they will be ready for planting the last of the month or the early part of May. Of course, we will have to redig the beds before planting, but the soil will be in much better condition for having been turned over the second time.

While we are taking care of our flower beds or borders we must not neglect our grass plots, which should be rolled some time this month.

April is the time to reseed any places we may notice where the grass has been winter-killed.

YOUR NAME — WHAT DOES IT MEAN?

By HARRY A. DEFARRARI, Ph. D.

THE family name "Henning" has come down to us from two quite different sources. It is frequently of English origin, and means "the hen-meadow," indicating an original place of residence near a field frequented by hens. It has also been traced back to a Dano-Norwegian and German name meaning "the descendant of Hagan." The Old Germanic personal name "Hagan" means "the hedge." A certain Henning de Bigefrid is mentioned in the Hundred Rolls. A man named Thomas Hennyng was sheriff of Norwich in 1498. The above-mentioned Germanic personal name is also the source of "Henning" as a modern German family name. In Germany it appears to be first recorded in the seventeenth century. This name has frequently become confused with "Hemming."

The family name "Hemming" (also spelled "Heming," is found in early English records, but it is ultimately of Germanic origin. It is based on the old personal name "Haman," and may be translated either "the garment" or "the son of the garment." These strange meanings are explained by the tendency of the old Germanic tribes to adopt names referring to their weapons, armor and all equipment which gave them protection in warfare. Some of the commonest German family names from this same source are "Hamme," "Hemme," "Hamm," "Hames" and "Hammes." Since the form "Hemming" is also frequently found in Germany, it is obvious that the immediate ancestry of the families which bear this name may be either English or German.

The family name "Hemingway" (also spelled "Hemmingway") is of English and Scandinavian origin. Its full significance is "he who lives near the road of Heming." The personal name "Heming" is of Germanic origin, and may be translated "the garment" or "the son of the garment."

Kotex means security as well as comfort in sanitary protection

Kotex absorbs quickly; it is adjustable; it may be worn on either side with equal protection.

SECURITY—that feeling of assurance, of being well-groomed—how much difference it makes to a woman. That is one of the great comforts of Kotex sanitary protection. It keeps one entirely free of self-consciousness. It means greater freedom to enjoy social activities as well as to carry on the day's work.

Highly absorbent

Kotex, in the first place, is so tremendously absorbent—by test, five times more so than the finest of surgical cotton. And the way it absorbs is important—"lateral absorption"—a process which makes the pad effective, not in just one area, but over the entire surface.

The long, delicate fibers of which Kotex is made serve to carry moisture swiftly away from one area, leaving the protective surface delicate and comfortable for hours.

Kotex, as you probably know, is made of Cellucotton (not cotton) absorbent wadding, which is laid layer upon layer . . . each individual tissue acting as a quick, complete absorbent in itself. This unusual absorbent stays soft even after hours of use. It does not pack into chafing hardness. It is adjustable.

Kotex may be worn on either side with the very same degree of protection, the same comfort. Kotex is treated to deodorize. And it is disposable, you know.

Kotex Company, Chicago.

IN HOSPITALS . . .

1 The Kotex absorbent is the identical material used by surgeons in 85% of the country's leading hospitals.
2 Kotex is soft . . . Not merely an apparent softness, that soon packs into chafing hardness. But a delicate, lasting softness.
3 Can be worn on either side with equal comfort. No embarrassment.
4 Disposable, instantly, completely.

CROSS-BREEDING AMONG HUMANS.

IT is not possible to say that cross-breeding races makes a new race that is either better or worse than the parent stocks. The difficulties of such a study are great, far greater than those of crosses in lower animals. Economic considerations, political equations, climatic conditions, religion, domestic affairs, temperament, customs, and many other elements are factors in the problems of crossing of human races.

In spite of all these difficulties a fair number of studies have been made and a few conclusions are possible. Probably the most scientific studies have been those made in Scandinavian countries and that relate to crossing of Lapps with Swedes and other Scandinavian peoples. Next in scientific rank are the studies made in Java of crosses between the Dutch and natives. Studies of crosses between whites and blacks have been made in North, Central and South America, and in Africa. Those made in South America are more valuable than those made in North America because of outside influences present in North America that create cross currents.

One of the conclusions arrived at by the studies taken collectively is that the different human strains are pretty closely related, because crossings between them do not result in loss of fertility. Contrary to some loosely held notions, mulattoes of all dilutions are just as fertile as either whites or blacks. If two animal strains are far removed from each other they can not cross or, if they do, their progeny are infertile. Not so with human strains.

Taking all qualities collectively, Davenport, who writes on this subject, thinks crossing between French Canadians and Indians resulted in a stock which is superior to either of the parent stocks. Another cross which has proved advantageous from the racial standpoint is that of Chinese and Hawaiians. On the other hand, certain crossings have not resulted in improvement. The crossing between whites and blacks belongs in this class. However, there is some inaccuracy which comes from too much generalization. Certain qualities may be improved in crossings where the sum total represents a loss, and vice versa.

TUBERCULOSIS GERMS.

W. W. writes: 1. In tuberculosis, if the patient uses handkerchiefs, boils them for 20 minutes in sal soda and washing powder and, when nearly dry, irons them, does that destroy any germs that may have been coughed into them. 2. Also, using a cuspidor having a solution of sal soda and cleansing same, using boiling water?

REPLY.

Yes to both questions.

CRAZY WITH THE ITCH.

Mrs. M. L. writes: 1. Please tell me what to do for welts that appear all over my body and drive me nearly crazy with the itch. It started about five years ago and is getting worse. 2. If a girl of 24 had a cancerous gland removed from her neck, can she live past 40? 3. Is it safe for her to have children? 4. Can a child be born with it? I have heard of such a case.

REPLY.

1. This is urticaria or nettlerash. You are exposed at times to some cause for this disorder. If you will find the cause and avoid it, cure follows without treatment. No treatment is satisfactory if the cause be allowed to continue. 2. She may. 3. Yes. 4. Congenital tumors, including malignant tumors, have been reported. There is no proof that they were inherited.

MOTHERS now learn value of MAGNESIA

Because it is so helpful in keeping babies and children healthy and happy every mother should learn all about Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

This harmless, almost tasteless preparation is most effective in relieving those symptoms of babies and children generally caused by souring food in the little digestive tract, such as sour-belching, frequent vomiting, feverishness, colic. As a mild laxative it acts gently, but certainly, to open the little bowels in constipation, colds, children's diseases.

A teaspoonful of Phillips Milk of Magnesia does the work of half a pint of lime water in neutralizing cow's milk for infant feeding and preventing hard curds. Its many uses for mother and child are fully explained in the interesting book "Useful Information." It will be sent you FREE. Write The Phillips Co., 170 Varick St., New York, N. Y.

In buying, be sure to get only genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. Doctors have prescribed it for over 50 years.

FEAST OF PASSOVER WILL BEGIN TONIGHT

Important Jewish Holiday to Be Marked by Church and Home Rites.

The Jewish Passover, or Feast of Emancipation, one of the most important holidays in the Hebrew calendar, will be ushered in tonight with special "Sedar" services in hundreds of Washington Jewish homes.

The Passover celebration will extend over a period of seven days, during which no leavened bread may be eaten by those of the faith.

During the period, the United Hebrew Relief Society has arranged to furnish Passover relief to Jewish families in need, Mrs. Charles Goldsmith, president of the society, announced. The relief will be in accordance with ritual needs of the Jews, she said. Morris Garfinkle will supervise the distribution.

The remote origin of the festival opening tonight may be traced to the days when Israel dwelt in Palestine. Since they were primarily an agricultural people, the return of spring was of special significance to them. They took the first fruits of their barley harvest and brought them to the Temple of Jerusalem, where they offered them in thanksgiving.

Celebrated Deliverance.

Great emphasis was laid in the festivals on deliverance of the children of Israel from the yoke of Egyptian bondage.

The celebration is one of three festivals of the Jewish calendar when in ancient times the Jews of Palestine would make pilgrimages to the Temple of Jerusalem. Throughout the ages it has been celebrated as a joyous occasion by the Jewish race, who thus keeps alive the vivid account given in the Book of Exodus.

Services will be held tonight at the Ohev Sholom Synagogue, Fifth and I streets northwest, beginning at 7 o'clock, and tomorrow there will be services from 8:30 a. m. until midday. The same order of services will be repeated Friday.

Rabbi J. T. Loeb will deliver a sermon at tomorrow's exercises on "Passover and Civilization," and Friday morning he will speak on "Israel's Power of Rejuvenescence."

Ceremonies to Be Held.

Tonight in all orthodox Jewish homes ceremonies in the form of "Seder" service will be held. They will be repeated tomorrow night. Rabbi Loeb will preside at a public "Seder" service on both Passover nights at the Jewish Community Center. The services will be under the auspices of the Jewish welfare board. Out-of-town guests and soldiers and sailors on furlough will attend.

The Brotherhood of the Washington Hebrew Congregation will hold a "Seder" celebration at 7 o'clock tonight at Harvey's. Sam H. Hirshfeld is in charge of reservations.

A children's Pessach festival, arranged by the Ladies' Auxiliary Society of the Ohev Sholom Congregation, will be given at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the synagogue. Mrs. Louis Bennett, Mrs. L. Savage, Mrs. Ida Kay and the Misses Celia and Theresa Blumenthal are on the committee in charge.

Man, Wife Starve Near Money Box

Pair Past 70 Is Discovered Dead at Residence in Baltimore.

Baltimore, Md., March 31 (A.P.).—Within reach of a strong box which contained several thousand dollars, William Moran, 71, and his wife, Ann, 70, were found dead today in their home of starvation and exposure.

The discovery was made by a patrolman at the request of neighbors who said they had not seen the couple since Saturday. In the strong box was found $500 in Liberty bonds. A bank book showing a balance of several thousand dollars, and deed to a number of properties in New York State. Coroner J. S. H. Potter gave the verdict of death from starvation and exposure.

SUBWAY SUGGESTED FOR AVENUE TRAFFIC

Utility Commission's Head Urges Underground Line to Handle Crowds.

The only practical substitution for street car service on Pennsylvania avenue between the Capitol and the Treasury Department is a subway, Maj. Gen. Mason M. Patrick, chairman of the Public Utilities Commission, stated yesterday in a letter addressed to Representative Fred Britten, of Illinois.

Replying to Representative Britten's suggestion that the appearance of the historic Avenue might be improved in keeping with the building program now under way, Gen. Patrick dismissed the proposal to substitute buses for street railways on the ground that it would be "entirely impractical."

Completion of the triangle development and the Municipal Center will require about 70 street cars, running both directions, during the fifteen-minute period of the morning rush, the commission chairman estimated, but 150 buses would be required to perform the same service.

"Assuming the eastbound riders would require no less than 100 buses, these would occupy a road length of some 5,000 feet," the letter states, "while the length of the Avenue from Sixth street to Fifteenth street is only about 4,000 feet."

The building of a subway under Pennsylvania avenue would be too costly for private enterprise to undertake, Gen. Patrick states. Asserting that such a subway probably would not need to exceed 3 miles, he adds as a "rough guess" that the project would cost about $4,000,000 a mile.

After pointing out that legislation would doubtless be necessary to solve this traffic problem, Gen. Patrick concludes with this final plea for broader powers for both the District Commissioners and the utilities body:

"Furthermore, the improvement of public transportation in the District of Columbia would be facilitated by legislation which would broaden the powers of the District Commissioners and of this commission, so that each body in its own sphere, or jointly, could deal with such matters and take final action thereon."

Purse Snatcher Gets $4.

Katherine Beach, 13 years old, of 316 S street northeast, had $4 snatched from her hand yesterday afternoon by a colored man while she was walking near 1800 Fourth street. The man escaped in a touring car.

EVENTS OF INTEREST IN SOCIETY

Trip to Paris Is Postponed By Hostesses

Mrs. Swanson, Mrs. Borah and Miss Washington May Go in May.

The departure for Paris of Mrs. Claude Swanson, Mrs. William E. Borah and Miss Anne Washington, who have been invited to represent the United States as hostesses at the International Colonial Overseas Exposition there this summer, has been postponed from April 15 to the latter part of May. However, Mr. Bascom Slemp, commissioner general of the American section, will sail as planned on the Leviathan on April 15.

The change in plans is due to a delay in the opening of the exposition which has been put off until early in June although the formal opening ceremones will take place as scheduled the first week in May. Mrs. Swanson has definitely decided to make the trip and will leave the United States the last of May and will be accompanied by Miss Washington, who had made plans to sail on the Leviathan with two "ladies of the Senate."

Whether Mrs. Borah will adhere to her original acceptance of the invitation extended to serve as one of the hostesses is not definitely decided. She may make a change in her plans and not go abroad this summer.

In the meantime Senator and Mrs. Borah will make a trip to their home in Boise, Idaho.

In the interim Senator and Mrs. Swanson plan to spend May in Virginia, visting the senator's old home and passing some time in Richmond. They will leave Washington the first of May for the Old Dominion. The senator's plans for the summer are indefinite, although it would be "pleasant," Mrs. Swanson declared, if he could snatch time to join her during her stay abroad.

A new angle may be incorporated within the exhibition in the American section if the request of the Department of State and Mr. Slemp to send the model of the George Washington Memorial Building is granted. The idea of officials would be to display the model with the replica of Mount Vernon, which is now about completed. Mrs. Henry F. Elmock, president of the George Washington Memorial Association, is in receipt of the request, and with the others probably would agree that "it would be interesting to display American skill in architecture" at the exposition.

Miss Eliza Mitchell is chairman of the debutantes' committee for the Princeton Glee Club concert and dance to be given on Tuesday, April 7, at the Mayflower. Others on this committee are Miss Helen Lee Washington, Miss Betty West, Miss Virginia Glazebrook, Miss Jocelyn Hibberd, Miss Anne Perin, Miss Margo Wyeth, Miss Elizabeth Haines, Miss Kathleen Knox and Miss Sylvia Meredith.

The box holders for the concert are Mrs. Patrick J. Hurley, Mrs. Arthur M. Hyde, Mrs. Benjamin D. Riegel, Mrs. W. A. Jones, Mrs. James Edmonston, Mrs. Paul Forrest Myers, Mrs. Guy O. Dove, Mrs. Warren J. Haines, Mrs. Jacob Leander Loose and Mrs. John D. Kirkpatrick.

Will Give Dinners Before Polo Ball.

Maj. and Mrs. George Patton and Mrs. George Mesta are among those who will entertain at dinner preceding the Polo Ball on April 6, at the Mayflower. Vice President Curtis heads the list of box holders for the ball.

The Assistant Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Ernest Lee Jahncke will entertain a party of guests in their box at the Polo Ball, at the Mayflower Hotel, Easter Monday night. Mrs. Jahncke's arrival here is indefinite but will not be before Easter.

In a neighboring box, the Assistant Secretary of the Navy for Aeronautics and Mrs. David S. Ingalls will also entertain with a box party.

Both of the Assistant Secretaries of the Navy are ardent horse lovers. Mr. Ingalls, since his arrival in Washington, has found time, occasionally, to make one of the four on the local teams which play triweekly on the Potomac Park fields. At home in Cleveland, Mr. Ingalls is a member of the famous Chagrin Valley Polo Club and is rated one of its best players.

Miss Walker Is Married to Mr. E. Meade

Wedding to Washington Man Takes Place in Charlottesville.

The marriage of Mr. Everard Meade, of Washington, and Miss Virginia Walker, of Charlottesville, took place Monday evening at 7 o'clock at the home of the bride, on University Circle, Charlottesville.

The bride was given in marriage by Dr. James Lewis Bibb, of Chattanooga, Tenn. The brideamaids were Miss Elizabeth Lewis and Miss Humpty Jones. A wedding supper was served after the ceremony.

Mrs. Meade is the daughter of Mrs. A. E. Walker and the late Albert Walker, and a granddaughter of the late R. P. Valentine. She attended Mary Baldwin Seminary, Staunton, and completed her course of study at the University of Virginia.

Mr. Meade is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Meade, of Washington, and is a descendant of Bishop Meade, of the Protestant Episcopal Church. He is a member of the Kappa Alpha Fraternity at the University of Virginia and is an outstanding member of the Virginia Players, University dramatic club.

The out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Meade and Miss Meads, of Washington; Dr. James Lewis Bibb, of Chattanooga, Tenn.; Mrs. Abbot Mills, of Washington; Mr. Clarence Walker, of South Orange, N. J.; Miss Elizabeth Valentine, of Baltimore; Miss Martha Lanier and Kathleen Lanier, of Petersburg, Va., and Miss Margery Kirtlet, of Baltimore, Md.

Mr. and Mrs. Meade will be at home after Sunday at the Raleigh Court Apartments, at the University.

Mrs. William Franklin Portlock, of Norfolk, Va., will entertain a party at dinner this evening at the Shoreham Hotel in compliment to Miss Margaret R. Trainham, whose marriage to Mr. Charles Willard Carey will take place on Saturday.

The guests will include Miss Trainham's sister, Mrs. William T. Briggs, of Little Rock, Ark.; Mrs. Ralph K. Ergood, Mrs. H. L. Main, Miss Lucile Jones, Mrs. Albert Reed and Miss Elizabeth Chamblin.

Mrs. John Hedrick Olcott entertained at a bridge luncheon at the Belle Haven Country Club in Alexandria Saturday afternoon, in honor of Miss Elizabeth Burgess Caldwell, whose marriage to Mr. Arthur Evarts Kimberly will take place April 6.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Kuhn and their son, Mr. George W. Kuhn, jr., of Indianapolis, are spending the Easter holidays at Wardman Park Hotel.

Senator N. A. Belcourt and Miss Belcourt, of Ottawa, Canada, are spending a few days at the Willard.

Engagement Is Announced In Warrenton

Mary P. Chamberlain to Wed W. C. Roberson, of New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Holmes Chamberlain, of Warrenton, Va., announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Mary Paxton Chamberlain, to Mr. William Carter Roberson, son of Mr. William Cleveland Roberson and the late Mrs. Minnie Carter Roberson, of New York.

Miss Chamberlain attended the Warrenton Country School and is a member of the Warrenton and Albemarle Hunt Clubs. She is a sister of Mrs. Foxhall P. Keene Taylor, of New York.

Mr. Roberson attended Phillips Andover Academy and was a member of the class of '22 at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He has been living in New York for several years, where his sister, Mrs. Heyward Cutting, also makes her home.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Wickersham entertained last evening at the Shoreham Hotel.

Mrs. Child Married To Mr. Pavenstedt.

The marriage of Mrs. Maude Parker Child, the former wife of Mr. Richard Washburn Child, quondam United States Ambassador to Italy, to Mr. Edmund William Pavenstedt took place Monday afternoon in New York, at the Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church, with the Rev. Dr. George A. Buttrick officiating.

Only close relatives and a few intimate friends were present at the ceremony and the reception which was given by Miss Sara Jay Parker, aunt of the bride, afterward at the Colony Club.

Mr. Roger Tuckerman was best man for Mr. Pavenstedt.

Mr. Pavenstedt and his bride sailed Monday night on the Europa for a two months' visit to Europe. On their return, they will reside in New York at 25 East End avenue.

Mrs. Pavenstedt, who writes under the name of Maude Parker, is a granddaughter of the late Commodore Foxhall Parker 2d, former Commandant of the United States Naval Academy. She was granted a divorce from Mr. Child in Paris, in 1926.

Mrs. E. R. Bossange and two sons, E. R. Bossange, jr., and Hector Bossange, have arrived at the Powhatan to spend Easter from their home, Riverdale-on-Hudson, N. Y.

Mrs. J. D. Warfield is in New York, where she is staying at the Ambassador Hotel.

Telephone Service Will Be Improved

Nearby Maryland, Virginia Promised Unlimited Use Shortly.

A special Metropolitan area service rate for patrons living in nearby Maryland and Virginia, which will give them unlimited service in Washington, is being planned by the Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co., members of the North Woodside Citizens Association were told last night by representatives of the company.

Telephone engineers are making a survey of the area now in an effort to work out a plan whereby residents of the section surrounding Washington in Maryland and Virginia will be given unlimited service in Washington at a slightly higher rate than the city residents pay. It will be necessary to charge more because of the cost of the many miles of wire and service in the area without density of population, it was said.

Charles C. Clagett and Mr. Little represented the telephone company at the meeting and were made targets for questions regarding the service. The meeting was held in the Parish Hall of Grace Episcopal Church. Frank A. Lutes, president, presided.

ANOTHER CRISIS.

TWENTY-FIVE per cent of the Grand National Sweepstakes will go to hospitals, but even then they won't be well enough equipped to receive all the people injured in arguments over the division of the winning awards.

Westinghouse Electric reduced its dividend the other day. Possibly due to a "short" somewhere.

Clovers Beat United Five By 31-25

Saks Beats Wallace; Boys Club Takes 130-Pound Title.

SCORING one of the biggest upsets ever to occur in the history of The Washington Post's A. A. U. tournament, the Clovers last night forged into the final round of the unlimited division by defeating the United Typewriter Uniteds, 31 to 25, in a game which brought 1,000 fans to their feet cheering the beautiful brand of basket ball put up by the winning team.

Entering the game with the opinion circulating through the gallery that the highly touted Typos had picked a set-up in the Clovers, those worthies promptly proceeded to change the set-up atmosphere to upset. It was so soon seen that they were holding their own with the Typos, knotting the scores in the first half at 2—2, 4—0 and 9—9, and finally going minutely ahead at the half, 15—14, by reason of Aman's splendid snowbird just before the gun.

The Typos came out on the floor at the start of the second half as though they were going to sweep their foes off the floor, but the most extraordinary state of affairs in the current tournament came to pass as the Clover guards hung so desperately about the literal necks of the high-scoring Typos that they could not score a point for 10 long minutes.

By that time the Clovers were out on the longer end of a 27-14 score and easily coasted in to victory.

Boys Club Overwhelms University Shop.

The night of upsets was foreshadowed in the very first game of the evening when the Boys Club Optimists went into the final round of the 115-pound class with a 43-12 victory over their arch rivals, the University Shop tossers. The Haberdashers had many supporters in the record audience, who believed at the start that they would win.

But once the game was under way and the accurate passing and shooting machinery of the Optimist Team had begun to function there was little doubt in any one's mind that they were the best team on the floor.

The score at the half stood 14-1, in favor of the winners, Upright's foul toss being the lone tally for the University Shop Team. The eventual losers did not score a field goal until but five minutes remained of the game, and then Bregnan came through with a long shot to make the score 23-3.

Most of the credit lies with the able guarding of the Optimist Club, particularly the work of Bucholtz, Edelin, Warring and DeGeorge. Billings' shooting showed the way to the high scorers.

Optimists Win Title in Easy Fashion.

The Boys Club Optimists won the 130-pound championship in a 34-14 upset victory over the Jewish Community Center, to become the second team playing under the colors of the Boys Club to capture a title, the Optimist 100 pounders have gained their section's laurels last week.

The final outcome of the game was not so much an upset as was the margin by which the J. C. C. was beaten. The Jewish team, boasting of several of the crack Business High School Team players were completely bewildered by the pace the Optimists set at the start and the pace they maintained throughout.

After the first half had passed, during which nothing could stop the shooting of Nolan, Courtney and Gallagher, nor the guarding of Fitzgerald, Bayliss and Donohue, the score stood 19-3 in favor of the eventual winners. From there they simply coasted in.

Thistle Ann, 33-1, Wins Stake

Portam Triumphs in Opener; Whitney Stable Scores.

By J. B. SNODGRASS.

GEORGE COLLINS' Thistle Ann was an easy winner of the $5,000 added Inaugural Handicap, over the 7-furlong route, which featured the Bowie card yesterday, paying the longest price so far recorded at the meeting. The favorite, Morsel, was second, and the well backed Protractor third. Pennant Lass, tiring in the stretch, fell back to fourth after racing forwardly. Fifteen horses started.

Thistle Ann, daughter of Sir John Johnson—Even Money, paid $67.80 for a $2 mutuel ticket. She won by a length, and her time was the best of the meeting, 1:26, showing the great overnight improvement in the track. The weather, too, was more springlike, but became cooler late in the day. The crowd was larger than opening day.

Berrido Sets Pace to Eighth Pole.

Barrido, a derby horse, cut out the pace to the eighth, when he tired suddenly. Pennant Lass was close up most of the way. Morsel broke forwardly, but dropped back to seventh and gradually gained ground, but Thistle Ann, well up throughout, took command in the lower stretch, and was drawing away from Morsel at the end. Morsel beat Protractor by only a nose. J. Remillard, a New Orleans boy, had the mount on the lightly weighted Thistle Ann—she carried 107 against 120 for Morsel—and his ride was perfect.

The winner's share of the stake was $3,580. She was marked up at 30 to 1 on the approximate board. She was the longest priced of any in the race except Pegg's Pride.

Portam Comes Again to Win Opener.

Charles Eisenhardt's Portam, by The Porter—Amaryllis, with J. McTaggart, one of the best riders of juveniles, in the saddle, won the first race, for maiden 2-year-olds. The Palmwood Stable's Golden Spur was second, and William Zeigler, jr.'s Lead Off third. Glen Riddle Stable's Man o' War colt, Arms, was fourth.

Portam led all the way except when he ran out slightly at the far turn, and Arms went to the front, but McTaggart never gave up, and came again with a rush of speed and distanced Golden Spur by a length. A length separated the second and third. The winner was $11.60. Time, 0:48 2-5. Golden Spur was $31.60 to place. C. V. Whitney's Wingover was favorite.

Gerard Draws Away in Second Race.

C. M. Kelly's Gerard was the surprise winner of the second race when he took the track at the top of the stretch and drew away, with Eddie Watters riding. The two favorites finished second and third, Prometheus beating Hacky H. for place by a slight margin.

Elizabeth Bolla set the early pace, pursued by Everytime. At the far turn Hacky H. got in front, with Gerard close up, and in the stretch Gerard took complete command. Prometheus forged his way in front of Hacky H., finishing fast. Time, 1:13, 6 furlongs. The winner paid $14.

Smear Scores First Whitney Victory.

C. V. Whitney's first victory of the meeting came in the Promenade Purse, third race, when Smear, under a strong finish by A. Robertson, nailed General A., the favorite, in the stretch and won by a head. General A. was second, and Gigantic third, five lengths back of the leader. The winner paid $6.60.

Uncle Sam led to the first turn, when General A. took the lead, and appeared, when at the eighth pole, to have the victory won, but Smear kept cutting the distance between him and the leader and finally in the last strides landed the purse. Fred Hopkins saddled the winner. The time was 1:06 4-5.

Sylvester Labrot's filly, Rocket Glare, made good in the fifth race, winning by a half length from Thistle Fyrn. Chip was third. The winner paid $6. Under a good ride by Snider, Rocket Glare followed the pace set by Thistle Fyrn to the back stretch, where she moved up and took the lead, and displayed good speed while rated in front, and saved ground.

Shark made it a double for George Collins, who won the feature with Thistle Ann, and Jockey Remillard, a good, young rider, also scored a double, by winning the sixth race by a nose from Mary-Dale. Nealon Kay was third. The winner paid $16.60. Shark was never far away from the pace set by Wrench. Mary Dale closed a big gap.

The seventh race went to Griff W., from the L. M. Martin Barn, with R. Watson up. This was another close finish, the margin being a head from Silver Scepter, also well backed. Luck Piece was third. The winner paid $10.60. The winner made a determined stretch run.

The Moose baseball team is in need of players. Anyone interested communicate with Manager Horn at National 6600, branch 14, after 5 p. m. A meeting of the team will be held on Friday at 1414 I street northwest at 8 p. m. The Moose team opens its season Sunday, tackling the Bethesda team on the North Elipse diamond at 11 a. m.

NOTRE DAME DAZED BY DEATH

Hundreds Turn Away Silently on Verification of Tragedy.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., March 31 (A.P.).—Notre Dame and Southbend stood dazed and benumbed tonight—still scarcely abble to realize that tragic death has taken Knute Rockne from them.

Student body, school officials, priests, professors and townsfolk—from city officials to newsboys on the streets, whispered over and over to each other the same thing: "It isn't possible." Flags were ordered lowered to half staff by Mayor W. R. Hinkle to remain so until after the funeral Saturday morning.

First reports of the tragedy were received in South Bend at noon, but they were unverified and no one was willing to believe them. By 12:30 p. m. the Notre Dame campus was filled with anxious but still hopeful friends of "Rock."

Hundreds Turn Away Silently at News.

At 1:30 when verification came hundreds turned away silently and went to Sacred Heart Church, where they remained all afternoon. No one could speak; no one could realize that tragedy had snatched Rockne from Notre Dame.

The most touchingly sorrowful scene occurred in the athletic association office where Rockne made his headquarters.

Gathered in the small room where members of the coaching staff, players, student managers and office employes, who had been associated with Rockne for years. Like every one else, they at first refused to believe the first meager reports that came in. Herbert Jones, assistant business manager of athletics, answered all telephone calls; the others sat or stood silent with heads bowed.

After what seemed an eternity of waiting a messenger called Jones to the office of Father O'Donnell.

Only 12 Rockne Teams Defeated in 13 Seasons

(Associated Press.)

In thirteen years as head football coach at the University of Notre Dame, Knute Rockne led only twelve defeated teams from the field.

In only two years under Rockne did the Irish suffer more than one defeat. Their poorest season was that of 1928, when they were beaten four times.

Notre Dame's complete record for the 13 years of the Rockne regime shows 105 victories, 12 defeats and 5 ties. In compiling this record the Irish scored 2,847 points to opponents' 667. Five Rockne elevens were unbeaten, those of 1919, 1920, 1924, 1929 and 1930.

The Rockne record:

High Spots of Rockne's Career

1888—Born in Voss, Norway.

1911—Borrowed $45 from friends and enrolled at Notre Dame just so he could be with his first two "pals."

1911-1913—Starred as end on Notre Dame's football teams. Also starred in track and pole vaulting.

1919-1920—First gained attention in football world by leading Notre Dame's team through two years without defeat, scoring 626 points in 18 games to opponents' 68.

1924—Gave to the football world what was regarded as the greatest football machine of gridiron history—a team led by the famous "four horsemen." Team captured ten straight games.

1928—Rockne and Notre Dame experienced their poorest football season since Rockne became coach, winning five and losing four games.

1929—Forced to bed for several months by leg infection, but gained greater fame as team ripped through to victory over ten opponents.

1930—Came back with "Notre Dame's greatest team," a team which capped its great undefeated march by astounding the football world by crushing Southern California.

1931—Became superintendent in charge of sales for the Studebaker Corporation and set out on trips, which finally resulted in his death yesterday in an airplane crash.

Rockne Found Death in Air—Where Teams Found Victory

CHICAGO, March 31 (A.P.).—Knute Rockne's greatest fame on the football field was gained in the air—via the forward pass.

By a peculiar twist of fate, he died in the air.

Air played an important part in the life and death of the great football coach, as it was his adaptation of the forward pass that brought destruction to the gridiron hopes of many teams throughout the country. His teams passed their way to sensational successes.

With Gus Dorai, now football coach at the University of Detroit, Rockne developed to perfection the forward pass that enabled Notre Dame, in later years, to wreck all opposition.

Worked as Waiter at Resort.

Rockne and Dorais, both members of Notre Dame's Team in 1913, spent the summer working at a resort in Cedar Point, Ohio. Knute was a waiter; Dorais a general handy-man around the place. One of their choicest possessions was a football. During spare moments they worked on the forward pass, Dorais chasing Rockne down the sand for his long heaves.

The next year the Army and the East was dazzled by this combination of Dorais and Rockne, who forward-passed the Soldiers dizzy and caused the critics to write about the strange combination that came out of the West to introduce baseball into football.

Father Carriage Maker, Emigrant From Norway.

Rockne grew up in Chicago, coming from Norway when he was 5 years old. In 1893 Rock's father, who was a carriage-maker, came to Chicago to exhibit one of his carriages in the World's Fair. He liked the city so well that he sent for his family.

In speaking of his entry into America, Rockne was accustomed to say: "My equipment in the new world was a Norwegian vocabulary, a fervent memory of home cooking, skiing and skating in the Voss Mountains."

Rockne was born in Voss, Norway, on March 4, 1888. When his parents came to Chicago, they lived in the Logan Square district of the West Side. Rockne attended grade school, and when one of the professors thought the school needed a football team, Knute was placed at end because he could run faster than anyone in that section.

When Rockne entered high school, he starred on the track team as a half-miler and a pole-vaulter, and forgot everything he knew about

Greatest Influx of Letters Marks End of Post's Baseball Contest

COINCIDENT with a meeting between the "Baseball Editor" and Judge Robert E. Mattingly, outlining preliminary plans for the picking of the winner of The Washington Post's box seat contest, came the greatest single day's influx of letters yesterday, as the predictions of the fans poured in, with only a few hours to spare before the official close of the contest last night at midnight.

Judge Mattingly, known far and wide as a keen follower of the Washington Baseball Club, is looking forward keenly to the scanning of the letters the fans have sent in to become applicants for the six box seats The Post offered to the writer of the best 250-word opinion on the prospects of the Nats this year. Judge Mattingly is in good shape for the test—particularly those letters in which the fans resorted to poetry—since he just returned from a two-month vacation in Cuba and Florida.

Judge Mattingly has requested that the names of the participants be eradicated from the letters in order that the personalities of the writers shall not enter into the contest and in order that each letter may stand upon its own content.

Aided by Shirley L. Povich, sports editor of The Post, Judge Mattingly will render a verdict on the all-absorbing topic in Friday morning's Post. It should be quite a day for the winner of those six box seats.

COACHES PAY TRIBUTE TO ROCKNE

Many Expressions of Sorrow and Praise Follow Death.

(Associated Press.)

JOHN M. CATES, director of athletics, Yale—He occupied a unique position. His loss will be a severe one to the world of sports.

CHICK MEEHAN, N. Y. U. coach and president, Football Coaches Association—Football will never know another like him. Knute Rockne was the finest character and the greatest leader football ever knew.

FRANK CAVANAUGH, Fordham coach—Mrs. Rockne and her children have lost a fond father and husband and football has lost its greatest leader.

Maj. RALPH I. SASSE, Army coach—The most colorful figure of all football history has made his last touchdown.

BILL ALEXANDER, Georgia Tech coach—Rockne was above all else a sportsman in the truest sense of the word. His life is an example that present-day youth would do well to model.

HARRY MEHRE, Georgia coach—Loss to football in general from the death of Knute Rockne is great. But the loss is far greater to anyone who ever played under him.

HARRY STUHLDREHER, Villanova coach—Football in particular and athletics in general have lost one of the greatest educators and manbuilders ever known in the history of sports. We who played under "Rock" can appreciate his personality and ability far more than anyone else.

WILLIAM W. ROPER, former Princeton coach—Football has lost one of its most colorful personalities. Hhe was an outstanding man and as a coach he had no superior.

HOWARD J. SAVAGE, Carnegie Foundation—Mr. Rockne's sudden death removes from th field of American sports one of its most prominent figures. It is not easy to see how his place can be filled.

LOU LITTLE, Columbia coach—He

Coaches Learn of Death On Way to Join Rockne

Glendale, Calif., March 31 (A.P.). Two great men of football—Navy Bill Ingram, coach of California, and Glenn "Pop" Warner, veteran mentor of Stanford—stepped smiling from an air transport plane here today. They were beaming in the hopes of a reunion tonight with the greatest of them all—their friend, Knute Rockne. They had flown from San Francisco.

Smiles froze into pained set features and color left their cheeks when they were greeted with a few words from an Associated Press staff man.

"Knute can't be dead. I don't believe it," cried Navy Bill. Tears welled into the drawn eyes of old "Pop" Warner. "He was the greatest figure in football today," said Pop, as his voice trembled. Then words failed the Stanford veteran. "The best friend I ever had," said Navy Bill, who could not talk for ten minutes after his first outburst.

It was then held up 45 minutes by delayed mails.

The plane was in radio communication with the Kansas City airport until it sighted Cassoday, Kans., southwest of Bazaar. It asked for weather conditions at Wichita. Then communication was interrupted. Cassoday was approximately the scene of the crash.

Ranch Hands Saw Crash.

Clarence McCracken and C. Carpenter, ranch hands, saw the big ship rocket out of a fog bank and spin to earth.

Describing the tragedy, McCracken said he and Carpenter heard the plane above the clouds and glanced upward from their cattle feeding. A moment later the plane nosed through the clouds, fell into a spin and came roaring earthward. A wing tore away, Carpenter said, and fluttered to earth a quarter of a mile from the wreckage some moments late.

Dr. Jacob Hinden, coroner, said four of the bodies were thrown clear of the plane. None, he said, were burned.

The plane hit the soft earth half a mile from the ranch hands, one of the three motors burying itself.

The eight bodies, so mutilated that identification was difficult, were taken to Cottonwood Falls.

Football Equipment Found.

In the wreckage, in addition to the 63 pounds and 6 ounces of mail carried by the plane, was found a quantity of football equipment. No express had been carried and it was assumed by air line officials that it had been in the baggage of Rockne or of Hooper, a sporting goods salesman.

Spencer Goldthwaite, 25, was an advertising man flying to Pasadena to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Goldthwaite.

W. B. Miller was an assistant superintendent of sales promotion of the Aetna Life Insurance Co.

C. A. Robrecht was a produce merchant of Wheeling, W. Va., bound for Amarillo, Tex.

Pilot Fry was a veteran flier with World War experience and had been employed by the Transport Co. since 1929. Mathias had been with the company since 1928. Both lived in Los Angeles and were of the same age, 31.

Mrs. Rockne Shows Bravery.

Coral Gables, Fla., March 31 (A.P.). Shocked by news of the death of her husband in an airplane accident, Mrs. Knute Rockne bravely helped members of her household here pack for their departure for South Bend tonight.

She was with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas O'Neil, of Akron, Ohio, old friends of the family, on a shopping tour today when a filling station attendant called Mr. O'Neil aside and told him of the accident.

Mr. O'Neil immediately took Mrs. Rockne to his Miami Beach home and summoned the Rev. Father David Barry, of Miami Beach, and they informed Mrs. Rockne of her husband's death. Mrs. Rockne at first refused to believe it, but when she was convinced, asked to be taken home in order to prepare for her trip North.

Mr. O'Neil planned to accompany her with her daughter, Mary Jean, 10, her son, Jackie, 5, and a maid. She was expected to reach Chicago at 2:35 Thursday afternoon on her way to South Bend.

Mrs. Rockne said she had planned to leave her winter residence here tomorrow by automobile for South Bend, where she was to meet her husband next Monday. She said she received a telegram from him today saying he had left Chicago for the Pacific Coast and would return shortly.

Robrecht Hurrying to Daughter.

Wheeling, W. Va., March 31 (A.P.). The serious illness of a daughter in Amarillo, Tex., prompted Charles A. Robrecht, 65, Wheeling, W. Va., to board the plane in which he and seven others were killed today near Bazaar, Kans.

Mr. Robrecht, president of the C. A. Robrecht Produce Co., of Wheeling, has a son, C. A. Robrecht, jr., who is a graduate of Notre Dame University and a personal friend of Knute Rockne, Notre Dame football coach, who was among those killed in the crash. The son now resides at Elizabeth, N. J.

The ill daughter, Teresa Robrecht, is in Amarillo as the guest of her sister, Mrs. George Herman. Another daughter, Margaret, lives in Wheeling.

The senior Robrecht was president of the West Virginia Produce Dealers Exchange and a member of the Pittsburgh Exchange.

Other survivors include two brothers, John, of Pittsburgh, and Fred, of Wheeling, and five sisters, all of Wheeling.

Kansas City, Mo., March 31 (A.P.). Leonard Jurdon, aviation inspector for the Department of Commerce, left this afternoon for Bazaar, Kans., to investigate the crash of the Transcontinental & Western Air, Inc., air liner which today cost the life of Knute Rockne and seven others.

Officials of the company said they had received favorable weather reports before the ill-fated plane began its trip.

NEW YORK, March 31 (A.P.).—The death of Knute Rockne, striking the sports world in general and the football ranks in particular like a thunderbolt, came as the famous coach's career was at its very peak.

Only just passed his forty-third birthday, the wizard of Notre Dame had sent his last two football teams through unbeaten seasons to national championships, climaxed by the sensational victory of his 1930 eleven over Southern California at Los Angeles last December.

His genius was at its height, his system of gridiron teaching the most widespread in the country, and just this spring adopted almost in toto at Yale, and his fame as far-flung in the great college sport as was that of Babe Ruth in baseball, Bobby Jones in golf or Bill Tilden in tennis.

Laughed at Team's Invincibility.

Yet only a few weeks ago, Rockne, in a radio interview with the sports editor of the Associated Press at Miami, Fla., launched at the invincibility of Notre Dame football teams and remarked:

"We will be lucky if we do not get trimmed three or four times this season."

He went to Miami for a rest, looking to be in pink of health, despite a strenuous country-wide tour in which he concentrated on giving "pep talks" to the salesmen of the Studebaker Corporation, with which "Rock" was connected as a promotion manager.

Rockne had hopped from Atlanta, via Jacksonville, to Miami by airplane to get as much time for rest as possible.

"What's the use of wasting time on trains and automobiles?" he grinned. "This is a fast day and age. I've got to get around to do things and reach places.

In Constant Demand as Speaker.

Rockne's career, especially in the last half dozen years, has been meteoric, in constant demand as an after-dinner speaker, as a radio talker, as a syndicate and magazine writer, as an adviser to colleges seeking the establishment of his football methods, Rockne's activities outside of Notre Dame were of amazing proportions.

"I would rather have Rockne for a friend than anyone else in the business," a football coach once said. "He is big-hearted and generous to the point where he overtaxes himself."

It was two years ago that a leg infection, aggravated by his insistence upon keeping active, forced Rockne to his bed. He was on the sidelines for less than half the games during the 1929 season but his team, under the guidance of assistants, had an undefeated season—"Fighting for Rock."

Rockne always insisted there was nothing mysterious about his so-called "system" and pointed to the success of so many of his star pupils, scores of whom have important coaching job all over the country.

"Teach 'em the right way to do things and then practice and practice some more," he once remarked.

Personality Was Aid to Success.

Rockne's success at Notre Dame was founded on this, but no small part of it was due to his own personality and ability to inspire its players. His dressing room talks, either before big games or between the halves, were classics, although "Rock" himself often laughed at this emotional stuff.

Of his own undergraduate days at Notre Dame, he told of the remark of a fellow player, one day in the dressing room after a particularly fiery talk from a coach. Turning to Rockne, the player, somewhat bored, remarked:

"Well, he wasn't so good today. Was he?"

Rockne's wit was as famous, after dinners or on the air, as his football tactics. He always mixed humor with his advice and teachings, on as well as off the field.

Pioneer in Use of Forward Pass.

He was a pioneer in the rapid development of the forward pass, too! As an undergraduate at Notre Dame, playing end, Rockne paired with Gus Dorais, now coach at the University in Detroit, in making much of the aerial game.

Rockne set the pace in many modern developments on the gridiron, tending to make the game more colorful, spectacular and interesting to the spectator.

"People don't want to see a tug of war out there," he said. "They want action and entertainment. The open game gives 'em a better show and it is here to stick."

TONEY PRINCESS FAVORED IN LENETA LANE PURSE

Dorwood Filly Choice Over St. Agnes

Bill Nora Stands Out in Second Race for 2-Year-Olds.

By J. B. SNODGRASS.

THE Leneta Lane purse for 3-year-old fillies has been restored to the Bowie program, and features the card today. This attracted a field of nine, and most of the candidates have speed above the ordinary race of this kind. It is five and a half furlongs.

The Dorwood Stable's TONEY PRINCESS, which won her last start at Bowie last November, again meets ST. AGNES, then from the Jeffords stable but now owned by Otto Torrell. In the race last November she beat ST. AGNES a half length, and conceded nine pounds. ST. AGNES raced during the winter at Miami, and beat Noajoyce in her last start at St. Johns. But the Dorwood filly has been conditioned for this race in Maryland, and is conceding only three pounds, and she is selected to beat ST. AGNES, although it looks like a close race. REPROOF is probably best of the others, but Morheart had a successful campaign at Agua Caliente, and may figure more prominently than the rating here would indicate. Those mentioned outclass the others.

FIRST RACE—YELLOW FLAG looks best in the first race. This Glen Riddle filly is ready, as the other horses of this popular stable seem to be. The stable has not raced its horses this winter, but on its private track at Berlin, Md., the horses have been made ready. The mile training track there is the fastest in Maryland, and the horses have had all the benefit of racing. YELLOW FLAG by American Flag, was second in two of her three starts last year. ROYAL GUINEA is believed to be the contender. He raced well in Florida. TANSY is a front runner, and should show at a sprint distance.

SECOND RACE—Two-year-old colts go a half-mile in the second race, and the field is large. P. H. Faulconer's BILL NORA has attracted the attention of the clockers and is again selected to capture a juvenile purse. He failed to get in the race Monday, being on the eligible list, but has a good post position in this. LORRAINE S. won her last two races in Florida, and with this experience may be hard to beat. She is selected for place. Glen Riddle Farm's American Flag colt, WAR PLANE, is believed to be above the ordinary, and should be third.

THIRD RACE—This race for platers at 6 furlongs has little class. BRIGHT FLASH, a New Orleans winner, is selected to repeat. She beat FOREIGN RELATIONS. WESTKO, which won at Miami, should be the contender, with PADDOCK probably best of the others.

FIFTH RACE—The fifth race, the Pomonkey, is the secondary feature with a purse of $1,400 at a mile and a sixteenth. BLACK PATRICIA, which was second Monday to Tony Joe, looks best of the field. SYRIAC is dangerous and should be second. PANDA ran third to Frank Fullen Monday on a track she did not like and should again be a contender, and finish no worse than third.

SIXTH RACE—RUBY KELLER is the class of the sixth race and will have SPECTACULAR to beat. She beat Brown Trap at Miami and that race should commend her for this one. SPECTACULAR can go a rout and beat Bounding Deep in his last start. AIMEE GOLDSMITH ranks almost up with these, and has a good chance to be in the money.

SEVENTH RACE—Bob Shannon has the edge on the large field in the seventh, and at the weights should win for his owner, Mrs. Oliver Curtis. He beat a good field at the Fair Grounds. NEGODALE, which won Monday, is dangerous here, but is in stronger company today. ZAHN, by Zev, is inconsistent, but throwing out his last race, he could be given a good chance in this. In his second race back he beat a good field.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—PORTAM, $11.60, $8.90, $8.20; GOLDEN SPUR, $31.30, $13.30; LEAD OFF, $9.40.

PORTAM, quickest to get going, was hustled clear of his opposition rounding the turn, but racing greenly when straightened out in the stretch, was ridden out to the end. GOLDEN SPUR, a forward factor all the way, moved up stoutly at the furlong pole, but then faltered under pressure. LEAD OFF went around the leaders with a rush after the opening furlong, but then weakened in the stretch run. ARMS broke alertly and showed good early speed. ESCOSTAR, hard ridden, could not improve his position. ALL STAKES raced on the inside the entire trip. WINGOVER suffered minor interference when the break came. BRIGHT BIRD was permitted to drop out of it after the start. FAIRLEVER bolted over the temporary fence after passing the furlong pole.

SECOND RACE—Six furlongs. Purse, $1,200; claiming. For 4-year-olds and upward. Start good. Won easily; place, same. Went to post at 3:06½. Off at 3:09. Winner, C. M. Kelly's b. g. (6), by Ambassador IV—Crepuscule. Trained by F. Garrett. Value to winner, $850; second, $200; third, $100; fourth, $50. Time, 0:23 2-5, 0:47 2-5, 1:13.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—GERARD, $14.00, $6.30, $4.00; PROMETHEUS, $4.10, $2.90; HACKY H., $3.00.

GERARD forced a rapid early pace and shook off MY SIS and HACKY H. on the turn out of the back stretch. He opened up a commanding lead thereafter and won with speed in reserve. PROMETHEUS broke well, but lacked early speed and was outrun the first three furlongs. He gradually improved his position on the outside the remainder of the trip, but could never overhaul the winner. HACKY H., a forward factor the first half mile, saved ground entering the stretch and outlasted MY SIS in through the final drive. The latter weakened through the stretch when forced to a drive. EVERYTIME was not persevered with. ELIZABETH BOLLA had no mishaps.

THIRD RACE—Five and one-half furlongs. Purse, $1,200. The Promenade. For 2-year-olds. Start good and slow. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 3:41½. Off at 3:44. Winner, C. V. Whitney's b. b. (3), by Mad Hatter—Paintbrush. Trained by F. Hopkins. Value to winner, $850; second, $200; third, $100; fourth, $50. Time, 0:23 2-5, 0:47 3-5, 1:06 4-5.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—SMEAR, $6.60, $3.20, $2.50; GENERAL A., $3.10, $2.40; GIGANTIC, $3.10.

SMEAR broke toward the outside when the start came. He steadily improved his position on the extreme outside of the leaders when straightened out and continued courageously though the stretch under strong handling and won GENERAL A. down in the last strides. GENERAL A. displayed keen speed and opened up a good lead rounding the turn, but then began to weaken the last furlong and could not withstand the winner's challenge. GIGANTIC broke off stride and was forced to race on the inside all the way. He responded with good courage under punishment through the stretch and outlasted LEVANTE. The latter left the post greenly, but moved into contention entering the stretch and then faltered as if short. JOHN P. finished resolutely. UNCLE SAM retired after going about half a mile.

FOURTH RACE—Seven furlongs (out the chute). Purse, $5,000 added. The Inaugural Handicap. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 4:14. Off at 4:18. Winner, George Collins' ch. f. (4), by Sir John Johnson—Even Money. Trained by F. W. Fletcher. Value to winner, $3,580; second, $1,000; third, $500; fourth, $250. Time, 0:23 2-5, 0:47 2-5, 1:12 3-5, 1:26.

*Field. †G. Collins entry.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—THISTLE ANN (Collins entry), $67.80, $18.40, $11.00; MORSEL, $5.10, $4.00; PROTRACTOR, $5.50.

THISTLE ANN raced forwardly under steadying restraint until well straightened out in the stretch. She responded determinedly when called upon for the final effort and drew clear in the last twenty yards. MORSEL broke well, but was pinched back in the run down the back stretch. He saved ground rounding the turn and moved up mendacingly entering the stretch, but faltered in the last furlong under vigorous pressure. PROTRACTOR, used up forcing the pace and racing BARRIDO into submission, held on gamely when the final test came, but stumbled a sixteenth out. PENNANT LASS crowded back entering the stretch, came again the final furlong and was going fastest of all, but the winner in the closing strides. SISTER ZOE raced evenly the early stages and finished stoutly. PEGG'S PRIDE closed a good gap from a slow beginning. PAUL BUNYON closed a big gap. BARRIDO stopped badly.

FIFTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Purse, $1,400. The Old Virginia. For 4-year-olds and upward. Start good. Won cleverly; place, driving. Went to post at 4:48. Off at 4:51. Winner, S. Whabrat's ch. f. (4), by Sky Rocket—Sherevska. Trained by J. F. Adams. Value to winner, $975; second, $250; third, $125; fourth, $50. Time, 0:24 3-5, 0:49 3-5, 1:15, 1:42 2-5, 1:49.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—ROCKET GLARE, $6.00, $3.40, $2.70; THISTLE FYRN, $5.40, $3.30; CHIP, $3.40.

ROCKET GLARE followed the leader closely under stout restraint until leaving the back stretch, then moved up steadily on the outside and, assuming command through the stretch, was urged. THISTLE FYRN maintained his advantage mildly outbroke in the field. She displayed good speed while rated in front and, saving ground, finished stoutly in the final drive, but could not keep strides with the winner. CHIP, taken back in the early stages, finished with good courage on the outside the last quarter mile and wore down COME ON and TITUS at the end. The last two had no excuses.

SIXTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Purse, $1,200; claiming. For 4-year-olds and upward. Start good. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 5:24½. Off at 5:25½. Winner, George Collins' b. g. Two-dollar mutuels paid—SHARK, $16.60, $7.40, $5.00; MARY DALE, $5.80, $3.40; NEALON KAY, $3.90.

SHARK, never far from the leaders the entire trip, went to the front when straightened out in the stretch and continued with determination under punishment the final eighth to withstand MARY DALE'S bid. The latter, far back the first five furlongs, weaved her way between the leaders around the lower turn and, coming to the outside the last quarter mile, closed menacingly and appeared the winner a sixteenth out, but then faltered right at the end. NEALON KAY, a forward factor and saving ground the entire trip, made a game effort in the stretch run, but could not get up. ELIZABETH, in close quarters rounding the first turn, gradually improved her position and finished stoutly.

SEVENTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Purse, $1,200; claiming. For 4-year-olds and upward. Start good and slow. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 5:59. Off at 6:03. Winner, L. M. Two-dollar mutuels paid—GRIFF W., $10.90, $4.50, $3.90; SILVER SCEPTER (field), $4.80, $3.80; LUCK PIECE, $6.30.

GRIFF W., under slight restraint and saving ground the first six furlongs, moved up fast entering the stretch and, taking a short lead, finished gamely under punishment and outlasted SILVER SCEPTER in the final drive. The latter, a forward factor throughout, was hustled into the lead entering the stretch and responded with good courage through the stretch, but could not withstand the winner's challenge. LUCK PIECE broke slowly and, carried wide rounding the first turn, gradually improved his position and finished with a belated rush on the outside and would have won in another stride. COMPANION, hustled in the early running, displayed good speed, but weakened after going six furlongs as if short. MAINSHEET raced evenly.

Leaders in Baseball At Barnard Funeral

Cleveland, March 31 (A.P.).—While leaders of the baseball world paid silent tribute, funeral services were held here this afternoon for Ernest Sargent Barnard, president of the American League, who died last Friday in Rochester, Minn. The body then was placed in the mausoleum at Knollwood Cemetery here.

More than 40 of the national pastime's most prominent figures and hundreds of fans who knew the sportsman attended the rites at the Masonic Temple, which were held in the ritual of the Knights Templar.

After the burial of Mr. Barnard, many of the mourners were to go to Spencer, Ind., for the last rites tomorrow from Byron Bancroft Johnson, who preceded Barnard as the American League president and outlived him only sixteen hours.

ROWE OFFERS PLATE FOR MEMORIAL

To Reward Owner of Winner of Saturday Stake at Bowie.

JAMES ROWE, Jr., who is training the Greentree Stables' string, including Twenty Grand, one of the favorites for the Preakness and Kentucky Derby, has informed Race Secretary Joseph McLennan that he is offering a piece of silver plate to the owner of the thoroughbred winning the James Rowe Memorial to be run here Saturday.

The Rowe Memorial is run in honor of the late trainer of the late Harry Payne Whitney's stable. Whitney expired since the Southern Maryland Agricultural Association inaugurated the Rowe Memorial event.

The Howe Stable wired today that it will send Finalist after the Rowe Memorial on Saturday. The race promises to attract a record crowd as every race fan is anxious to honor the most popular trainer ever to grace an American course.

Charlie Wise, veteran horseman and former rider, died several days ago in Toronto. The deceased was born in 1850 in Philadelphia and rode his first race at Baltimore, Md., in 1870.

He went to Toronto in the fall of 1870 and among his victories at the Woodbine course were such well known stakes as the King's Plate and Toronto Cup.

He was the trainer of the Kapanga colt (which never was named), a full brother of Kingston, when this horse won five races in one week at Woodbine. Wise also trained and developed the great jumper Athol, while he tutored Willie Martin, before the latter became one of the best jockeys in America.

Marty Schwartz's Transformation, 3-year-old daughter of Transmute, broke down. The firing iron has been applied and she will be rested until next fall.

To Irish 2-year-olds, one a son of Beresford, who is the daddy of Port Law, favorite for this year's English Derby, are now on their way to this country. They are the property of J. P. White, whose horses are being trained by Frank Kearns. John Bosley is handling Totalizier, a steeplechaser, for White.

Pretty Patsy and not Lahor has been turned over to O. Chaney by R. Russ Padgett to train.

Johnny Coburn's Speedy Shaw died en route from Agua Caliente, Mexico.

Jockey A. Robertson avoided a three days' suspension by kicking in $100 to Maryland's unemployment fund. Ninety dollars of that sum was given Robertson Monday as riding fees. He was disobedient while at the post in the opener and was given the suspension, which was later lifted.

Judge Sam Nuckols, of Kentucky, was an interested spectator today.

R. Simpson, the only Negro rider here, arrived last night. He is under contract to H. G. Bedwell, of Savage, Md.

MARYLAND U. VICTOR, 10-2, OVER V.M.I.

Special to The Washington Post.

LEXINGTON, Va., March 31.—The University of Maryland nine defeated the Virginia Military Institute today on alumni field by the score of 10 to 2. The game was played during a cold drizzle which fell the entire nine innings. It was Maryland's second victory on its Southern trip.

For the first seven innings, it was a tight contest. The Keydets had a run edge on the visitors when Chalmers came to bat in the eighth. Chalmers singled, stole second and was advanced by Gorman. Cronin walked and both Wilson and Sterling got two baggers, and were followed by singles of Hauver, Derr and Cramer. Five men crossed the plate this inning, which broke up the game for Maryland.

The Keydets made an attempt in the last half of the eighth which was quickly quelled. The first half of the ninth was a repetition of the eighth. Only one hit was scored, but four men tallied on a succession of errors and walks from Noble, who had gone in for Williams for this last inning.

Double Play Checks Maryland Threat.

Blocker, catcher for the Keydets, made a spectacular dive over the heads of spectators in the seventh in an attempt to collect a foul. The only double play of the game, pulled by Williams and Cutchin, stopped the first threat of the Terrapins in the seventh, when two men were on.

This was a tri-State league game.

JOHNSON IS UNWORRIED BY NATS' POOR HITTING

9 More Tilts May Reveal Strength

Manager Is Confident Team Will Improve Before Start.

Pitchers to Go Full Route; Play House of David Today.

By FRANK H. YOUNG
(Post Staff Correspondent).

BILOXI, Miss., March 31.—The fact that his players, both individually and collectively, are hitting poorly is not worrying Manager Walter Johnson. "They're ready," he said, "but some of them simply will not take these exhibition games seriously. I'd rather have them loaf along now and start when the bell rings—which I am confident they will do—than to hit their heads off in these practice games and then stop when the season starts, as they did season before last.

"After leaving here, we play nine more games before opening the season, and I'm counting on these games to bring us around to top form. As for the pitchers, I am going to have some of them, at least, go the route, and expect to start with "General" Crowder in Birmingham on Friday. From then on, the starter will be told to be prepared to also finish and I hope to have several going at full speed all the way before the coming two weeks is over."

With respect to Crowder's case, he believes that the muscular trouble from which he suffered yesterday, when he thought he had pleurisy, did him some good, his diagnosis being that the soreness which worried him was a "kink" straightening itself out. In any event, he was "loose" in this morning's workout and confident that he is just about ready to "strut his stuff."

Harry Rice to Get More Attention.

While Johnson is satisfied with his outfield, not worrying in the least over the failure of Sam Rice and Heinie Manush to hit, he states this morning that he plans to concentrate on Harry Rice. "I believe that Harry is a first-class player and I am planning to give him more batting practice than he has been getting recently. My idea is to have four outfielders ready and to yank one as soon as he gets in a slump. This will keep all of them on their toes and may give us better results."

Pitcher Wally Tauscher, who has been hobbling around with a badly bruised foot as a result of a line drive in Sunday's game, was hit again this morning. He was pitching to batters with a house slipper on his injured "puppy" when a hot one from the bat of Coach Gharrity, who was knocking to the infield between pitches, mowed him completely off his feet. He will idle for the next day or two.

The bewhiskered House of David team, of Benton Harbor, Mich., will be here tomorrow when the Nats make their final 1931 appearance on the Gulf Coast. "Sad Sam" Jones and Adolph Liska will do the Washington hurling. As far as actual competition is concerned, the fracas should be an April fool joke, but you never can tell.

"Pinky" Hargrave is fast getting down to playing weight and with him at his best, the Nationals should have a competent catching staff. Coach Gharrity has done wonders with Cliff Bolton, while Roy Spencer is just as good as ever. With this trio, Johnson believes he has the best rounded receiving corps in the league, with Hargrave and Bolton available as pinch-hitters when they are not working behind the bat. Hargrave, a turn around hitter, seems to be as good from one side of the plate as from the other.

SIR GEORGE GIERSON, English polyglot, who is often referred to as a living Tower of Babel, is probably the foremost linguist of today, for besides having the ability to speak 179 languages, he is also master of 554 dialects.

Growing hair on a watch crystal was a successful experiment of a woman scientist at the Leeds headquarters of the Wool Industries Research Association, in England. Tiny grafts of a guinea pig's skin were transplanted to the surface of a watch crystal and fed with blood plasma and a special extract to nourish the roots of the hair, and it continued to grow.

The narrow house in Brooklyn was occupied by Mrs. John Alden, who died on January 8, in her seventy-first year. It is lined with bookcases from cellar to attic.

Any reader wanting further proof of anything depicted here, should address John Hix, care of The Washington Post, and inclose a stamped and self-addressed envelope for reply.

ROCKNE WORKED WAY THROUGH COLLEGE

After his graduation from high school, Rockne got a job in the Chicago postoffice at five dollars a week. They say he could toss the mail sacks farther and faster than anyone in the place. He worked there five years to accumulate enough money to go to university and when he asked for a raise they gave him one of 50 cents a wek. That is one of the reasons Rockne went to Notre Dame. The other was that he could run and pole vault.

Rockne once said:

"If anybody wonders why it took me so long to get from high school to college the answer is easy—I had to earn a living."

The University of Illinois lost Rockne because he said he found he could get a job easier at Notre Dame. He worked his way through school. His education was in chemistry and he became a professor.

Rockne, in order to pursue his postgraduate studies, remained at Notre Dame as an assistant football coach and an assistant professor in chemistry.

Became Coach After Harper Retired.

Rockne's word among Notre Dame students was law.

Every student with trouble of any sort could carry it to Rockne. That is one of the reasons he was honored, respected and loved on the campus.

Rockne was a "tremendous money maker, earning probably in excess of $40,000 a year. In addition to being a football coach, he was a master after-dinner speaker, a radio artist, writer for magazines and syndicates, and conducted coaching schools in various parts of the country during summer months.

In true Viking fashion the mother and two sisters of Rockne gathered at their home in Chicago this afternoon and attempted to console one another after the news of Knute's tragic death.

Mother and Sisters Heart Broken.

At home at the time of the tragedy were the mother, Mrs. Martha Rockne, and one of the sisters, Louise. The youngest sister, Florence, was at luncheon after her morning's work as a secretary.

The widowed mother and her two daughters were heartbroken. The mother, 72 years old, fought back her tears in her clear blue eyes as she said:

"Proud of him? No, not exactly proud. I knew my son was a good man. And that's all any mother wants to know of her son. Knute was a serious boy. Sooner or later God punishes us. I don't know what I have done, but I must have done something."

Then she was reassured, "But these things happen to us all."

She replied, "Yes, as we grow old we learn the lesson—life is made up mostly of trouble."

STRAND MAT CARD BOOKS GODFREY

FORSAKING the diminished gate receipts of prize fighting for the golden lure of wrestling, George Godfrey will tote his 235 pounds to the Strand Theater next Monday to provide the feature attraction of a five-bout program.

The big Philadelphia Negro who has found his disbarment from boxing, as a result of fouling Primo Carnera last summer, to be a blessing in disguise as far as monetary returns are concerned, has displayed his versatility in a triumphant wrestling tour of Mexico and way-points, and will have as his opponent in his Washington debut one Ivan Michaeloff, late of the Russian Cossaks.

Michaeloff concedes Godfrey only ten pounds in weight, offset by his greater experience, which asset is questionable in view of the fisticuffing trend of modern-day wrestling with certain holds, but apparently no punches, barred. Godfrey still retains his wallop and belligerent wrestlers have a habit of slipping in an uppercut in the clinches.

It will be a cosmopolitan card with wrestlers of eight nationalities on the program. In the chief supporting feature, Carlos Henriques, 185-pound Spaniard, meets Frank Petroff, of Poland, in a match limited to 45 minutes.

The remainder of the card will bring together Dutch Green, 175-German exponent of the art, and Paul Kohanski, Pole; Mike Miller, U. S. Infantryman, and Charles Olsen, of Sweden, and Tex Hamer, former University of Pennsylvania football star, and Jack Connor, fresh from the "Ould Sod."

NOTRE DAME DAZED BY DEATH OF COACH

"Verification has come," he was told.

At the same time a reporter received the same stunning message from his office. Tears welled in the eyes of the men who had fought their battles for Rockne and so probably knew him better. Frank Carideo, all-American quarter back; Capt. Tom Conley, of the undefeated national champions of 1930; Al Culver and Rockne's two nearest assistants, Heartly "Hunk" Anderson and Jack Chevigny, were speechless.

After recovering from the first stunning shock, Rockne's office managed to reach Mrs. Rockne at Coral Gables, Fla., where she has been staying with the younger of their four children, Jack, 5, and Jean, 10. She said she would reach Chicago Thursday, about the time the body will arrive from Kansas City.

Anderson and Chevigny, Rockne's assistants, left for Kansas City at 4 p. m. to meet Dr. Michael Nigro, a former Notre Dame student and a close friend of the Rockne family, who left earlier for Bazaar, Kans., to accompany the body to Kansas City.

Mrs. Rockne told Father O'Donnell she wished the funeral services to be held at Sacred Heart Church on the Notre Dame Campus and rites will be conducted Saturday morning.

When reports of the tragedy were verified, Father O'Donnell, president of the university, immediately announced a solemn high requiem mass would be celebrated tomorrow morning in Sacred Heart Church.

Semester examinations will be the only activity on the Notre Dame Campus until noon tomorrow when the Easter recess starts.

Duke-Cornell Nines Dedicate Field Today

Durham, N. C., March 31.—Dedicating a new baseball park, Duke will open the season here tomorrow afternoon at 3:15 o'clock in a game with Cornell.

With a new team and a new field, the only familiar part of the surroundings in the 1931 opener will be Coach Jack Coombs, who in the past two years has tutored the Devils to two State and one Southern championship.

NATION'S COACHES PAY GREAT TRIBUTES

PRESIDENT THOMAS S. GATES, University of Pennsylvania—His passing removes from the field of intercollegiate athletics a man whose ability, high ideals, capacity for leadership and influence for good served to justly earn for him the respect and affection of all those with whom he came in contact.

MAJ. JOHN L. GRIFFITHS, Big Ten commissioner of athletics — "Knute Rockne's true worth to society will be recognized more and more as time goes on. Others may think of him as one of the greatest football coaches the game ever has produced. I will always think of him as one of the finest, best and truest friends that a man ever possessed."

AMOS ALONZO STAGG, Chicago coach—"Rockne was a master coach and a great leader. His keen mind, quick power of observation and human understanding made him the master psychologist. I was impressed with his human qualities."

RICHARD (DICK) HANLEY, Northwestern Coach—"Wherever boys play and learn manly traits and sports, Rockne was idolized and was revered and looked upon as the greatest figure athletics ever produced."

H. O. (FRITZ) CRISLER, Minnesota coach—"Rockne was a fine stimulation to the whole coaching fraternity, an inspiration to the young men of the Nation and a great influence to the game of football."

JUDGE WALTER STEFFEN, Carnegie Tech coach—"Rockne was a gracious winner and a good sport in defeat. Football is all the richer to have had a Rockne."

The Joe Judge Midgets will hold a meeting tonight to discuss plans for entering the Capital City League. The following players are requested to appear: Dowd, C. Hydes, Fox, Robinson, Tolson, Howard, Appleton, Harvey, Cooper, Kennedy, Melepolis, B. Hydes and Brewer. The meeting will be held at 4921 Kansas avenue.

The Joe Judges are also on the lookout for promising midget players. Any boy desiring a try with the Judges is invited to call Manager Melpoler at Adams 8697-J.

NAVY MEETS VERMONT IN OPENER

Coombs, Southpaw, to Hurl Today in First Test of Season.

Special to The Washington Post.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., March 31.—The Naval Academy Nine will open its 1931 campaign here tomorrow afternoon by meeting the University of Vermont. The curtain raiser finds the Navy Team in good trim, and, with Coach Ernest "Kid" Mohler predicting the best combination he has coached in his three years here, Vermont was beaten yesterday by the Quantico Marines, 8 to 1.

The Tars have been at work for some time, first in the cages of Dahlgren Hall and now out of doors. With numerous veterans back, Coach Mohler is well fortified in all positions, and this is fortunate, as the schedule is one of the most difficult yet attempted.

In addition to the regular collegiate group exhibition, games are slated with the Baltimore Orioles and Washington Nats on April 13 and 17, respectively. Hosei University of Japan will also play here, the tilt being set for May 18.

Other College Teams On Schedule.

Other college teams to be met every Wednesday and Saturday, starting tomorrow, follow: Vermont, Lehigh, Pennsylvania, Fordham, Harvard, Lafayette, Villa Nova, Washington and Lee, Temple, Duke, University of Richmond, Notre Dame, William and Mary, Western Maryland, Gettysburg, Maryland, Mount St. Mary's and Ohio State, the latter being the June week game on May 30. The only trip will be to South Bend on May 9.

This season's mound staff promises to be the best in several seasons. Coombs, a small but clever lefthander, is expected to start the initial game. Schultz and Davenport, the latter's last year's plebe ace, are expected to twirl three innings apiece. Other mound aspirants are Englehart, Thompson, Hitchcock and Campbell. Torgeson and Hurley, both subs a year ago, will take care of the backstopping.

In the outfield Fitzgerald, slugging left fielder, will be assisted from the following, Porter, Leaf, Bunce, Leverton, Robertson and Costello, rating in about the order named.

Capt. Ashworth Shifted to Second.

Tommy Ashworth, the team captain, will be shifted from his usual position at shortstop to second base because Hodgkins is covering the short field more satisfactorily than it has been handled for some time and is the preseason slugging star. Wes. Byng, right fielder of last year is being primed for first base and he has the nod over Hunter and Carroll.

Raysbrook, Ward, McEacheron and O'Toole last season keystone sack custodian are battling away for the hot corner assignment. With plenty of reserve timber the club promises a good mark in its hard schedule.

Admiral Robison to Toss Out Ball.

The opening will be marked by the customary ceremonial of the superintendent of the Naval Academy, Rear Admiral Samuel S. Robison tossing the first ball to start hostilities.

Incidentally, this will be one of the final acts of the admiral in his association with the institution, for an hour preceding the game he will relinquish his duty as chief, transferring command to Capt. Charles P. Snyder, commandant of midshipmen, who will act as superintendent until the arrival of Rear Admiral Thomas C. Hart, Robison's successor, May 1. Admiral Robison will be officially transferred to the retired list June 1. He reaches the statutory age limit of 64 on May 10, but has been granted leave beginning tomorrow.

Cumberland Club Adds 2 Infielders to Roster

Special to The Washington Post.

Cumberland, Md., March 31.—Two more player infielders have been added to the roster of the Cumberland Colts in the Middle Atlantic League on recommendations of Paul Krichell, scout of the New York Yankees, it was announced today. They are John Stiler, third baseman, Brooklyn, and Alexander Meager, second baseman, Brownsville, Mass. This increases the players under contract to 36. All are due here April 15. Manager Leo Mackey will arrive April 10.

Saks Avoid Upsets to Reach Finals.

With upsets flying all about the place, the Saks Clothiers steamed majestically into the finals of the 145-pound division with a decisive 44-20 victory over Wallace Memorial.

It was all Saks. The crack Clothier team was off to a 23-8 advantage at the half and was never headed. There was no stopping the play of Jones, Zahn and Lucas, the former high school aces being able to find the basket from all angles and positions.

As a result of the victory the Clothiers are now bracketed in the final round with the Colonials, a group of George Washington University players, who appear to be the only aggregation in the 145-pound division who can contest the power and drive of the Clothiers.

Woodward played best for the losers, scoring 9 points and showing a good floor game, but he could not withstand the combined play of the Clothier stars.

TIGERS GAIN 9-0 VICTORY ON COAST

Whitehill and Sullivan Hold Missions to Four Hits.

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., March 31 (A.P.).—The Detroit Tigers were in midseason form today as they shut out the San Francisco Missions, 9-0, collecting seventeen hits off three Mission pitchers, while Whitehill and Sullivan were holding the Pacific Coast leaguers to four safeties.

Collins Uses Johnson in Infield Berths.

Athens, Ga., March 31.—Capt. Eddie Collins, acting skipper of the Philadelphia Athletics, introduces a novelty frequently and Bob Johnson, a rookie, has become the star actor of the cast. Johnson, an outfield up from Portland, has been in all the infield positions, due to injuries to regulars, and has made good. "I like the infield best," the young Cherokee said, "because there's more action there. I like plenty of action. That's why I gave up an office to play ball."

The A's canceled their game with the University of Georgia today because of rain.

Yankee-Baron Game Rained Out.

Birmingham, Ala., March 31 (U.P.). The second game between the New York Yankees and the Birmingham Barons was rained out today. The Yankees left tonight for Chattanooga, where they are scheduled to play tomorrow and Thursday, before moving on to Atlanta.

Manager Joe McCarthy did not leave with the club. He has an engagement with Bill Killefer, manager of the St. Louis Browns, who is due here tomorrow. McCarthy is reported seeking a St. Louis pitcher.

Killefer Remains Behind; Browns Move On.

Atlanta, Ga., March 31 (U.P.).—Manager Bill Killefer remained behind today as the St. Louis Browns departed for Birmingham, and it is believed he is attempting to secure players from the Atlanta Southern League Club.

Phillies Sign Adams, Semipro Pitcher.

Chattanooga, Tenn., March 31 (U. P.).—Box Adams, 22-year-old Jacksonville semipro pitcher, has been added to the Phillies squad. His work made a favorable impression on Manager Burt Shotton and he will be farmed out to Richmond for seasoning. Today's scheduled game with Chattanooga was washed out by rain.

Cards in Shape Says Street.

Bradenton, Fla., March 31 (U.P.).—Manager Gabby Street announced today that the St. Louis Cardinals will break camp Saturday, "in perfect condition for the National League race."

"All the pitchers are on edge," said Street, "and the only injured player is Jim Collins, rookie first base candidate. Orsatti is ready to start in left field if President Breadon is unable to sign Chick Hafey or trade him for Chuck Klein."

Ed Roush, Veteran Fielder, Joins Reds.

Macon, Ga., March 31 (U.P.).—Ed Roush, veteran outfielder, joined the Cincinnati Reds today. The Reds were rained out in today's exhibition with Brooklyn and will leave Macon tomorrow, but Roush will remain and work out with the Robins players until they break camp, April 9.

McKechnie Releases Waters, Weston to Minors.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 31 (U. P.).—Manager Bill McKechnie of the Boston Braves today announced the sale of Bill Walters, and Al Weston, Rookie infielders, to Nashville and Richmond, respectively.

$1,000 PRIZE ANNEXED BY KIRKWOOD

Australian Defeats Runyan in Southeastern Open.

AUGUSTA, Ga., March 31 (A.P.).—Joe Kirkwood, Australian professional, won the Southeastern open golf tournament and first prize money of $1,000 by scoring a 70, 1 under, on the final 18 holes today for a total of 290.

Kirkwood played the last eighteen holes in a driving rain, which made the course soggy and sent scores of most contestants skyrocketing.

Paul Runyan, of White Plains, N. Y., finished with a 292 and second place, while Willie Macfarlane, Tuckahoe, N. Y., ended one stroke back of Runyan for third place.

Johnny Farrell, of Mamaroneck, N. Y., turned in a 295 for fourth place, and Bobby Cruickshank, of Purchase, N. Y., and Walter Hagen, of Detroit, tied with 296, to share fifth and sixth places and prize money.

Freeny Leads Attack as Devil Dogs Score Second Straight.

Special to The Washington Post.

QUANTICO, Va., March 31.—The All-Marine team made it two straight over college nines when they defeated the Drexel Institute team here today by the score of 12 to 5.

The Devil Dogs gathered an even dozen hits and runs while the collegians used nine hits for their five markers. Capt. Freeney, of the Leathernecks, hit a double and triple.

Vance Accepts Robins' Contract for $23,000

New York, March 31 (A.P.).—Arthur (Dazzy) Vance, the most effective pitcher in the big leagues last season on the basis of runs scored against him, today agreed to sign a contract with Brooklyn calling for a salary of $23,000 for the season.

This was $2,000 less than he had demanded and $500 more than the club first offered.

The $23,000 salary makes Vance one of the highest paid pitchers, his stipend being exceeded, if at all, only by the salary checks of George Earnshaw and Robert (Lefty) Grove, of the Philadelphia Athletics.

Vance was paid $25,000 for the season of 1929, but he made a poor showing that year, partly caused by his late training start, and his salary was cut to $20,000 for 1930. Because of his fine record last year, of only 2.61 earned runs a game, Vance demanded the same salary he received in 1929.

THE Phoenix A. C., after a more than successful season on the basket ball court under the name of the Griffith Consumers, will parley tonight at 8 o'clock on the impending baseball season.

The meeting will be held at the clubhouse, 7 Fourth street northeast. All of last year's team and any aspirant for a berth are invited.

The Seabrook A. C. will meet at Dixon's Hall Friday night at 8 o'clock to be measured for uniforms. C. P. Brown is arranging the season's schedule and can be reached at Bowie 14-F-23.

The Colored Departmental League will hold a meeting tonight at 1742 Seventh street northwest at 7:30 o'clock. Teams desiring franchises are invited to attend.

Last year the league was made up of Agriculture, Municipal, Post Office, G. P. O., Navy Yard, Veterans Bureau and Treasury.

MANY STOCKS MAKE SLIGHT NET GAINS

New York, March 31 (A.P.).—After treating itself to a technical rally, the stock market lost heart today and closed the year's first quarter with prices little changed from the final quotations of the previous sessions.

At one time in the last hour the list had more than lost the 1 to 3 point gains of the earlier trading, but the extreme recessions were reduced and there was a small majority of net advances. Sales totaled 2,400,000 shares, well runder yesterday's turnover.

The covering which had been expected in view of the recent declines was forthcoming at the outset. However, the shorts protected themselves leisurely and traders who bought in anticipation of such a rally refused to follow the advance very actively. Late selling may have been prompted in part by a relief that tomorrow's steel production figures will disclose a decline for the industry although it was reported that U. S. Steel had made some gain in the past week.

General Asphalt Breaks.

A few stocks stood out. General Asphalt broke nearly 12 points on the news of an unfavorable court decision in London. U. S. Industrial Alcohol tumbled 5 when another cut in the price of its commodity was announced. Allied Chemical made a new low. Southern Railway, both common and preferred, went to the lowest levels in several years, the former losing 4 points. Standard Oils of New Jersey and California eased to new minimums for 1931.

On the other hand, McIntyre Porcupine joined Alaska-Juneau in a move through Previous highs. Auburn Auto and McKeesport Tin Plate also did well.

Utilities succeeded in defending much of their early gains, helped, perhaps, by unofficial word that American Telephone's first quarter earnings were at a rate in excess of the $9.22 per share return for all of 1930 and that the $9 dividend would probably be covered this year even if there were no improvement in business. Consolidated Gas, American & Foreign Power, United Corporation and International Telephone were up a point net.

Changes in the industrials were more nominal. U. S. Steel and Westinghouse closed steady. General Electric suffered a late reaction and lost nearly a point, but Radio, American Can and General Motors were firm. Most of the rails sagged; some were heavy.

Freight Loadings Gain.

In addition to the break in alcohol prices, there was a downward revision by Custom Copper Smelters and a cut by a California oil producer to meet a competitive situation. Bar silver, however, was steady. Wheat rallied on Farm Board buying, an improved export demand and dry weather in the Southwest. Closing quotations were unchanged to ¾ cent higher. Corn was aided by a firmer cash market and steadier foreign prices. Cotton eased slightly.

Posting of a 2 per cent call money rate around mid-afternoon caused no surprise, since the banks face large checking payments tomorrow, one of the year's important interest and dividend rates.

For the second successive week freight loadings show an advance. The rise for the period ended March 21 was only 7,680 cars against an increase of 10,728 in the immediately preceding week; but with February gross income of the class one railroads the smallest for any month in a dozen years, any improvement in traffic is welcomed.

Foreign exchanges were dull and fluctuations unimportant.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Chicago, March 31 (A.P.).—Suddenly enlarged demand for May delivery of wheat turned all grains upward today. The increased buying of May wheat was attributed to speculators who previously had been sellers and who were apprehensive that supplies to fill May and June contracts might hereafter become more difficult to obtain.

In this connection, significance was attached to the fact beginning tomorrow the grain stabilization corporation would start successive ½-cent a bushel advances every 10 days on No. 2 hard winter wheat until the end of the present crop season, July 1.

Wheat closed nervous, unchanged to ¾ cent higher; corn, ¼@1⅜ up; oats, ⅜@⅞ advance and provisions varying from 5 cents decline to 5 gain.

The government report on interior mill and elevator stocks of wheat came after the close, and was not a factor in today's market, but was generally construed as bearish concerning prices tomorrow. It indicated that total domestic supplies in all positions were 451,000,000 bushels against 391,000,000 a year ago.

Contrasting with late advances in grains today was a general lower trend early with wheat bearishly affected by word that wheat importing countries were showing extreme caution about purchases, and that European millers were acquiring only fresh supplies on receipt of shipping instructions for flour. A further handicap to bulls was an authoritative unofficial crop summary estimating the condition of domestic winter wheat at 86.5 per cent against 77.4 a year ago. The report indicated that only 2.5 per cent of winter wheat would be abandoned, compared with a 10-year average of 11.8.

The maximum advance scored by wheat today was 2½ cents a bushel in the June delivery. Transactions in June wheat, however, were of such light volume that the autumn for that month was not generally reckoned as part of the market range. Much more notice was taken of spread purchases of July against sales of September and of a consequent widening of the price difference between those two deliveries.

Diminishing receipts gave independent strength to corn. Primary arrivals were 489,000 bushels against 810,000 a year ago. Oats followed corn.

Despite downturns in hog values, provisions were firm, owing to reports that the cheap retail price of lard had stimulated consumer demand.

AUSTRALIAN BONDS ADVANCE STRONGLY

Rail Group Declines to New 1931 Lows; Market Is Irregular.

New York, March 31 (A.P.).—Generally lower prices in railroad issues and irregular changes elsewhere marked the bond market today.

The decline in the rail group resulted in a number of new individual 1931 low prices. The average price of ten leading rail issues, compiled by the Standard Statistics Co. reached a new low for this year at 100.7 but the average for 30 leading bonds consisting of the ten each of industrials, rails and utilities was unchanged at 96.3.

Active and Lower.

St. Paul 5s of 2000 and the 5s of 1975, Rock Island refunding 4s of 1934, Erie Refunding and Improvement 5s 1967 and of 1975, Missouri Pacific general 4s and series I 5s, Pere Marquette series C 4½s and Southern Pacific 4½s of 1969 were both active and lower.

New York Central 4½s of 2013 were the most active issues of the whole list with sales approximating $1,400,000, which did much to swell the aggregate sales of $11,800,000 compared with $9,000,000 Monday. They closed at 100, the price at which they were offered some years ago.

Continuing strength in Australian obligations was another feature. Both issues of 5s and the 4½s of the Commonwealth Government, New South Wales 5s of 1957 and of 1958 and Queensland 7s advanced substantially.

Peruvian Issues Gain.

Peruvian 7s and first 6s and German 5½s advanced sharply also. Net changes in foreign issues as a whole were divided about evenly between gains and declines. United States Government issues were dull all day but closed firm.

Changes in much of the rest of the list were irregular and most groups lacked a definite trend.

Late in the session call money advanced to 2 per cent which was regarded as a temporary matter resulting from the preparations for the April 1 settlements and without effect on the bond market.

INTEREST LOWERED BY CLEARING HOUSE

Members and Associates Must Reduce Rates on Demand Money.

By THOMAS M. CAHILL.

The Washington Clearing House Association adopted a resolution yesterday binding all members and associate members to reduce today the rate of interest paid by them on demand deposits one-half of 1 per cent, thereafter the rate of interest paid by them on demand deposits shall not be greater than the reduced rate. This rule does not affect the rate of interest paid on time or savings deposits.

Interest rates on demand deposits are now generally 2 per cent. Last month the association adopted a rule fixing the maximum amount of interest that may be paid by members and associate members on deposits of banks and trust companies at 1½ per cent per year. Thirteen of the 39 banks of Washington are members of the association and 22 banks are associate members.

Gas Income Increases.

The February comparative statement of Washington Gas Light Co., filed yesterday with the Public Utilities Commission, reveals net income for that month as $114,195.49, as compared with $148,371.09 for the month last year. For the two months of 1931 net income was $288,242.97, as contrasted with $214,794.18 for the corresponding period in 1930.

The statement of Georgetown Gas Light Co. shows net corporate income for February of $12,698.70, as against $25,435.85 for February, 1930, and for the two months, $29,869.80, as against $48,134.65 for the comparative period last year.

Local bank clearings for March totaled $112,443,159.84, or $1,670,536.89 below those of March last year. For the first three months of 1931 they aggregate $318,949,159, as compared with $328,678,172 for the similar period in 1930.

Pennsylvania's Report Good.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Co. makes public today its eighty-fourth annual report, covering operations for the year 1930. The report shows that although the company's total operating revenue in 1930 declined more than $112,000,000, it earned a net income sufficient to pay an 8 per cent dividend and all other charges, leaving a surplus of almost $11,500,000 to the credit of profit and loss.

Net income amounting to $68,809,818 was equivalent to 10.55 per cent upon the outstanding capital stock at the close of the year as compared with 17.64 per cent upon the amount outstanding at the close of 1929. Net income per share (par $50) was $5.28, compared with $8.82 in 1929.

Northern States Power Issue.

A new issue of $35,000,000 of refunding mortgage gold bonds, 4½ per cent series, due 1961, of Northern States Power Co., a Minnesota corporation, is being offered today by a banking group headed by Harris, Forbes & Co., and including H. M. Byllesby & Co., Inc., W. C. Langley & Co., Guaranty Co. of New York, A. C. Allyn & Co., Inc., and J. Henry Schroder Banking Corporation.

The bonds are priced at 97½ and interest, yielding 4.65 per cent and the entire proceeds of the issue will be used to retire high coupon rate securities, thus effecting a substantial saving in annual interest charges of the company. The securities to be retired consist of $22,067,000 first lien and general mortgage 5½ per cent and 6 per cent gold bonds and $4,094,200 6½ per cent gold notes due 1933 of the company as well as $5,367,500 bonds existing on purchased properties at dates of acquisition.

Sargent in Murphy Co.

G. M.-P. Murphy & Co., announces that Charles S. Sargent, until recently a partner of Kidder, Peabody & Co. and a governor of the New York Stock Exchange, has become a general partner of the firm.

Mr. Sargent is a director of a large number of companies, including Boston & Albany R. R. Co., Chase Securities Corporation, Associated Dry Goods Corporation, Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit Corporation, United States Leather Co. and Rossia Insurance Co. of America, as well as a trustee of Associated Simmons Hardware Co. The firm also announces the association with them of Richard R. Williams, jr., a former partner of Kidder, Peabody & Co.

The profit and loss statement for the year ended December 31, 1930, issued yesterday by the Carpel Corporation showed net profits, after provisions for income taxes, in the amount of $87,402.06, or a net per share of $4.21. This showed 5.1 per cent on sales for the year, which amounted to $1,909,863.28.

Curb Review

New York, March 31 (A.P.).—The curb market came to the end of the first quarter of 1931 in a highly uncertain frame of mind today.

The list showed considerable rallying power early in the day, in sympathy with the big board, but yielded later, and net gains and losses were mixed at the finish. Transfers totaling 527,100 shares were 139,700 under yesterday's.

Utilities were largely higher at the finish, but substantially under the day's best. Electric Bond and Share sold up nearly 2 points, then lost its rise. American Superpower and American and Foreign Power warrants were up only small fractions, after selling up about a point.

In the industrials, Aluminum Co. surged up 15 points, getting above 200 once more, only to lose 11 points of its gain. Mead Johnson advanced about 3, then slipped back 2 from the top. Agfa Ansco rose a point to a new high. Deere, however, dropped 3 to a new low, and Parker Rust Proof, market sponsors of which have apparently run into a large block of stock, lost nearly as much.

Mining issues were mixed. Noranda eased fractionally, while Newmont moved up 2 points. Oils were about steady. Cities Service closed up ¼ and Indiana was unchanged.

NEW YORK COTTON.

New York, March 31 (A.P.).—After holding steady during the greater part of the day on trade buying and some covering by near-month shorts, cotton eased off in the late trading today, under liquidation and local selling promoted by the easier ruling of the stock market. July contracts after advancing from 10.94 to 11.05 closed at 10.93 with the general market closing barely steady at net declines of 1 to 3 points.

The opening was steady 1 point lower to 2 points higher on a small volume of business which appeared to be evenly divided between buying and selling orders. Traders evidently found no particular incentive in the early news and business was attributed largely to evening up of accounts in preparation of the approaching holidays. Trade interests were buyers of the near months, however, while there was considerable covering and prices stiffened up shortly after the start, with May advancing from 10.79 to 10.79 and October from 11.27 to 11.35.

These prices showed net advances of 8 to 10 points, which seemed sufficient to attract some realizing and the market weakened in the later trading, under selling which may have been influenced by the action of the stock market. May broke to 10.68 or into new low ground for the movement, while October sold off to 11.2 or within 2 points of the low price touched on the decline of early last week. Closing prices were at the lowest of the day showing declines of 10 to 12 points from the high level of the morning.

Reports of continued unfavorable weather for crop preparations in the South were mentioned in connection with the early steadiness, but the opinion was expressed in some quarters that rains were adding to the supply of moisture in the ground and might prove beneficial in the long run.

Very little selling was reported here for Southern account during the day and except for a spurt of activity toward the close business was generally quiet.

Liverpool cables said that Bombay selling in that market had been absorbed by local buying. Egyptian cotton futures in Alexandria were unchanged to 25 points higher. Exports today, 27,868, making 3,413,904 so far this season. Port receipts, 9,947. United States spot stocks, 3,778,162.

BROTHERS' DEFENSE RESTS AT CHICAGO

Accused Man Fails to Take Stand After 7 Deny He Killed Lingle.

Criminal Court Building, Chicago, Ill., March 31 (A.P.).—The defense in Leo Brothers' trial for the slaying of Alfred "Jake" Lingle, Tribune reporter, rested today without putting the defendant on the stand.

The defense took less than a day to present its case, which consisted, like the State's, of testimony of persons who were in or near the Randolph street pedestrian tunnel the day Lingle was shot down.

Eight witnesses for the prosecution had identified Brothers as the man who threw down a pistol near Lingle's body, or the man who ran from the murder scene. Today seven persons, two of them women, took the stand for the defense and asserted just as positively that Brothers was not the man.

If the State sprang a surprise in not mentioning a motive or any connection Brothers may have had with Chicago gangland, the defense equaled that surprise by not having Brothers or his family testify. Throughout the trial his attorneys had said the defendant would at least say he was not guilty, and his mother, father and sweetheart said they were going to be witnesses.

As court was adjourned early, because the State was unprepared to open its rebuttal testimony, the case resolved itself in a test of credibility of witnesses. The rebuttal, starting tomorrow morning, and the closing arguments are expected to be devoted mainly to this phase.

Two defense witnesses said they saw the shot fired that killed Lingle and started the greatest public clamor the city had ever known. They were Lawrence J. O'Malley and Mrs. Howard Wilson, an elderly housewife. Brothers was asked to stand directly before them as they sat in the witness stand, and both said positively he was not the killer.

The other witnesses, most of whom saw a man fleeing from the scene of the murder, said they were likewise certain the State had arrested the wrong man.

Homeless Men's Bureau Will Be Launched Today

Inauguration of a new method of taking care of homeless men will take place this morning with the opening of a homeless men's bureau, under the direction of the Travelers Aid Society. The bureau will be in charge of A. W. Boehringer, under the direction of Mrs. Margaret Ford, executive secretary of the Travelers Aid.

Coincident with the opening of the bureau for the men, another bureau for the care of transient women, children and families will be opened with the men's bureau at Union Station, to be supervised by Miss Elizabeth Glaser, formerly of Philadelphia and now connected with the Washington society. Mrs. Ford will also be the supervising head of this organization.

Salvation Army Plans Special Easter Service

Special Easter services will be conducted by Maj. James Asher, divisional commander of the Salvation Army for the District and nearby Maryland and Virginia, at Temple Corps, 606 E street northwest, next Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock. This will be a united Easter service for all corps in this division. The service is open to the public.

Special musical features, including a quartet, a cornet solo with piano accompaniment, songs by the "singing brigade," and a soloist, are on the program.

Wall Street Briefs

New York, March 31.—Dow, Jones & Co. says earnings of American Telephone & Telegraph Co. for the first quarter this year, while reflecting the smaller business being done throughout the country, will be satisfactory. Revenues will be applied to the largest total of stock outstanding in the history of the company. At the close of 1930 there were 17,956,512 shares outstanding and earnings for the year applied to this total amounted to $9.22 a share or 22 cents above the dividend on the stock. Dow, Jones says earnings for the first quarter will exceed this rate.

Stockholders of the Hartman Corporation at the annual meeting April 28 will vote on a proposal to retire 64,879 shares of class "B" stock which the company acquired in the open market last year. This retirement would leave 335,121 class "B" shares outstanding.

Warren Foundry & Pipe Corporation stockholders have approved a reduction in the authorized capital stock to 200,000 shares from 250,000 shares and in the balance sheet value to $10 a share from $35.40 a share.

Consolidation of two New York Stock Exchange houses, Nicolford & Co. and S. R. Livingstone & Co., under the new name of Nicol-Livingstone & Ford, was announced today. The three men who originally founded the two houses and whose names constitute the new firm, Frank D. Nicol, Seabourn R. Livingstone and Frederick C. Ford, will continue as active general partners and have with them virtually the same group of partners with whom they have been long associated.

Changes in the rate of interest to be paid on deposits have been announced by several savings banks in New York City, placing a larger number on a 4 per cent basis than heretofore. With the beginning of the new quarter, 20 of the 27 savings banks in Manhattan will pay interest at 4 per cent anqually, and the remaining seven at 4½ per cent.

Holt S. McKinney has been elected treasurer of the Vacuum Oil Co., succeeding Herbert Baker, who for several years has held that office as well as the chairmanship of the board. Mr. McKinney has been with the company for 12 years, associated with the work of the treasurer's office. Mr. Baker retains the chairmanship.

Outlet Company Earnings.

New York, March 31 (A.P.).—The Outlet Co. today reported for the fiscal year ended January 31, net income of $726,698, equal to $5.67 a share on the common stock outstanding, against $1,063,013, or $8.94 a share, in 1929.

Taxi Man Asks $10,000 In Suit Against Auths

Charging that he was "beaten, struck, cursed and abused," John R. West, taxicab driver, yesterday filed a suit seeking $10,000 from Lawrence J. and Albert F. Auth, members of the prominent and wealthy Auth family.

The suit is the outgrowth of an alleged attack made upon the cab driver by the two Auths on March 15. The suit asks $5,000 for assault and $5,000 for false imprisonment.

Man Is Injured by Auto.

John H. Ricks, 45, of 433 Eleventh street northeast, received lacerations of the head and face yesterday when he was struck by an auto while crossing Fifteenth street near I northwest. He was treated at Emergency Hospital, where he was taken by Chester R. Draper, Eleventh street near Kenyon northwest, who was driving the car which struck Ricks.

ARLINGTON MEN JOIN BICENTENNIAL BODY

County Board Members to Aid Celebration; Zoning Cases Are Heard.

ARLINGTON COUNTY BUREAU OF THE POST.
Tel. Clar. 509. Clarendon, Va.

During the public hearing on proposed zoning changes, held at the courthouse yesterday, the County Board of Supervisors suspended proceedings long enough to act favorably upon the invitation of the Arlington County Bicentennial Council, that the members of the board become members of the council. The board indicated its approval of the movement, and designated Directing Engineer C. L. Kinnier and Commonwealth's Attorney William C. Gloth as additional representatives of the county governing body on the bicentennial body.

The invitation was formally presented to the board by a special committee appointed for that purpose, consisting of George D. Ricker, delegate on the council from the Arlington Post, No. 139, American Legion, and Albert H. Cohen, delegate from the Arlington County Monarch Club.

The application of the Arlington County Dairy for a change in the zoning ordinance for lot No. 136, adjoining its property, from residential to business property was denied by the board.

While a large delegation of the residents of the village were in attendance, ready to offer their protest, the board acted without hearing any of those present.

There arising a question of sanitation in the vicinity of the dairy brought statements from the members of the board, especially Supervisor E. C. Turnburke, from Washington district, who declared the sanitary conditions surrounding the dairy could not be questioned; that the conditions there are excellent. He stated the building is inspected twice a month and the standard is 100 per cent.

Among other proposed changes which the board considered was that of James W. Head, who asked that the property known as the Shelly property on Glebe road be zoned comerity; a request from Ashton C. Jones for a change from residential to business for lots 1 to 6, inclusive, fronting Wilson boulevard at Milton avenue, and from Mary C. Hall for a change from residential to business for property on Columbia pike, in the vicinity of the radio towers. Mrs. Hall was represented by Attorney Lawrence Douglass. The board, after hearing those interested, voted to view all sections where changes are proposed before giving any decision.

Interpeting the proposed changes in sections of Jefferson District that dumps would be permitted, Clyde M. Mills, appearing before the board representing citizens of Jefferson District, voiced a strong protest to any change that would permit the locating of any dump in that section. "We are about to get rid of the dumps in that section and a strong fight will be waged if any attempt is made to locate any more in the county," he declared.

"Arlington County has been the dumping ground for the District of Columbia long enough. Plans are now under way to beautify the county, in preparation for the bicentennial celebration next year, and it is now time to clean up, not locate any more dumps in the county," he said.

Robert H. Forman, zoning administrator, stated that in suggesting some changes he was not seeking to locate any more dumps in the county, but to work out some adequate plan to reclaim certain land in the county.

The board will continue the public hearing again this morning at 10 o'clock at the courthouse.

Despite the fact that the Arlington County Bar Association Monday afternoon, by a vote of 9 to 7, failed to approve the movement sponsored by the Arlington County Civic Federation, seeking an executive order by the President of the United States permitting Federal employes, residents of Arlington County, to take part in local politics, Commonwealth's Attorney William C. Gloth last night announced that he heartily indorses the movement and has addressed a letter to the President which will go with the petition and other data which the committee from the federation is now compiling.

Mr. Gloth said: "I did not attend the meeting of the Bar Association. If I had I would have supported the movement, as I feel the voters of Arlington County who are employed by the Federal Government should be permitted to take an active part in the choosing of those who are to have charge of the affairs of the county."

There will be a meeting of the civil service committee of the Arlington County Civic Federation tomorrow evening at the home of Hugh J. McGrath, chairman of the committee. At this meeting plans for the presentation to President Hoover of a petition seeking for the participation of Federal employes residents of the county in local politics.

With the petition the committee will, it is understood, present briefs, the names of all Federal employes who reside in the county, together with a large number of letters from county officials, civic leaders and others in support of the movement.

Mrs. G. Ruby Simpson, chairman of thte committee in charge of the arrangements for the annual banquet to be given by the Arlington County Civic Federation the evening of April 9, at the Army-Navy County Club, announces that the committee will meet tonight in the offices of the Arlington County Chamber of Commerce. At this meeting it is hoped that all plans may be completed.

The Parent-Teacher Association of the Woodrow Wilson School at Fort Myer Heights will hold its monthly meeting this afternoon at 3:45 in the school auditorium.

County Commissioner of Revenue Harry K. Green, who is at the Georgetown Hospital, Washington, where he underwent an operation, is reported as rapidly improving.

Beginning Sunday an evangelistic meeting will be conducted at the Clarendon Baptist Church for a period of two weeks by the pastor, the Rev. Perry L. Mitchell. There will be special music by the church choir.

Meeting yesterday at the home of the chairman, Mrs. Emma S. Blackmer, of the dance committee of the auxiliary to the Arlington Volunteer Fire Department, completed plans for a dance to be given the evening of April 17. The dance will be held in the new Firemen's Hall.

Chief A. C. Scheffel of the Arlington Volunteer Fire Department announces the department will hold its annual carnival the week of July 13. The proceeds, he stated, will be used to complete the second story of the new firehouse.

Bethel Chapter of Job's Daughters will hold its monthly meeting Friday night at 8 o'clock in the Masonic Temple at Clarendon.

The Arlington County Monarch Club will hold its weekly luncheon meeting tomorrow at Windsor Arms on Glebe road at 12 o'clock.

Mrs. Bertha Kelly, chairman of the Arlington County Chapter of the American Red Cross, announced yesterday that as Friday of this week is Good Friday the offices of the chapter located in the Rucker Building in Clarendon will be closed. They will be open as usual Tuesday and Friday of next week.

Federal Dry Agent Is Jailed in Killing

Sentenced to Two-and-Half Years in U. S. Prison for Raid Death.

Special to The Washington Post.

Lynchburg, Va., March 31.—Talley Stinnett, deputized Federal prohibition agent, who last November shot and killed Ernest Grant in connection with a raid on Snowden Mountain, was today sentenced to two and a half years at Atlanta by Judge H. C. McDowell, of the Federal Court here. Stinnett was convicted in Roanoke three months ago.

Stinnett was bailed in the sum of $3,000 for appearance at Roanoke in July to begin his sentence, if, in the meantime, effort to secure an appeal fails.

Stinnett was indicted in the circuit court at Amherst, whereupon Department of Justice attorneys secured removal of the case to the Federal Court.

MONTGOMERY FIRES BEING INVESTIGATED

Montgomery County Bureau of The Post.
9103 Conn. Ave., North Chevy Chase, Md.
Telephone Wisconsin 4205.

Montgomery County police are cooperating with State fire insurance inspectators in the investigation into a series of fires believed of incendiary origin at the home of P. G. Ligon, near Brighton. Police questioned a suspect yesterday but declined to make known the identity of the person.

Two fires started the series on Friday a week ago. A fire in the morning and another in the afternoon, in both instances, were beds on the first and second floors which had been ignited. Rockville and Sandy Spring volunteer fire departments responded and quickly extinguished the blazes.

A third fire was discovered Friday afternoon in the cellar of the Ligon home and later in the evening another fire in the cellar was discovered. Sandy Spring firemen extinguished both of these fires, which apparently had been started by igniting old papers and firewood, which had been stacked in the cellar. Very little damage was done by any of the fires, due to the prompt response of the fire departments.

Fire Chief William Burrows, of Rockville, yesterday announced that he lost his keys while fighting fire at the Ligon residence and asks that any person who finds them return them to him at his barber shop in Rockville. The fire chief said that he is willing to pay a reward for the keys as one of them was the key to his safe deposit box and several others were very important.

Berry E. Clark, clerk of the County Commissioners, was unable to appear at the meeting of the County Commissioners yesterday, as he is ill at his home. He is said to be suffering from an attack of influenza. His condition is believed to be not serious, but he is under the care of Dr. C. E. Hawks, of Rockville.

Bradley C. Karn, son of Frank Karn, of Rockville, who was Republican candidate for county commissioner in the late election, yesterday secured a license to marry Miss Mary Jean Fawsett, of Travilah, Md., who yesterday resigned her position in the courthouse at Rockville.

Mr. Karn gave his age as 26 years and that of his intended bride as 21 years. Their engagement was announced recently.

A meeting of the committee named to organize a joint group to prepare a booklet advertising Montgomery County, will be held tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in the Bethesda County Building, according to an announcement by Walter Funderburk, of Rockville. Edward H. Jones, of Chevy Chase, is vice chairman of the group. A secretary-treasurer and subcommittees will be named at the meeting.

Members of the joint committee are Mr. Funderburk, Mr. Jones, George P. Sacks, Bethesda; Maj. Phil D. Poston, Silver Spring; E. V. Crittenden, Takoma Park; Josiah W. Jones, Olney; W. I. Cleveland, Kensington; John B. Diamond, jr., Gaithersburg; Bernard T. Brosius, Rockville, and J. Donald Clagett, Woodside.

The group is being sponsored by the si chambers of commerce of Montgomery County, Silver Spring, Rockville, Bethesda, Gaithersburg, Takoma Park and Kensington and is being participated in by other business and civic organizations.

Pageant to Be Staged At Manassas Church

Manassas, Va., March 31.—The First Baptist Church will be the scene of a colorful pageant tomorrow night when eight churches will be represented by brides, bridegrooms and maids in an array of color schemes.

An elaborate program will be presented by representatives from each church.

POLICE CHANGE SEEN IN PRINCE GEORGES

Bill Is Introduced to Avoid Naming Two Forces to Cover County.

To avoid the necessity for appointing two police forces to serve Prince Georges County for the next two years, a bill has been introduced in the State Legislature which will deprive the county of a regular force from April until June.

The bill repeals the present law, which provides that the force of not more than six men shall be appointed by the commissioners on the first Monday in April for a period of two years. The new police law, which has not yet passed the State Senate, provides that a force of eleven men shall be appointed on June 1. Inasmuch as the commissioners may not appoint for a period of less than two years, obedience to both laws would mean the establishment of two forces.

Repeal of the present law means that there shall be no police force from the expiration of the term of the present force until the new lot is appointed, throwing the burden of police protection on the constables in each district. The constables, however, took the whole burden until the establishment of a regular force in 1927, so that the county is not apt to suffer.

Not only would two forces be expensive, but, being under different chiefs, there would probably be friction between the two bodies. Under the present law, the sheriff is also chief, but the new bill provides a separate chief and lieutenant. The repeal measure was introduced under a suspension of the rules, due to the fact that the session ends next Monday night.

The bill setting up the new police system has already passed the House and has gone to the Senate, where no opposition to it is apt to appear.

Several other bills have also passed the House and are now before the Senate for consideration. Among them is the new county fire aid bill, providing that the county shall contribute $15,000 rather than $5,000 to the volunteer fire departments in the county. Another is the bill providing an extra circuit court judge for Prince Georges County, which was sponsored by the County Bar Association.

The bill extending the sanitary commission district to include District Heights, Bradbury Heights and Boulevard Heights has also gone to the Senate after its passage of the House. Surveys by the commission's engineers for the new mains to serve this area have already begun. Another bill before the Senate will extend the park and planning commission's zone into the remainder of Berwyn district.

The bill changing the Hyattsville road law is up for its third reading in the House, as is the bill providing for a building in Hyattsville to house the police court and other county offices.

The fire which yesterday burned the house occupied by J. Albert Moore, near Clinton, doing damage estimated at $15,000, is supposed to have started from a chimney, according to firemen who fought the blaze. The big fourteen-room frame house was completely destroyed, although the furnishings were saved.

Fire companies from Marlboro and Capitol Heights responded to the alarm, as did about twenty boys from the House of Reformation at Cheltenham. These workers managed to save the contents of the house as well as to prevent the flames spreading to other buildings nearby.

Registration of voters for Hyattsville's town election on May 4 will be held on April 13, 20 and 27 from 7 o'clock in the morning until 9 o'clock at night. Original plans were to have only two registration days, but the number of persons to be registered caused the addition.

This will be the first general registration in the town for more than ten years, new voters having been added in the past as they qualified, but no names being taken from the books. All voters must register to be allowed to cast their ballots.

Registration for the First Ward will be held in the barber shop at Baltimore street and Maryland avenue, with James Garrity and W. P. Blake, sr., as judges.

Fourth ward—West end market; K. C. Geren and Harry S. Cranford.

Registration officers will be paid $7 a day and $5 will be paid for the rent of the registration places.

Principals of all the schools in Southern Maryland will meet today in the school at Mount Rainier for a discussion of education as a long term investment by the State. Principals, who will lead the discussions of various points are A. L. Jones, W. H. White, T. C. Martin, W. V. Smith, L. B. Howland, and T. S. Klein.

C. Irving Root, chief engineer of the Maryland-National Capital Park and Planning Commission, will be the guest speaker at the luncheon today of the Exchange Club of Prince Georges County. The luncheon, which is the regular semimonthly meeting, will be held in the parish hall of Pinkney Memorial Church in Hyattsville.

L. W. Dunn, chairman of the program committee of the club, announced that Mr. Root would be present.

Officials of the University of Maryland extension service will speak at a meeting at 2 o'clock today in the high school at Brandywine for the poultry growers of the vicinity. This is the second of a series of meetings, the first of which was attended by 75 persons last week. The topic this week will be the necessity of cleanliness as to litter, feed in hoppers, management, and laying houses.

A cantata, "From Cross to Crown," will be sung by the choir of the First Presbyterian Church, under the direction of Mrs. May Hayre, director, on Easter Sunday night.

At the 11 o'clock service the choir will sing the anthem, "Welcome, Easter Day." At the same service, a quartet consisting of Mrs. Freda Philips, soprano; Mrs. Hayre, contralto; C. H. Frame, tenor, and H. D. Orr, bass, will sing "The Magdalene." Organ music will be by Mrs. E. A. Burslem.

Air Line Extends To Charlottesville

Special to The Washington Post.

Charlottesville, Va., March 31.—The Dixie Flying Service, Inc., operating airports at Charlottesville, Richmond, Danville, White Sulphur Springs and Hot Springs, has merged with the Ludington Line, according to announcement by E. M. Sturhahn, president of the Dixie.

Additional passenger service for Charlottesville will take effect tomorrow, with two round trips daily between Charlottesille and Washington. Extension of the airlines will also go into effect April 1 with daily service to Hot Springs and White Sulphur Springs.

The additional service of the 8:45 morning plane will give the people of Charlottesville a full shopping or business day in Washington. This early plane will also give arrival in New York in time for lunch.

HOUSE IN MARYLAND STIRRED BY CAB ROW

Revision of Measure to Cut Auto License Brings Fight in Senate.

Special to The Washington Post.

Annapolis, Md., March 31.—While the Senate battled over a proposed act for downward revision of license charges for noncommercial automobile trucks and pleasure vehicles, and increased rates for trucks used for commercial purposes, the session of the House of Delegates was enlivened today by a fight over a measure to place the operation of taxicabs under supervision of the public service commission, and the redraft of a compromise bill directed against purse and buck netting fishing in Chesapeake Bay.

The Senate finally passed to a third reading revision of the fee bill which includes a reduction of from 32 to 25 cents per horsepower for pleasure cars. The fight against the measure was led by Senator Wallace Williams of Cecil County, Dudley Roe, of Queen Anne and Abram G. Ensor, of Harford.

Hardship Is Charged.

It was contended that the bill would work a hardship and is discriminatory to the farming element, many of whom use the small trucks for which it is proposed to increase the fee, and to the benefit of the pleasure seekers.

The Senate hurried through the bill sponsored by Senator Veazey, Worcester County, providing for creation of a State debt of $500,000 for a permanent inlet, linking Ocean City with Sinepuxent Bay. It is estimated this move will result in increasing sea food production about $1,000,000 annually. It will require about two years to complete the project.

Fish Net Bill in House.

Delegate Marbury, of Prince Georges County, and other county members are leading the fight against the taxicab bill.

Decision for a compromise fish net bill is also confined to House activities. The measure, as originally drafted and passed by that body, would have banned purse and buck nets after June 1, but its progress encountered stiff opposition in the Senate, particularly among Eastern Shore senators. The proposed compromise is to stay operation of the law until November 1, which will give the men engaged in this industry ample time to dispose of their paraphernalia.

Amendment Is Adopted.

Home rule for Baltimore City on the question of permitting Sunday moving picture shows and otherwise lifting the ban on Sabbath laws virtually was assured tonight as the result of the Senate's action in adopting an amendment to the bill sponsored by Speaker Francis A. Michel of the House, which had previously passed that body.

The amendment was drawn by Senator Ridgely P. Melvin, Anne Arundel County, and virtually is a substitute for the Michel bill. The substance of it is to rest in the mayor and city council, of Baltimore, power to adopt ordinances prescribing regulations for Sunday amusements of all kinds and sales of merchandize on the Sabbath, providing, however, that such ordinances shall be submitted to a referendum of the people. It was declared that the amendment makes the measure free of any constitutional objections, a question that had caused the Senate to pause before final action on the several antiSunday law measures. The Michel measure would have given outright jurisdiction to the mayor and council of Baltimore to lay down regulations, and it also was Statewide in scope by giving like authority to governmental bodies of towns of more than 6,000 population. The amended measure was laid over until tomorrow.

Convention Is Disapproved.

Other actions concluded the following: House passed bill authorizing a bond issue of $275,000 for Prince Georges County Schools, also the Senate bill authorizing appointment of county aid for Montgomery County commissioners to improve Connecticut avenue north of Kensington to the Brookville pike.

Liquor Charges Laid After 3-Mile Pursuit

Captured after a chase of more than three miles on the Baltimore boulevard yesterday, Harry Friedman, of G street northeast, near Sixth street, was charged with possession and transportation of liquor. Additional charges of exceeding 60 miles per hour, and having neither permit nor registration card was placed against him.

Seven cases of alleged liquor are said by police to have been found in the car driven by Friedman when he was overtaken by Policeman R. E. Brown. Brown said that he took up the pursuit in Laurel and did not catch the man until they reached Beltsville. Judge Herbert J. Moffat set bond at $2,200, and Friedman went to jail in default of the collateral.

HEARING POSTPONED ON LEE BOULEVARD

State Highway Body Is to Oppose Injunction in Fairfax Saturday.

FAIRFAX BUREAU OF THE POST.
P. O. Box 245, Fairfax, Va.
Phone Clarendon 2324-W-2.

The hearing on the cross bill filed by the State Highway Commission to an injunction granted by Judge Walter T. McCarthy, in the Arlington County Circuit Court to Mrs. Virginia M. Van Every, halting the construction of the Lee boulevard through the Van Every estate, will not be heard today as scheduled in the Fairfax County Circuit Court. The hearing was postponed by Judge McCarthy yesterday afternoon until Saturday morning at which time Attorneys F. McCandlish and Charles Pickett, of Fairfax, for the State, and Attorneys Enery N. Hosner, of Arlington, and Thomas H. Patterson for the Van Every estate will be heard.

The State claims that it holds an option on a right-of-way through the property which entitles it to possession. It received the option from the Lee Boulevard Association which had obtained it from Mr. Van Every and his wife before Mr. Van Every's death. The Van Everys claim that the terms of the option were not fully complied with and the option is void. The case will be tried on its merits Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

The Women's Missionary Society of the Southern Methodist Church at Langley will hold a meeting this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ida Ballenger.

Harvey Daniels, living near Holmes Run, pleaded guilty to a charge of the sale and possession of intoxicating liquor in the Fairfax County Circuit Court and was fined $200 and costs and sentenced to one month in jail by Judge Walter T. McCarthy. The jail sentence was suspended during good behavior.

Women Seeks Office.

Danville, Va., March 31 (Special).—For the first time in history, a woman has announced her candidacy for public office in Pittsylvania County. Miss Gladys Nuckols, daughter of a prominent farmer, is out for commissioner of revenue, subject to the Democratic primary of August 4. The incumbent, Lonnie D. Bennett, will again seek the post.

Cold Blamed for Woman's Death.

Clarksburg, W. Va., March 31 (Special).—Barbour County authorities today held that Amanda Male, 43, Nekress, of Cecil, whose lifeless body, thinly clad, was found in a field near Cecil last night, perished from cold and exposure. An inquest was deemed unnecessary. The woman had started across the field in a storm Saturday night.

ALEXANDRIA COUNCIL WILL SELECT MAYOR

THE WASHINGTON POST BUREAU.
907 Prince St., Alexandria, Va.
Phone Alexandria 523.

The resignation of Mayor Carroll Pierce, both as mayor, or chairman of the city council and as a member of the council, became effective at midnight last night, and Acting Mayor Edmund F. Ticer will fill the position until a successor to Mayor Pierce is chosen at the meeting of the council tomorrow. Since Mr. Ticer is the senior member of the council, having served since the inauguration of the council-manager form of government, in addition to five years with the old council as chairman of the finance committee, it is regarded as most probable that he will be elected to succeed Mr. Pierce.

Mr. Pierce became a member of the council on March 11, 1930, being chosen by the council members to fill the unexpired term of Mayor William Albert Smoot. Robert S. Jones was at that time chosen mayor, and Mr. Ticer vice mayor. On the reorganization of the council following last year's election, Mr. Pierce was chosen mayor, taking office September 4, 1930. His resignation was tendered, it is understood, on the advice of his physicians, who believed that his health would not stand the strain of the position, in addition to his duties as president of the Citizens National Bank.

It was expected that the vacancy in the council would be filled at the meeting tomorrow, but members of the council state they have not made any definite selection, and that it is doubtful whether the new member will be elected at this time. Many names have been mentioned by rumor, and several of those spoken of as possibilities have announced that they would not accept in the event the office is tendered.

In the meantime it is understood that petitions are still being circulated for an electionto be held on the question of changing back to the old form of Government, these petitions, when a sufficient number of names have been secured, to be presented to the judge of the circuit court, asking him to call a special election. The circulating of these petitions is being rather quietly done, and no definite information as to the progress is available.

The old form of Government provided for a matyor, elected by popular vote; two members of the board of aldermen from each ward, and four members of the common council from each ward. There are now six wards in the city, instead of four, as at the time the old form of government was abandoned, which would mean twelve members of the board of aldermen and 24 members of common council. These two bodies operated much as the two Houses of Congress, with the mayor holding the veto power.

Martin Bennett, of R. F. D., No. 3, Alexandria, is in the Alexandria Hospital suffering from a fractured skull and other injuries received yesterday morning on the 2600 block of Duke street, when an automobile driven by William H. Bennett is said to have collided with a trck belonging to the Washington Doughnut Co. Bennett was reported at the hospital last night as being conscious, and his condition, while serious, is not considered critical.

William H. Bennett suffered cuts and bruises, and James Wheeler and Thomas Cramer, both colored, occupants of the truck, suffered bruises and cuts on the back of the head. All were treated by Dr. Samuel B. Moore, and all discharged from the hospital, except Martin Bennett.

Alexandria's National Guard Company, officially Company I, First Infantry, Virginia National Guard, passed successfully the annual Federal inspection in the armory Monday night, conducted by Lieut. Col. J. C. Bubb, senior instructor of the 116th Infantry of the Virginia Guard. The company was under the command of Capt. W. Cameron Roberts, and the inspection included demonstrations of close order drill, riot duty formations, display of equipment, principles of first aid, guard duty, physical training, scouting and patrolling, chemical warfare, use of the bayonet, markmanship, the automatic rifle, pistol and a complete check of all property and equipment of the company.

Col. J. Fulmer Bright, Mayor of Richmnod and commanding officer of the First Infantry, attended the inspection and expressed himself as being well pleased with the showing made by the company. At the close of the inspection Col. Bright gave a short talk on the history of the First Infantry which, he said, at one time had George Washington and Patrick Henry on its roster.

The public schools of Alaxendria will close Thursday afternoon for the Easter holidays and will reopen Tuesday, April 7. Many of the teachers have planned to return to their homes, outsid ethe city, for the holidays.

St. Agnes Episcopal School for Girls, located on the outskirts of the city, will also close Thursday afternoon and will not reopen until April 13.

St. Mary's Academy, conducted by the Sisters of the oly Cross, will close this afternoon and remain closed until April 8.

The Episcopal High School and the Episcopal Theological Seminary of Virginia, located three miles west of Alexandria, have already had their mid-vacation period and will not close for the Easter holidays.

Randolph Chapter and the Knights of the Rose Croix, of the Scottish Rite bodies of Alexandria, will hold Maunday Thursday services in the Young People's Building on South Washington street tonight. At 7 o'clock the mystic banquet and the ancient Maundy Thursday ceremony of extinguishing the lights will be observed. Beginning at 8 o'clock there will be a program which will be open to the public. Several speeches and a musical program will be presented.

Arrangements for the celebration were made by Chairman B. W. Pullin and Secretary Percy E. Clift, of the Scottish Rite bodies. All Masons in this vicinity have been specially invited to attend.

Fred C. Goodnow, president of the Children's Home and Day Nursery, addressed the Rotary Club yesterday, explaining the purchase of the new building which has just been acquired at 411 Prince street for the home. He urged the Rotarians to get behind the project and told of the good work being done by the home. He stated he has already received a donation of $250 for the work.

E. A. Sweeley was in charge of the program, and delivered a short humorous talk on the activities of various members of the club.

John Ferris, Negro, after nearly eight years of freedom, has been arrested in Philadelphia and is being held for the Alexandria police on a charge of fatally shooting William "Deacon" Johnson. Requisition papers will be prepared at once by Commonwealth's Attorney Albert V. Bryan and sent to Gov. John Garland Pollard for signature, after which Ferris will, it is expected, be brought back to Alexandria to face a murder charge.

The shooting occurred during the progress of a craps game eight years ago. Immediately following the affray Ferris disappeared and had not been heard from until his arrest yesterday in Philadelphia.

The suit of Edward J. McCallum in the Corporation Court to have an alleged erroneous assessment against his greenhouses and 21½ acres of land, located on Braddock road and Mount Verpon avenue, reduced was dismissed yesterday by Judge William P. Woolls without a jury. This was the first suit to be brought to change an assessment.

Prohibition fines during the month of March exceeded those for any month so far this year, according to Elliott F. Hoffman, clerk of the courts, whose figures show a grand total of $3,669.50, as against $2,445.50 for February.

George P. Johnson, 81 years old, a piano tuner, fell dead while engaged in tuning a piano at the home of Roy Hacker, 117 South Fairfax street, yesterday morning. Heart trouble was ascribed as the cause of death, and Dr. T. Marshall Jones, city coroner, issued a certificate of death from natural causes. Mr. Johnson was apparently in his usual good health when he entered the Hacker home, a short time before he was fatally stricken.

Soon after the death of Mr. Johnson his wife, Mrs. Bertha Johnson, and a son, C. L. Johnson, arrived on the scene. The deceased was a native of Fulton County, N. Y., and besides his widow he is survived by these sons: C. L., Howard, Earl and R. L. Johnson, of Washington; Lloyd Johnson, of New York City, and Rollin Johnson, of Amsterdam, N. Y.

The body will be taken to Mr. Johnson's former home in Fulton County, N. Y., for interment.

Hundreds Attend Court at Luray as State Opens Testimony.

Special to The Washington Post.

Luray, Va., March 31.—David Sours, who is charged with the murder of Edward Buracker in this county on March 5, was placed on trial before Judge Bertram today.

Sours, handcuffed to Sheriff E. L. Lucas, was brought into court while hundreds lined the sidewalks of streets from the Luray Jail to the courthouse, all trying to get a glimpse of Buracker's alleged slayer. Sours' wife, mother, father and several brothers, along with all other witnesses for the State and defense, were barred from the courthouse upon orders from Judge Bertram.

Between 1,200 and 1,500 people are attending Sours' trial. Up until noon only half a dozen witnesses had been examined for the Commonwealth. The jury is composed of nine farmers, two merchants and a school-teacher.

STRIKE OF STUDENTS AT DANVILLE WANES

Many of Cadets Are Being Sent Back to School by Parents.

Special to The Washington Post.

Danville, Va., March 31 (A.P.).—The strike of students at Danville Military Institute, which developed yesterday following Superintendent W. M. Kemper's refusal to grant the cadet corps an Easter holiday, was resolving itself today with parental discipline operating as a strike-breaking agency. Nearly 40 cadets, half of them day students, were in class this morning and institutional routine was carried on. More than 50 still are to be heard from.

Superintendent Kemper received telegrams and telephone calls during the day from parents of boys who reached home, saying they were sending their sons back to school.

The faculty met this morning to discuss forms of punishment, but no decision was reached. Discussion ranged from expulsion to the elimination of "downtown" privileges for the rest of the session and the suggestion that the usual panoply incidental to commencement in June be eliminated this year.

Col. Kemper said a decision had not been reached. Those students returning, however, were told that they were provisionally allowed to resume and would be disciplined. Not more than fifteen cadets returned at barracks last night. Some slept at the homes of Danville friends; others went to nearby homes.

Husband Refused Exhumation Right

Special to The Washington Post.

Cumberland, Md., March 31.—John B. Wentling was refused an injunction to restrain his mother-in-law, Mrs. Emma Tichnell, from preventing him to exhume the body of his wife, Telma, daughter of Mrs. Tichnell, in Rose Hill Cemetery tomorrow to remove it to Hill Crest Cemetery.

Mrs. Wentling died October 8, 1930, and was buried by the side of her father in the Tichnell lot in Rose Hill. Mr. Wentling later purchased a lot in Hill Crest, where his infant daughter was buried. He desired to exhume the body of his wife and move it to Hill Crest, but Mrs. Tichnell objected.

Judge Doub declared there was no universal rule governing right of removal and each case must be considered on its own merits. He opines there was no testimony that it was understood the burial of the wife should be temporary and not permanent, nor was the husband constrained in any way to give consent. The court viewed that every burial is presumed to be permanent unless there be something to indicate it is temporary, and that a lot in Hill Crest could have been easily obtained after the wife's death.
